DEFENCE ON

The Bank Deposit Slip Incident WAS TAKEN UP.

IT DID NOT REPRESENT THE TRANSACTION.

That Took Place on September 11th, When a Deposit of $900 Was Made By Gamey and Crossin - The Circumstances Told to the Solicitor For The Bank.

Toronto, April 28.—At the Gamey-Stratton investigation on Monday afternoon Mrs. Sullivan said that she had been out to see her mother on Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday of the week of Good Friday. When told by Mr. Ritchie that her mother said she had not seen her for a week or two, Mrs. Sullivan said that her mother had left on the Monday for Sudbury or North Bay, and she thought her parents for Buffalo. She was surprised to see him come out of the station in Buffalo when she and her mother were in the hotel window. He said he had returned to Toronto on Good Friday, and, being informed that she was in Buffalo, followed her there. She said her husband had no bank account, but she had a small one in the Bank of Commerce on College and Yonge streets. She was paid $500 or any such sum from her husband last Christmas. She never gave her husband power of attorney with reference to her bank account. She never sent a telegram to her husband or father when they were in Rochester.

Mr. Ritchie produced a telegram signed Hattie, to her father George B. Wilson, in Rochester, dated April 16th. "Will he be to see you to-night," Mrs. Sullivan said she never sent such a telegram, and at Mr. Ritchie's request wrote a copy of it, and signed her name, which is Hattie. The copy and the telegram were filed as exhibits but the handwriting is altogether different.

Mrs. Sullivan had been ill for some days and unfit to appear in court, and Mr. Johnson announced that for this reason he would not cross-examine her on this day. She was, however, under the strain, and required assistance to leave the room.

Norman Linton, collection clerk in the Ontario bank head office, was subpoenaed on the ledger for the date last September, but he could not tell from the ledger who made the Crossin Piano company deposit of $900 on September 11th. He said it was the custom for the receiving agent to put his initials on the deposit slip, and he put on the folio number. Mr. Johnson produced a deposit slip showing nine $100 bills, dated September 11th, which, Mr. Linton said, never sent through his hands, bore a blue mark which might be taken for Mr. Howarth or Mr. Kelso, the two tellers that day. It was possible he did not see the slip, but he could go through his hands without the folio number. If that did happen the slip would certainly be returned to him by the supplementary man at once. The deposit slip was filed as an exhibit. The slip after being examined, and filed, but this one was never filed. The deposit slip produced did not represent the transaction, and he never saw it before. He saw Mr. Gamey in the office on Saturday, April 18th, in the morning, but not in the afternoon.

Those Deposit Slips.
Mr. Johnson produced another deposit slip of the same date, September 11th, which he never saw before. The initials on it were not either of the tellers that day. The slip gave denominations different from the first, without the sum total, and it had no folio number. There were not two transactions of that amount, $900, on that day. That slip never passed through the bank and was never on the bank file.

In cross-examination he said the deposit slips produced were not a complete copy, and did not look like an attempt to duplicate the original slip.

F. R. Howarth, teller of the Ontario bank, saw Mr. Gamey on September 11th, with Mr. Crossin, and Mr. Crossin made a deposit of $900. The deposit slip was in Mr. Crossin's handwriting. The original deposit slip was in the bank vault on September 18th. Mr. Gamey came into the bank about 10 a.m. September 18th, and asked to see the account slip. He told him to see the accountant, Mr. Brown, but at Gamey's request spoke to Brown himself. Mr. Brown saw the manager, and told him he could show the slip. Mr. Gamey said he wanted to make a copy. After a couple of minutes at the desk Gamey returned with the slip, but the slip placed back was not the same. The original was nine $100, whereas the returned one was for $5, twenty $10, thirty $20 and one $50. The returned one was totalled up and had no folio number. He called to Mr. Gamey who was two or three yards away. He thought Mr. Gamey could hear, but he did not answer and went out. He then spoke to the messenger, Mr. Barton, who reported to the manager.

Mr. Gamey came back half an hour later with Mr. Crossin and said he could not account for it. They searched, but could find no trace of it. Mr. Gamey said he might have lost it on the way to the factory, and they returned to the factory by the same route, but could find no trace of it on the way. He asked who put the initials on the slip that was not tallied and had different denomination and no folio number.

Gamey Initialed It.
Mr. Gamey said that he put on the initials, and wanted to keep a copy. He replied it was not a copy because denominations were changed. Gamey said he could not account for it, and he must have had another slip in his pocket. Later Gamey said it would make no difference for the teller to write the name of a manager's request, he went to Mr. Barwick, the bank's solicitor, and told the circumstances.

Mr. Gamey returned about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. After Gamey went out Mr. Brown produced another slip of nine $100 bills. This slip was not the original slip of Sept. 11th. It was crumpled up when he saw it. The mark in blue, if intended for initial, was not his, neither was the name. He marked his initial on a sample slip which was filed as an exhibit. The court then adjourned.

BUDGET SPEECH TO-DAY.
Premier Ross Will Occupy Afternoon Session.

Toronto, April 28.—The legislature held a fifteen-minute session yesterday. To-day's session will be largely occupied by Premier Ross' budget speech.

After the first reading Mr. Whittier, in the absence of Mr. Foy asked whether the government, since last session, had entered into any agreement with the Toronto & Niagara Power Co. to take water from the Niagara or Welland rivers for generating power, and if so, is the intention of the government to submit any such agreement to the legislature. The Premier replied as follows: "An agreement has been made between the Niagara Falls Power companies and the Niagara Falls Park commissioners, which agreement will be submitted to the legislature. It is not the intention to submit such agreement to the legislature for ratification."

In reply to Mr. Whittier's further question the premier said that they were not required by statute to submit the agreement to the legislature for ratification.

Mr. Whittier also asked whether any timber lands had been granted by the crown lands department since January 1st, 1902, to one Shannon, and was any such license afterwards transferred; if so, to whom? What locality was covered by the license, and to what extent of it? What was paid for it by Shannon? What was paid for it by the present holder? Was the transaction bona fide on the part of Shannon, or did he represent another person?

Mr. Ross replied that owing to the absence of Mr. White, the assistant commissioner of crown lands, who had been charged to attend the commission, he could not yet answer the question. He hoped to be able to answer it today, but Mr. White was liable to be absent longer on account of the illness Mr. Bridgland.

In a question by Mr. Whitney concerning the retirement of Sheriff Dana of Leeds and Grenville, Mr. Gibson replied as follows: "Sheriff Dana resigned his office by letter, dated March 19th, 1903. He was granted leave of absence for one year, and his resignation is set forth in the letter of resignation, which, with the other papers connected with the matter, may be brought down. On the motion for return of the notice has been given. No application for re-appointment seems to have been made, but Mr. Dana's re-appointment to fill the vacancy was recommended to the government in the usual way. The second commission differed from the former commission in omitting any provision on behalf of ex-Sheriff Smart, the person being that ex-Sheriff Smart appeared determined to insist upon payment of the salary of $1,200 a year, though the net receipts of the office were either less than or, but slightly over that amount. The government assumed no responsibility in regard to the question of his salary, and the effect upon such liability of his resignation or re-appointment."

Mr. Preston, South Brant, has introduced a bill into the Ontario legislature to regulate the speed and operation of automobiles. The bill provides that a registration fee shall be paid to the provincial secretary by every owner of a motor vehicle. Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with a bell, gong or horn, and a lamp, which shall be lighted after dark. No machine shall run within the limits of any city, town or incorporated village at a greater speed than ten miles an hour, or upon any highway, whatever, at a greater speed than fifteen miles an hour, unless authorized to do so by a municipality. The racing of motor vehicles on the highway, for wages, is prohibited. Any one violating the act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined for the first offence a sum not exceeding $50 and for the second or any subsequent offence the penalty or fine shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months or both.

HAD A BATTLE

The First Conflict in British House. CENSURE VOTE WAS PRESENTED AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT.

The Board of Trade Should Have Intervened in the Contest Between Lord Penryn and His Quartermen—The Motion Was Rejected.

London, April 28.—The first pitched battle between the government and the opposition for the present session was fought in the House of Commons last night. The occasion was Mr. Asquith's vote of censure on the government for not having done something to put an end to the dispute between Lord Penryn and his quartermen, which has now lasted nearly three years. Lord Penryn has all along doggedly refused to listen to any joint representation from his workmen at Bechteda, and the conflict which started about the method of payment has gradually resolved itself into a fight over the right of labor to combine. Mr. Asquith maintained that it was the business of the board of trade to intervene. Gerald Balfour replied that the government was convinced that intervention would have resulted in failure. The debate lasted until midnight when Mr. Asquith's motion was rejected by a large majority, the division being practically on party lines.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Sir W. Mulock Answers E. F. Clarke.
Ottawa, April 27.—In the house today speeches on the budget were delivered by R. F. Sutherland (Essex), Dr. Roche (Marquette), Mr. Roche (Halifax), and Mr. Bell (Pictou). Bills were introduced in afternoon respecting the Mexican Light and Power company, limited, by Lieut.-Col. Thompson, and to confer upon the commissioner of patents certain powers for the relief of George M. Depey, by Mr. Logan.

Replying to E. F. Clarke, Sir William Mulock stated that a protest had been received from the Toronto local labor council, respecting the alleged interview, in which W. T. R. Preston, the Canadian immigration agent in England, was reported to have stated that mechanics in Toronto, owing to the great demand for skilled labor in Canada, Mr. Preston had been requested to report upon the matter, but this reply had not yet been received. Sir William Mulock said, the Canadian immigration agents had been instructed to confine their efforts towards promoting the immigration into Canada of the agricultural classes.

H. Emerson, stating that the work of the immigration officers was directed to securing immigrants for the Dominion, leaving it to the settlers to select the part of the country where they desired to locate. Immigration literature describing the Dominion incidentally referred to the various provinces. During the calendar year 1902 3,491 immigrants arriving at Canadian ports declared their intention of settling in the maritime provinces, and 1,879 have done so far the first quarter of 1903.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply to a question by Mr. Hackett, whether it was the intention of the government to recommend to his excellency the propriety of proclaiming St. Patrick's day a public holiday, stated that his excellency had been advised that there are already a sufficient number of public holidays in this country.

Philadelphia, April 28.—The Pennsylvania supreme court has discharged from custody Arthur Wadsworth, a member of the 15th Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, of Pittsburgh, arrested for the shooting and killing of William Durham, a union miner, at Shanksville, during the recent anthracite strike. THE DAYS OF DRESS MAKING.

"Stacy's for Dress Goods."

The saying has become a proverb. Our reputation was never better deserved than this year. We seem to have the cream of the cloths manufactured for this season. Our customers tell us that no where can they find the same entire satisfaction, considering quality, comprehensiveness and good values. The same applies to silks and linens. Our stock is unique, unequalled. We will afford every courtesy to those who desire to look through the departments.

A Word or Two About Millinery.

We have studied the millinery world and we have studied the taste of Kingston women. We know just about what pleases them, and we know exactly what is correct. You select your hat from the types that would appeal to you were you your self in Paris, or New York, where styles originate.

A point, too, about our millinery, is the superior quality of the materials used. Our hats are aristocratic in every particular.
Cold type can give you no idea of the beauty of our stock. Come and see it only to see.
