at Mrs. M. Seaman's.

Sangster, May 11.-Farmers have their spring's work completed. I Young and P. Corcoran are engaged drawing feldspar. J. Murphy is gaged to draw milk for the season. I Corcoran has purchased a fine team of Clyde horses from H. Reynolds, Verona. Our teacher, Miss Maggie Lemmon, has changed her boarding place from J. Goodheart's to M. Mc Donald's. We regret the departure of one of our young ladies, Miss Liddie liamilton, who intends shortly to leave for Watertown, N.Y. P. Egan is engaged finishing his house. M. M. Donald has purchased the farm own ed by James Nichilison for $1,130, and intends moving on it in the near future. We also regret the departure of an old and respected resident, James Nicholson, who moves shortly to reside with his daughter in Syracuse. James Shillington passed through here with a large supply of goods for his store at Burridge. The ploughing bee at Mrs. J. Barrett's was largely attended, there being twelve teams which turned over a considerable amount of land. James Young visiting at his daughter's, Mrs. Craig, Verona; Mrs. Welsh and Mrs. Watt at T. J. L. Haycock Recovered. Cataragui, May 12.-The quarterly meeting of the Methodist church, in connection with Cataragui circuit, was held here on Sunday, May 3rd, and was well attended. The returns to the meeting of the official board show the circuit to be in good financial standing. The farmers are about through seeding. The land is working well, extended to John Baker and bride, formerly Miss Annie Frizzell. They will take up residence in Cataraqui. Charlie and John Baker have rented Samuel Rees' land to use as a garden. J. L. Haycock is so much im proved that he is able again to at tend to his business. Johnnie Hunter is home from the hospital and is improving. Alexander Rickey, Barriefield, made a short call here last week. The friends of temperance, after getting up a petition for no license, were disappointed that a license was granted. The bodies which were in the cemetery vault are nearly all interred. The cemetery presents a very tasty appearance. Our resident florist, Erastus Purdy, is kept on the hustle filling out orders. Quite a number of the village school children are ill Miss Gertie Reynolds, Oliver's Ferry is visiting Mrs. H. J. Simpson. James Cooke, Harrowsmith, is re-visiting his old home. The farmers experience some difficulty in securing enough help, men being scarce. James Gordon meditates giving up farming, and devoting his time to the insurance
