THINGS THEATRICAL.

Notes About Plays, Players and Playhouses.

Sarah Truax has been selected to play Roma in "The Eternal City," succeeding Viola Allen. The selection is considered a popular one.

S. Miller Kent is next season to star in a new play by Edward E. Rose, entitled "Fighting Bob." The play is said to reflect the martial spirit of to-day in America.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell is said to have been selected for the role of Yo San in Beerbohm Tree's forthcoming London production of the Belasco-Long Japanese play, "The Darling of the Gods."

The most interesting of recent theatrical performances in London is Ellen Terry's revival of "Much Ado About Nothing." It is plain that her Beatrice has lost little, if any, of its original charm.

"The Virginian," Owen Wister's story of western life, in which the hero is a philosophical cowboy, is to be dramatized. Kirke La Shelle has obtained the dramatic rights of the book and will probably produce the play next year.

Miss Blanche Walsh read a paper on "The Ideal National Theatre," at a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the National Art Theatre Society, Tuesday evening, at the New York College of Music, following which there was a general discussion of plans to promote the enterprise.

George Ade, widely known as a humorist, and lately as a librettist, has been turning his pen to dramatic work and has written a four-act play, entitled "The Country Chairman," that will be produced next season by Henry W. Savage, with Madlyn Arbuckle in the leading role. The play will probably be first seen in Chicago in September. The scene of action is a small town in the Middle West, in the eighties, and the principal character is a middle-aged lawyer and politician. The cast will include twenty-six speaking characters and more than fifty extra people.

Miss Edna May is acting now in London in "Three Little Maids," and is still highly popular there. She is to come to the United States in September to sing in musical farce for a few months, and will then return to London. Miss May's career in musical plays will be over then. Mr. Frohman has promised to make her a serious star. And she will make her first appearance in a play by no less an author than J. M. Barrie, whose comedies have hitherto been given only to Maude Adams and William Gillette, the two most popular stars under Mr. Frohman's management.

Wall Street Steady.

New York, June 27.—Henry Clews reports that Wall street continues in a conservative and hesitating mood. For conservatism there is still good reason; for extreme pessimism in some quarters there is now no justification. There is no excuse for undue loss of confidence, when corrective influences are actively at work and the financial situation has been greatly clarified by the enormous liquidation of the last six months. There are still undigested securities in existence, but these are generally in strong hands, where they are likely to remain awaiting conditions more favorable. The danger of panic has been safely passed, and the financial situation is much stronger than at any time within two years, the universal spirit of conservatism being in itself an element of real strength.

Pleaded Guilty.

The two boys arrested Friday night for stealing goods from a G. T. R. freight car were again in the police court this morning. They pleaded guilty, and the magistrate remanded them till to-morrow morning for sentence.

Died In Chicago.

Chicago, June 29.—William A. Havemyer, local representative of the American Sugar Refining company, and cousin of H. O. Havemyer, president of that company, is dead, at his home in Riverside.

A Severe Earthquake.

Elizabtepol, Trans Caucasia, June 29.—A severe earthquake is reported to have occurred at Enzelli, province of Chilan Persia. No details have reached here.

They Are Engaged.

Paris, June 29.—The engagement is announced of Lucie T. Faure, the daughter of the late President Felix Faure, to George Gayau, the author.

Paris police have seized $200,000 worth of art treasures, pictures, etc., in the home of Parmeggiani, a well-known anarchist. Parmeggiani escaped.
