The sun rises Thursday at 4:37 a.m., and sets at 7:43 p.m. The "Daily Paper" is the advertiser's most productive field. Proliferation is the salt of life, you have to have it rubbed into you when you are cut up. The new pamphlet, "What Fills the Eye of the Travelling Public," must refer to cinders. It does not make it right to do what you ought not to do when you don't do what you ought to do. A lot of people who should be spending good time getting good money spend good money getting a good time. July 8th in history: Elihu Yale, founder of Yale University, died, 1731; police strike in London, 1900; first Dominion parliament dissolved, 1872; Sir Charles Turner resigned premiership of Canada, 1896.

Gault Dead.

He Was a Leading Citizen of Montreal.

BUSINESS HEAD.

HE HELD PROMINENT PLACE IN COMMERCE.

Was a Man of Fine Attainments and Interested in Many Works for the Betterment of Canada and Montreal in Particular.

Montreal, July 8.—A. F. Gault died at an early hour this morning at Georgeville.

Mr. Gault died at three o'clock this morning at his summer residence at Georgeville, Que., on the shores of Lake Memphremagog. Suffering from Bright's disease it was realized, for some days, that he could not survive, and his family was gathered at his side when he passed away. The deceased was seventy years of age.

A. F. Gault, variously known in Montreal as the Canada cotton king, a captain of industry, and the father of the mother of the Church of England, was an Irishman, born at Strabane, in 1833. He came to this country when a boy and since then to quote the words of a recent writer, "the record of his achievements, perhaps an indication of the battles he has fought with the world, but which never paralyzed the man's impulsive generosity, friendliness of manner, and inclination to 'love the brotherhood' characteristic of the sons of the Green Isle."

He began business in Montreal in 1853. In 1857 he started the dry-goods firm of Gault, Bro. & Co., and finally saw it made into a joint stock company, with branches in Winnipeg and Vancouver. His house was a leader in commercial circles.

He was the president of cotton mills sprinkled across the country, from Brantford to Halifax; he erected and endowed the Montreal Diocesan Theological College, gave the Gault chimneys to St. George's, in that city, has been a director of the Bank of Montreal, and chairman of the Liverpool, London & Globe. As a philanthropist he was generous and untiring to a degree.

The nearest approach the great manufacturing king ever made to political life was being member at one time of the "Empire" company.

In 1894, Mr. Gault married Louise Sarah, daughter of Henry Harman, Surrey, Eng.

HOLDS UP A TRAIN.

Fifty Masked Mississippians Lynched Colored Man.

Vicksburg, Miss., July 8.—Cato Garrett, negro who stabbed Henry Stout to death last Saturday morning, was hanged by a mob near the scene of his crime yesterday. Garrett was taken to Natchez Saturday, Sheriff Brennan leaving a posse of 200 men to guard him on the way to the jail here. Monday a special grand jury found a true bill against Garrett and Sheriff Brennan notified the sheriff to bring the negro to this city.

Deputy Sheriff Deal, with the negro, took passage on a train at Stout's Crossing, a flag station six miles south, the train was held up by fifty masked men, who were heavily armed. They hanged the negro.

The Morning Bulletin.
Rome, July 8.—A bulletin issued at 4:45 a.m. says: "The night passed tranquilly enough, although the pontiff had no rest or a live sleep. The pulse was frequent but not regular. Breathing was not as free as last night. The condition of the pope does not permit of further examination, but seems that the pneumonia tends to solve itself and the pleurisy is not regathering. However, the general condition of the patient is not depressing because of state of depression and good looking, however dissatisfied, Lapponi, Manzoni."

Continues Serious.
Ottawa, July 8.—This morning Sharratt, apostolic delegate, received the following cable from Cardinal Rampolla:
"The holy father is serious. Today, continued to be serious. (Signed) Rampolla."

Another Fainting Fit.
London, July 8.—A special despatch from Rome, filed at 2:20 p.m., says that the pope had another fainting fit today, that the action of his heart is very feeble, and that his condition has again become very critical.

Would Veto It.
Vienna, July 8.—The Tagblatt, today, prints a rumor to the effect that in view of Cardinal Rampolla's hostility and in respect to the triple alliance, Austria would exercise her right of veto should he be elected pope.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL.
A Woman Took Up With Her Husband's Brother.
St. Thomas, Ont., July 8.—Joseph Simms, aged thirty-six, of South Dorchester, went to the Klondyke two years ago, leaving his wife and two children in the care of relatives, until his return. Mrs. Simms who is young and good looking, became dissatisfied with the arrangement and went to keep house for her husband's brother, Matthew, aged twenty-two. Joseph returned from the far north recently, to find his place occupied by his brother, and the family he had left behind embraced by one. Naturally he was anything but delighted with the situation of affairs, but offered to forgive his wife if she would return to him. Mrs. Simms refused the offer, however, and was backed up in this by Matthew. Joseph, thereupon laid a complaint against Matthew, who was summoned before the court, and Belmont, yesterday. When the above facts were brought out the magistrate committed Simms for trial.

A NEW BLOCK

To Provide For Ottawa's Departmental Service.
Ottawa, July 8.—There is talk of an appropriation this session towards the creation of a new departmental block in Ottawa to provide rooms for the various departments. PAID BY THE MAYOR.

The Charges For Entertainment of Councilors.

Watertown, N.Y., July 8.—Attorney James A. Ford recently announced that he would begin an action against the mayor and other city officers for the misappropriation of city funds in paying a bill of $26 for the entertainment of the county councilmen of Frontenac county, Ont., on the occasion of their recent visit to this city.

Mayor James F. Pappa sent his cheque for $26 to the city clerk, saying that, while he believed the entertainment of the Kingston visitors is properly a city charge, he would pay the bill himself rather than have any litigation or controversy over the matter.

OFFERED TO PAY.

Reeve Cox, of the county council, was in the city to-day and was shown the article copied from a Watertown, N.Y., newspaper, in which it was said a sting of that burg intended suing the city council for the recovery of $23, paid out for entertainment of the members of the Frontenac county council. Reeve Cox was indignant, and at once wrote a letter to Mayor Pappa, offering to personally pay the account. Had he not been so concerned in pressing business he would have gone over to Watertown to-day, and quietly settled the account, thus relieving the mayor and council of that place of all responsibility.

The corporation is capitalized at $10,000,000 and Mr. Nelson's selection is a tribute to his worth. The retiring manager was one of the civil engineers who surveyed the C.P.R. from ocean to ocean and has been since then a consulting engineer in the councils of that railway. W. E. Sealie, C.E., comes from the Algonia Central R.R. to assume the management of the St. John corporation.

Young Elkin, in company with five or six other boys of his own age, was riding on top of one of the box cars when one of the boys grasped hold of a guy wire of the Owego Traction company and when he let go and the wire sprung back into place it caught Elkin under the chin and threw him from the car down to the tracks and between two cars.
