could take over most of the work of his office. Mr. Corey is his close friend — the pair have worked together for many years—and he was the man se lected as best qualified by ability and training to fill the position. Associates of Mr. Corey regard him as the equal if not the superior of Mr. Schwab as a practical operating executive, and they predict success in every particular for his administration of the affairs of the steel corporation.

And then the glorious domed vault of the firmament above; sometimes an intense ceruleau azure, or a brilliant sapphire, or sometimes hathed in a many-hued flood of lustrous splendor; or all aglow in a fiery blaze of glory. Or, when the shades of night have fallen, spangled with a glittering host of scintillating worlds or illumined with the soft rays of that sphere which our visitant had left; lifeless but which to us is so beautiful in death.

Long Point, July 21.—Burry picking is the order of the day. C: J. O'Connor is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. Mrs. D. Perry is also on the sick list, Dr. Elliott attending. Miss Addie Burns, was successful in passing the entrance. Congratulations. Mainse brothers had the misfortune of tosing a valuable horse pasturing death.

signed to him, Mr. Corey, while still livie more than a youth, held positions of great responsibility and trust, with an army of thousands of workmen under his control. That he succeeded in every position is a tribute to his wonderful power or organization and grasp of detail with which he is endowed.

At the age of twenty-two he was made superintendent of the plate smill of the flower and the plate smill of the flowestead Steel works. This leads in the marrow along each of his boats.
