GRAND RESORT

NATURE'S RICH GIFT TO THIS LOCALITY

Draws Thousands From Afar—The Noble St. Lawrence River and Its Beautiful Islands.

In these days of heat and humidity and dust, the mind turns with longing to the blue waters and cool breezes of the beautiful St. Lawrence.

Where is there a more magnificent river, or one that can compare with it?

We who have always lived in its vicinity do not realize its wonderful charm, nor how there is nothing just like it anywhere else in this beautiful world which is so full of places, here and there, that attract and charm and call out the best in man, in response to nature's highest and best. The water and the sky, at all hours of the day and night, the islands with their trees, and green grass, shrubs and bushes and picturesque shores are always there in their enchanting beauty, challenging the passerby to find anything more lovely and uplifting and refreshing to the heart and soul.

ALD. FRANCIS KING.

Things that are always near by and familiar are never appreciated at their full value and worth until one goes out into the world in search of something equally beautiful, or more so, and it is then that one turns to the well known and learns to know its real beauty. We believe it is so with our picturesque and matchless St. Lawrence. Those who live near it are apt to think there is something more wonderful and attractive farther away, and it would seem as if the noble river were enjoyed and visited more by those living at a distance than by those nearer by.

The islands are occupied mostly by people who live more than a day's journey away, and the beautiful and costly homes built on these islands testify to the owners' fondness and appreciation of the health and beauty to be found on and about this river.

SPEAK WELL OF HIM.

The Ottawa Valley Advocate Has a Word to Say.

We feel assured our brother members of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association will unanimously approve of the selection made by the executive, of Bro. J. J. Behan, of Kingston, to fill the important office of grand secretary. At every convention of the association held for the past fifteen years and more Bro. Behan has been a conspicuous figure—a man of ready speech, eloquent, capable, a man of marked integrity, and full of that business energy and resourcefulness which ensures success for any enterprise in which he may embark. Such is our new grand secretary, and in his hands a forward movement of the association will be the order of the day.

We earnestly exhort every member to second Bro. Behan's efforts, and thus ensure a glorious future for an association which is destined to prove a blessing to so many thousands of Catholic families from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

We commend the grand trustees for the excellent choice they have made, and we congratulate Bro. Behan on this great honor which has been bestowed upon him. We doubt not that in the years to come—and many may they be!—he will give abundant evidence that the confidence reposed in him has been well placed.

Ice Cream In The Bible.

According to J. W. Wallace, in the Spatula, ice cream has been in existence since 1545. Indeed, this writer thinks he discovers ice cream in the Bible and quotes the text, "And Isaac brought forth the milk of the goat, cool with the snow of the mountains, and said to Abraham, eat and drink, for the sun is hot, that thou mayest be cool."

At a banquet given by Charles I. of England, ice cream is mentioned. On this occasion, according to Wallace, it was made by a French cook, and the king was so pleased with the frozen milk, as he called it, that he gave the cook a pension of £20 a year for life.

The first advertisement of ice cream appeared in a New York newspaper, June 8th, 1786.

Lady Hamilton introduced ice cream in Washington, and it was always her delight to tell how President Washington declared that it should thereafter form a part of the White House menu.

It was first sold for $1 a quart.

The wholesale ice cream business was started in 1851 by Jacob Fussell in New York.

Probably $25,000,000 is invested in the manufacture of ice cream in the United States.

THE HOME-COMERS.
Together They Recall Reminiscences of the Past.

INDIGESTION'S SLAVE

IS SALLOW, LANGUID, THIN AND DOWN HEARTED.

Troubled With Wind, Biliousness, Headaches and Sharp Internal Pains.

No one deserves more sympathy than the sufferer from indigestion. A light meal lies like lead upon his chest—a good meal gives him hours of agony. The dyspeptic's slavery can't end until he builds up his system with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They strengthen the stomach, stimulate the liver and sharpen the appetite. There never was a case of indigestion that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could not cure if given a fair trial. Proof of this is given by Gustave Emond, of St. Jerome, Que., who says: "I suffered from dyspepsia for five years. The agony I endured at times can only be understood by those who are similarly afflicted. I tried a number of home remedies and advertised medicines but they did not help me. Then I decided to see the family doctor, and I took for a long time the medicine he gave me, but the results were no better; in fact I was getting worse. Some days I could not eat at all, and when I did eat the meal was followed by violent pains and cramps in my stomach that made life almost unendurable. Then I stopped the doctor and again began trying other medicines, but the result was always the same—no cure, and scarcely even a temporary relief. And the trouble went on for years, until last winter I met a friend from St. Scholastique) who asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not, but after some persuasion consented to do so. This was the beginning of the end of my trouble. Before the first box of pills were finished the pains after eating were less severe. I continued the Pills for a couple of months and at the end of that time I was wholly cured. I can eat as hearty a meal now as anyone, and never have the slightest return of the pains and cramps that so long had made life miserable. I have proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure this trouble when all other medicines fail, and I would strongly urge other dyspeptics to give them a fair trial."

These pills will cure all troubles due to poor blood, or weakened nerves, such as neuralgia, rheumatism, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, heart weakness, and the ailments that burden the lives of so many women. If you do not find these pills at your dealer's send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the Pills will be sent post paid at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50 Do not let any dealer persuade you to take something else.

J. B. McKAY.
When caught early in his career.

Kingston Old Boys.

Major James Galloway, Toronto.

Kingston, to her sons returning
From their wanderings over earth,
Welcomes them with heartfelt yearning
To their first love, homes and hearth.
Happy day; O glorious hour,
When beneath her sheltering wings
Sons are gathered, of whose power
All her population sings.

Let us up and cheer them madly,
Meet them with the fife and drum,
Welcome them, and that right gladly,
As once more to home they come;
Make a grand display of bunting,
Decorate each street and store;
Let there be no growling, grunting,
If it cost a thousand more.

If the Jew in language mighty
Would his right hand's cunning lose,
Rather then forget the city
That by birth made him to choose;
So may every lad and lassie,
Owning Kingston for their birth,
Cry in words that may seem sassy,
"'Tis the only spot on earth."

Then in one grand chorus singing
Welcome to our sons and men,
Who with hearts and voices ringing
Echo back our songs again.
Thus do loved ones reunited,
Happy as the days go by,
Let no cloud with danger freighted,
Bring a tear or cause a sigh.

The Rabbi's Present.

A Rabbi once by all admired,
Received, of high esteem the sign
From those his goodness thus inspired,
A present of a cask of wine,
But, to! when soon he came to draw,
A miracle in mode as rapid
But quite unlike what Cana saw
Had turned his wine to water vapid.
The Rabbi never knew the cause,
For miracles are things of mystery;
Though some like this have had their flaws
Explained from facts of private history.
His friends, whom love did aptly teach,
Wished all to share the gracious task,
So planned to bring a bottle each
And pour their wine in one great cask.
Now, one by chance thought, "None will know,
And with the wine of all my brothers
One pint of water well may go."
And so by chance, thought all the others!

Sunshine Furnace

PROPRIETOR—"Well Tom, how did that new furnace work this winter—save any coal?"

JANITOR—"Yes, sir! put in two tons less than last winter and have about half a ton left—guess it paid you to throw out that old coal-eater and put in this up-to-date SUNSHINE."

PROPRIETOR—"Yes, I think so; and I noticed the house was comfortable in all kinds of weather. Easy to take care of?"

JANITOR—"Yes, sir! just had to attend it twice a day—never had any trouble with the fire going out, and didn't have to spend half my time sweeping, cleaning, shaking, dumping ashes, and all that sort of thing—wish all my customers had SUNSHINES."

In the end you pay more for fuel than the furnace in which you burn it—a furnace that saves fuel saves it's cost.
