A NEW CHURCH

IT IS NAMED KNOX PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. M. Macgillivray, M.A., Formally Opened it—The Erection Due to Rev. John Boyd And Presbyterian Friends.

On Sunday morning Rev. M. Magillivray, M.A., of Chalmers' church, formally opened a new Presbyterian church in Kingston. It was hoped that Rev. Dr. MacTavish, of the Church of the Redeemer, Deseronto, and moderator of the Kingston presbytery, would have been able to officiate and dedicate the new building, but pressure of official and other duties made this impossible.

The new church, which is called Knox church, after the great Scottish reformer, is situated on Montreal street, about half a mile this side of the depot, and on an excellent site. The material is wood, and the style is Gothic. It is substantially built, and well proportioned, and tastefully finished within, with pulpit, pews, organ, all complete. The worshippers on Sunday morning were heard to speak highly of the comfort of the seats, which are of the right height and of the right angle at the back.

The erection and equipment of Knox church is due to Rev. John Boyd, of Zion church, and a number of friends, whose interest in the religious needs of the locality, took this eminently practical and worthy form. A large proportion of the cost is provided for, and locally and from other sources the balance will no doubt be forthcoming. Meantime the new congregation is under the supervision of the session of Zion church, and Mr. Hutcheson, a student of Queen's, and a capable preacher and organizer, is in charge. The boundaries of the new congregation will cross the railway and include a number of substantial families from the country. The people immediately in the neighborhood of the new church will form an energetic, devoted nucleus around which a large and prosperous congregation will grow in time.

The attendance at the opening service was very good. John Dales, M. A., had charge of the singing, and Mrs. Galloway, of Chalmers', sang a solo in excellent form. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Laird, of Cooke's church, preached a sermon to the young people, and in the evening, Rev. Mr. Boyd, preached. May Knox church be a power for good in the northeast section of the city.

Eloquent Sermons At Cathedral.

St. George's cathedral had several visiting priests assisting at the various services on Sunday. At the choral celebration Rev. G. L. Starr was celebrant, Rev. William Shortt, Sarnia, being epistoller, and Rev. William Lewin gospellor, Canon Grout assisting in administering the elements. The sermon, an eloquent and masterly one, was preached by Ven. Archdeacon Kirkby, diocese of New York, from the text, "I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." The two most wonderful things in the world are the revelation of God to man, and the means of that revelation. The story of the world's redemption, is contained between the covers of a comparatively small book, the last half of which is the expansion and completion of the first. The speaker drew some forceful lessons from our Lord's words, "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die," impressing the great truth—life from death.

At evensong, Rev. C. A. Seager, preached a powerful sermon on self-sacrifice, from the exhortation of St. Paul to the Romans, "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service." The epistles of St. Paul abound in just such vivid word-pictures, as the text presents. There is much misapprehension in the world regarding the meaning of sacrifice. Sacrifice is the voluntary offering to God with a willing mind of that which costs us something. Abel's sacrifice was preferred before that of Cain, not because the firstlings of the flock were of more value to God, than the first fruits of the earth, but because they were of greater value in the eyes of Him who made the offering. It is no good to throw odds and ends that we don't want on the altar of sacrifice, such an offering is worse than nothing. There is a vital difference between the sacrifices of old, and the sacrifices demanded under the new covenant. Then the offering was made of the dead bodies of bulls and goats; now God asks the living sacrifice of ourselves. We ourselves must make the offering, the gift and the giver cannot be separated, for the giver is the gift. The offering of our body implies the sacrifice of heart and mind, which in this life dwell within the earthly tabernacle. Self-sacrifice is not easy, but without self-sacrifice there is no practical religion. To make an entire, an acceptable sacrifice, there must be a definite determination of the will, nothing, however costly, can be held back. Upon such a sacrifice of the whole man will descend from heaven the purifying fire, the symbol of divine acceptance.

Church Notes.

There are twenty-two Roman Catholic and seventeen Protestant churches in Manila.

Old Chief Geronimo and a dozen of his Apache warriors have joined the Methodist church.

Protestantism has 1,100 mission hospitals in foreign lands, with 2,500, cures patients yearly.

Rev. Prof. Ferguson preached striking and eloquent sermons in St. Andrew's church on Sunday.

One century ago there were seven missionary societies, with 170 missionaries and 44,000 native catechists.

Miss Caroline Macklem received two subscriptions from Kingston in aid of Chinese famine sufferers. There should have been many.

Rev. George F. Pancoast is conducting an evangelistic campaign in Japan in connection with the Presbyterian and Kumiai churches.

The only European allowed to reside in Thibet is Miss Annie Taylor, English missionary, but she is hemmed in from advance by a distant wall.

Mr. Ryle, son of the Bishop of Winchester, proclaims that the openings of bazaars and sales of work do not come within the activities of a bishop's sole.

C. E. De Pencier, Trinity College, is doing duty at Madoc for Rev. W. W. Burton, who is travelling as diocesan mission agent. W. E. Kidd, of same college, is temporarily in charge of the mission of Kitley.

In St. George's cathedral the venerable missionary who preached on Sunday contrasted the Saviour's first coming to the world, when He scarcely could find a home to welcome Him with the present, when tens of thousands of homes would be gladly opened and hundreds of thousands of young men would struggle to loose the latchet of His shoes. It is unfortunate, however, that the young men were not in evidence in the congregation. Scarce one was there, outside the choir seats. The women were ten to one of adult men also. The latter are apparently quite satisfied that the yacht club, steamboat wharves and verandahs are advantageous points to qualify for heaven, to step from to the eternal shores.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Refused To Sell An Old Methodist Building.

Kingston, Aug. 3.—(To the Editor): We often hear of the unity among religious bodies, but the following incident fails to bear it out. Some time ago, a very energetic Presbyterian minister of Kingston was looking about near the G.T.R. junction for a suitable building or site for a Presbyterian mission church. He made a good offer to the Methodist board which owns the vacant building near the depot, once a Methodist church. Most of the board wanted to accept the offer, but one influential among them declared the building would never be sold for a Presbyterian church. If it was not used by the Methodists it would stand vacant and unprofitable. That was surely a "kindly" spirit in these days! The Presbyterian minister has succeeded in building a little church near the vacant Methodist church and the latter will stand in idleness.—PRESBYTERIAN.

Are Seeking Protection.

The city council will be petitioned to place an electric light near the junction of Union and Albert streets, which is one of the darkest spots in the city. Nearly all trouble has been experienced in that locality, women and children have been chased and the attention of the police has been directed to the evil, but without any redress being secured. Recently the homes of John Mudie, Prof. Ferguson and Capt. Grant, all in that vicinity, were burglariously entered, and the residents think that if they cannot have police protection, at least they are entitled to the protection which an electric light will afford.

A Free Scholarship.

Any young man or woman may secure free instruction in music or elocution. The Ithaca Conservatory of Music, to stimulate the study of these arts, offers one free and one partial scholarship in the Province of Ontario. Each scholarship is valued at $100 and is good for a term of twenty weeks beginning with the opening of the school year, September 10th, in voice, violin, piano, organ and elocution. These scholarships are awarded upon competition open to any one desiring a musical or literary education. Anyone wishing information should write to C. Williams, conservatory, Ithaca, N.Y.

Information was received in the city Saturday, of the accident which befell Joseph Wilson in Toronto. Mr. Wilson, well known here as chairman of the Board of Education, has been living in Toronto for some months past and on Saturday while wheeling along a street he was overtaken by an electric car and knocked down. He had a narrow escape from death, but escaped with severe bruises and a shaking up. He will be confined to his room for some time as a result of the accident.

Excursion From Toronto.

The Canadian Wheelmen's Association ran an excursion from Toronto to Kingston by G.T.R. Saturday night. About 300 came from the Queen City, including a large number of old Kingston boys. To-day is Toronto's Civic holiday, and the excursion was the C.W.A.'s annual. Many of the westerners took the steamer North King's trip among the Thousand Islands yesterday.

A Very Narrow Escape.

Miss Pitman, a clerk in Laidlaw's dry goods store, had a narrow escape on Friday evening from very serious injuries. A roll of oil cloth, weighing 100 pounds, fell through the skylight of the second floor, and grazed the young lady's back and the heel of her shoe. Purchasers in the store stood in terrible suspense as the big roll dashed down and fully expected to see a fatality.

The North King had a very large crowd of passengers, but was running fourteen miles an hour.

THE POLICE COURT.

Four Lads Were Before The Magistrate.

Four lads were before the police magistrate this morning, three for indecent exposure by swimming off Crawford's wharf without bathing suits, and one for being drunk and disorderly. The magistrate allowed the first three to go, but warned them against repeating the act for which they had been summoned before him. He took occasion to remark that it is scandalous that Kingston has no bathing place which boys may use without the risk of arrest for exposure, but so long as no place was provided, boys would have to be satisfied with the bath tub or going outside the city limits. It was unlawful to go in swimming in a public place without a bathing suit, and owners of wharves could have swimmers arrested for trespass.

The first question Magistrate Farrell put to the lad arrested for being drunk was: "Where did you get the liquor?"

The lad hesitated, and finally said he couldn't remember the name of the place.

"Where was it?" demanded the magistrate.

"On Princess street," replied the lad.

"I'll remand you till to-morrow morning," the magistrate said. "Any man who sells liquor to a boy will have to answer for it."

"Did you hear what the lad said, Mr. Glidden?" the magistrate said, addressing himself to the liquor license inspector.

"Yes, Your Honor," replied Mr. Glidden. "I'll look into the matter."

The C.P.R. has arranged a series of cheap excursions beginning August 17th, to take harvest hands to the North-West.

SPORT REVIEW.

THE PONIES AGAIN DEFEAT WATERTOWN.

Canada Has Held Seawanhaka Cup For Seven or Eight Successive Years—Baseball Match Won By Player Stealing Home—General Notes On Sport.

The largest crowd of the season witnessed the baseball match at Lake Ontario Park Saturday afternoon. Ponies defeated Kingston's old rivals, the Watertown Greys, by 9 to 1. The score should have been about 4 to 0, but the Watertown second baseman and centre fielder made several bad muffs that took the ginger off the contest which had been close until the fifth innings. However there was some snappy play by both teams.

Though Vowinkel had a split finger, he pitched remarkably well, Watertown making but one hit off him, Pare cracking the ball between left and centre fields. Ponies got twelve hits off Plank, though two of them should have been fielded.

In the second innings, Umpire Varney should have called Vowinkel out for interference. The Pony pitcher hit short towards the first base line, and ran into Plank as the latter was endeavoring to pick up the ball. The rules do not admit of such interference, the runner being allowed three feet outside the first base line. Vowinkel afterwards scored when the side should have been retired.

Brief Notes On Sports.

Lou Dillon trotted a mile in 2:02½ at Cleveland.

Lacrosse this afternoon: Torontos vs. Capitals at Toronto.

The Hull baseball team defeated Malone, N.Y., by 11 to 0.

The Canada's cup challenger Irondequoit, has arrived at Toronto.

Toronto's baseball and lacrosse teams are being walloped this season.

Shamrocks defeated the Nationals in a N.A.L.U. match on Saturday by 9 to 3.

"Pop" Williams let New York with Mathewson pitching down with three hits and no runs.

Nearly every prominent rowing club on the continent is represented in the Canadian Henley entry list.

Hugh Lambe, late goal of the Torontos, has been granted a certificate to play with Brantford lacrosse team.

The peanut boys do a brisk trade among the grand stand patrons of the Lake Ontario Park baseball matches.

The Toronto lacrosse team won the city championship of Hogtown by defeating the Tecumsehs 3 to 2, on Saturday.

Vowinkel has had a fine record with the Ponies. In one match he struck out nineteen, in another not one hit was made off him, while the Watertowns on Saturday were able to get only one single hit off his delivery.

The forthcoming cricket match between Ontario and Quebec cannot be called a provincial contest, for six of the eleven "Quebeckers" are Ottawa players. It is simply a match between the Ontario and Quebec cricket associations.

Thus spoke "Jimmy" McDermott as "Curly" Randolph's fly was caught:

Toiling without rejoicing.
Up to the plate he goes,
His very best hit lands in a mit
And he gets a long repose.

During the past month, Ponies played nine matches, of which they won eight. They were defeated on July 1st by the Toronto Crescents, but as it was their first match of the season, and with a mixed-up team, it was certainly excusable. Some good contests are yet to come.

The Gore Kennel club, of Hamilton, has decided to donate two prizes for competition at the Toronto dog show. There is a Kingston man who would like to donate two prizes for the best exhibit of "dressed hogs," entries to be confined to Toronto which would get the prizes in any event.

Canada has held the Seawanhaka cup since 1896, when its challenger defeated the United States defender. In 1895, the English yacht Spruce IV. was beaten by the United Stateser, but ever since the Yankees have failed to get the trophy back over the border. Canada has held it for seven consecutive years, and intends to keep on holding it.

John McIntyre, K.C., is one of the older fans who delight to see the Ponies play. He sits regularly in the grand stand. Capt. Chartrand is another devotee of the game, and may be expected to evolve some interesting comments upon it. Editor Daley, of the Freeman, wouldn't miss a match if he had to close up his office, and Mayor Bell and Rev. Father McDonald would rather watch the Ponies play than eat.

A base thief is a valuable asset of a baseball team. Saturday's match between Baltimore and Torontos was won by 6 to 5 in the twelfth innings on a sensational play. A Baltimore player took a long lead off third and stole home as Bruce was about to deliver the ball. He slid safely over the plate, and the match was won. A similar feat was performed a year ago by Bannon, of Toronto, who stole home and won the match by 2 to 1. It requires a good lead off third, a fast runner and an expert slider to successfully accomplish such a risky play, but it is often successfully done, for the catcher is behind the plate, and even when he does catch the ball he has to take perhaps two or three paces, and probably will come into collision with the batter, who, if he uses his head, can save the runner.
