Very Sudden Death. Lanark Era. A telegram received by Robert Charlton, 7th concession, On township, on Monday, conveyed the sad and startling news of the death of his eldest son William, at Westhall, eighteen miles from Montreal, Man. two weeks ago the young man had left for the west, in company with Messrs. Elijah Chambers and John Garrett, the latter a cousin, to assist in harvesting Manitoba's immense wheat crop. He appeared in splendid health and spirits when departing and none dreamed that "he would never return alive. His death on Saturday was caused by heart failure. Mr. Garrett is expected home with the body.

DIED AT PARK SHE HAD PLAYED BEFORE EUROPEAN ROYALTY

Fortune Awaits Relatives—Miss Louise Peters, aged Seventy-Two, Dies Among Strangers—Considerable Wealth. Thousand Island Park, N.Y., Sept. 4.—Miss Louise Peters, aged seventy-two years, died suddenly yesterday at the home of Mrs. M. E. Tanner. Death was due to acute indigestion and heart failure. Miss Peters was a musician of exceptional ability and educated in Germany some fifty years ago. She is said to have performed at the piano before all the nobility of her country and others in Europe. She was of a very eccentric character and seldom mentioned anything in connection with her past life. Numerous bank books found in her belongings showed that she possessed considerable wealth. Owing to her peculiar disposition, nothing is known of her relatives and the authorities are puzzled to know what disposition to make of her remains. Every effort is being made to locate her people.

MISS HIS CHANCE. This is the Opinion of the Toronto Telegram.

It would seem that R. L. Borden, M.P., has labored to develop a policy warranted to satisfy the Canadian Pacific, the Mackenzie-Mann interests and the people. The Canadian Pacific and the Mackenzie-Mann interests may be profoundly indifferent to the merits of Mr. Borden's cure for the ills that this railway-rail country is heir to. The time for Mr. Borden to have proclaimed his policy was last year. He visited the west and should have been able to read its needs. If Mr. Borden had declared for extending the Intercolonial to Winnipeg, then he could have touched the country's pride and fired its imagination.

But Mr. Borden waited. He did worse than wait. He climbed on the Roblin platform and accepted the Roblin-Sifton bargain as a fulfillment of conservative ideals. Mr. Borden missed the opportunity of his life when he failed to declare a year ago for the principle of public ownership.

If the opposition had raised a cry of "On to Winnipeg" with the Intercolonial, Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have had to conform to Mr. Borden's initiative. Mr. Borden's tour of western Canada gave him a chance to appear as the originator of a policy. He chose to wait until he was forced to appear as the initiator of other people's policies. Mr. Borden allowed the faults of the Grand Trunk Pacific to frame a policy differing from that which his own appreciation of the country's interests should have framed a year ago.

The Borden policy is made up of shreds and patches. The patches may be all wool, the shreds may be excellent. Such a rag-bag arrangement has no chance against the simple grandeur of a based scheme. It is still another railway at the public expense for private profit. If Mr. Borden had declared for public ownership a year ago he might have caught the country's eye. If Mr. Borden had declared that the country must get a dollar's worth of railway for every dollar's worth of money that goes to railway builders he might have been criticized, but he must have been right.

A declaration for public ownership might have raised antagonism. It would have also raised enthusiasm. The present opposition policy raises neither antagonism nor enthusiasm. It cannot be forgotten because it will never be remembered.

Died at Verona. Verona, Sept. 3.—One local sports are all down the river to-day duck-shooting. The continued rains have prevented some farmers from harvesting their late grain. Mr. Thomas Genge leaves next week to reside in Sydneyham; she will be considerably missed. W. Lamson, spending the summer at Alexandria Bay, N.Y., returned home to-day, with a broken hand necessitating rest of perhaps three weeks. H. B. Wartelak has returned from Pittsburg, Pa. He passed through several states, on route, visiting many principal cities and arrived home much improved in health. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bennett at W. D. Percy's Miss Rosa Albertson at her parents'; Frank Grant and brother Bert, Waterloo, N.Y., at home; Max and Annie Walker, Watertown, N.Y., with his parents; Miss Nellie Walker, Alexandria Bay, N.Y., at her grand parents'; Mrs. Robert Haddock, Oak Flats, spending a few weeks' recreation at Black and White Puddings, Frankforts, Potted Ham, Fresh Pork Sausages, Tenderloin, also Ham and Bacon of the very best quality, are being sold at a low price. Picnic Hams 12c; Myers, 60 Brock street. Phone 570.

LATEST FASHION NOTES. A Beautiful Bodice Of Peau De Soie.

Peau de soie was the material of which this pretty little waist was made. It is shirred over on both the sleeves and the waist. The heavy lace collar extends well over the shoulders and appears on both the front and back. There is also a narrow strip of the lace down the front reaching to the belt. The collar and belt are outlined with bands of peau de soie.

Small girls generally wear their skirts quite short, reaching usually to the knees and made very full. The waists are variously trimmed, from rickshaws, leather stitching, lace fronts and lace undersleeves being favorite methods of adorning these small garments. Almost all materials are considered suitable for little girls, from muslin to silk, but nothing can be prettier or more simple when they cannot wear wash materials, than the soft-wool frocks. Young girls always are delighted with a coat and skirt to match and fashion dresses that they wear them this year. The skirts are short, made with narrow tucks around the belt and sometimes a flounce, while the jackets often have two or three capes giving them a very smart appearance.

The Two Villages.

Over the river, on the hill, Letha a village white and still; There a never sound of cuntry or mill; The houses are thatched with grass and ferns. Never a clock to toll the hours; The marble doors are always shut; You cannot enter in haste or hurst; All the villagers lie asleep; Never a trumpet to sound or fan; Silent, and idle and low they sit.

In that village under the hill, There a weary soul in prayer; Looks to the other village there, And weeps and sighs, long to go up to that home from this below; Long to sleep in the forest with his father, his mother and his child; And harketh, praying, this answer fall: "Patience! That village shall hold ye all."

Bath School Improved. Bath, Sept. 3.—Quite a number of American visitors are leaving for their homes this week. The boat service is changed somewhat, the steamer Aletha coming every day now instead of the steamers North King and Caspian. Our school started on Tuesday with a good attendance with R. H. Hutchinson, principal, and Miss Wilson, for the intermediate department, and Miss Robinson, for the primary department. The school has been renovated during vacation, and with a new galvanized roof put on by Boyle & Son, Napanee, and the removal of the fence, presents a good appearance. Knox Williams, Rochester, and S. Williams, New York state, are visiting at their sister's, Miss Patience Williams'. Miss Mary Keller is on the sick list. William Ryan and wife, Deseronto, are visiting at John Thompson's with Earle Topfice and Leo Cunningham left on Monday to attend the Model school in Napanee. John White left on Wednesday for a trip to England.

Reports: Not Correct. Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—Col. Constantine, of Fort Saskatchewan, has returned from the far north, whether he was dispatched by the Dominion government to investigate the report that United States whalers were at Herchel Island Point, at the very mouth of the Mackenzie river, on the Arctic coast, and were selling liquor to the Indians and natives there and generally debauching them. He found that the report was not correct.

Asking For Help. Rome, Sept. 4.—The young clergy are agitating the starting of a world-wide movement to induce the pope to alter the papal system so as to inaugurate modern organization ideas. The inciters count upon the French, Irish, American and Austrian clergy to help and trust that the powers and press will support them.

ANNUAL MEET OF THE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION.

The Officers Chosen for the Next Year—Various Reports Were Brought Down and Accepted. The annual meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held on Thursday afternoon in the old Collegiate building. Mrs. Macallum, president, occupied the chair. There was given a very interesting and inspiring Bible reading on the spirit and power of prayer by Miss Middleton, a native of Kingston, but who has been engaged in active Christian work in Toronto and other places, and is at present home on a visit.

The recording secretary's report gave a synopsis of the work done during the year, showing that although the membership is not very large, the association has been busy, and has done what it could to advance the cause in which it is so much interested. The corresponding secretary reported eighteen letters and four cards received, and thirty-five letters and two cards sent. The treasurer's report showed disbursements for the past year of $132.71, and after all bills were paid a small balance on the right side.

Mrs. Macallum reported a part of the evangelistic work done by the union. Mrs. Macallum visited the penitentiary at least once a month during the year. She was pleased to tell that the number of four-year Protestant inmates were smaller than those of those being only six at present in attendance at the meetings, which they seemed much pleased to attend. She also has recently visited the Infants Home. Mrs. Rev. Hammond, superintendent of the evangelistic department for several years past, has gone to reside with her daughter in Prescott. She will be very much missed by the union and many others of the city.

Mrs. Macallum also told of a series of very profitable and helpful mothers' meetings held at the Y.W.C.A., one of the kindergarten teachers very kindly suggesting simple methods of amusing children and thereby relieving mothers when busy or tired, which were very much appreciated.

The secretary of lumber camp work, Mrs. Briden, having been laid aside for several months past, her report was given from the minutes. A number of comfort bags were sent to the Muskoka region, containing, besides many useful and necessary articles, a marked Testament, temperance and other literature and letters by the senders. Five dollars to go towards the missionary's support were forwarded by the treasurer, Miss Sproule, the missionary for Muskoka region, is expected to visit Kingston in October.

Literature of different kinds is supplied to the homes in the C.P.R. and G.T.R. stations by Mrs. Rogers, and to the fire stations by Mrs. Snelling. Mrs. Macallum returned thanks to the association for its gift of a handsome rocking chair and a par table, which were presented to her in recognition of her valuable services since coming to Kingston.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. (Rev.) Macallum, president; Mrs. (Dr.) Sparks, 1st vice-president; Mrs. King, recording secretary; Mrs. T. X. Rogers, treasurer; Miss E. Clark, corresponding secretary.
