GOOD EXHIBITS IN LIVE STOCK AT HARROW SMITH FAIR.

The Show Was Duller Than Usual
—Farmers Could Not Leave the Harvest Fields to Take Part.

Harrowstock fair, held Thursday and Friday, had the best of weather and very good crowds. On the whole it was much duller and not up to the standard of former years. One reason for this was the weather conditions of late. On account of the continued wet weather, farmers could not afford to lose any farm days when such did come, and therefore remained in the harvest field. The dullness was accounted for by the lack of any kind of sports on Friday. However, the pink lemonade man, the peanut vendor and the fairer were on hand in evidence, each procuring his presence and convincing the people that the fall fair season was on. The Parker band was the organization that filled the air with martial music.

The exhibits of fancy and useful articles by the ladies was not quite as large as last year, but the judges recognized the quality as better. The chief exhibitors were Miss Myra Napier, Mrs. Armstrong, Odessa, Mrs. Hartman, Violet, Mrs. Hunter, Harrowsmith and Mrs. Miller, Brantford.

The flower exhibit was small and poor. The chief fruit and vegetable exhibitors were J. Knight, Kepler, A. Sheppard, Catarquini and James Brady, Harrowsmith.

The cattle exhibited were the best in years. J. E. Shibley won the prizes for the Durham stock. He had an eleven-month-old calf that weighed 1,125 pounds, and a nine-month-old one weighing 1,050 pounds. His prize bill topped the scales at 2,400 pounds. J. Knight's eight won half a dozen prizes for Ayrshires, and Alfred Hunter took the Holstein stock honors.

There was likewise a fine exhibit of sheep. Dawson, Brantford, and Odessa, were to the front with Southdowns, Oxford Downs and Shropshire Downs, and J. Frink, Hay Bay, and Alfred Hunter with Leicesters.

Hogs and pigs made a good showing. Thomas Sands, Elginburg, had some fine Yorkshires and Berkshires and Alfred Hunter a big exhibit of Tamworths.

The exhibit of horses was very large. Thomas Thompson, Wilton, won the prize for the best carriage team of bays. The largest exhibitors were F. Hardinge, Lethbridge, J. C. Gough, Ernesttown, Robert Miller, Ernesttown, Alfred Hunter, Fred Gandy, Woodstock, and James Brady, Harrowsmith.

The latter three showed chiefly colts. The horses raised in the rural districts now are no better, in fact not as good as were raised twenty years ago. On account of the big demand colts are driven at top money an age, and the result is that they are not given the necessary time for physical development.

In the cheese exhibit L. L. Gallagher, Wilton, won the special prize for colored and Joseph Crammer, Glenvale, the special for white.

A curiosity on the grounds was a hundred-year-old plough, shown by Thomas Bowler, of Harrowsmith, the village constable. For the sum of five dollars, he will whisper in the ear of the inquisitive the name of the place where he found this valuable implement. It was used near Adolphustown over 100 years ago by a United Empire Loyalist family, and one who knew it well never thought of giving it an age. It is a quaint and old-fasioned article. Mr. Bowler also shows several other articles of equal age. One is an axe which the pioneers of the Bay of Quinte district used to break through the forests. Another is a heavy fork for pitchforking hay and still another a fine lock gun. These curiosities, Mr. Bowler will exhibit at the Toronto fair next week.

Charles Hyatt, of the Turner Lumber company, Midland, is here, hiring men to work in the woods in New Ontario.
