TO ESCAPE MOB

NEGRO WHO ASSAULTED WOMAN DROWNS HIMSELF.

Jumps From a Rowboat—Mrs. Margaret Gerahn Repeatedly Choked in an Effort to Make Her Surrender Her Money.

Kansas City, Kansas, Sept. 5.—An unknown negro was caught yesterday afternoon in the act of assaulting Mrs. Margaret Gerahn, a white woman, in her home at Armourdale. He fled, chased by a crowd, and when he reached the river, he jumped overboard, drowning himself in the Kansas river, jumping overboard from a rowboat in which he was trying to gain the Missouri side.

His AWFUL FATE.

The Man Who Looked Back And Was Left.

There was once a farmer opposed to new ideas and methods, who believed in following strictly the good, old-fashioned way.

Now in these days of crop rotations and commercial fertilizers, blooded stock and balanced rations, spraying outfits and premium manures, agricultural papers and experiment stations, all was changed.

He alone was true to the faith of the fathers and walked in the good old paths that feet had trodden. Yet, strange to say, these old-time methods did not bring the old-time results.

When his neighbors organized a farmers' club and a society to enable them to sell their produce and buy supplies to a better advantage, he stayed outside and criticized.
