Too Many Gods.

Rev. Dr. Milligan caused great amusement at Queen's conference last night when he denied emphatically that he ever declared Toronto University to be Godless. "There are really too many gods at present," was the statement that made the commissioners and the trustees laugh heartily. Dr. Milligan hit out at various Presbyterian churches in Toronto when he told how his church (old St. Andrew's) had divided its college collections equally between Knox and Queen's. "But," said he, "our good example was like casting pearls before swine, for the other churches just gave everything to Knox."

Hon. T. A. Brassey to Speak at Welcome to Canadian Manufacturers' Association—Alfred McDougall on Trial.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—Ambrose Kenny, an employee of the Sunnyside rolling mills, was struck by a train at the Queen street west crossing this morning. He received internal injuries and will die.

The court of appeal has ordered a new trial for Emile Noel, Ottawa, sentenced by Chief Justice Meredith to five years in the penitentiary for shooting Albert Laroeque. The court of appeal holds that Meredith was wrong in not permitting a re-examination of Laroeque at the trial.

MEXICAN WAR HEROES.

They Are in Session at Indianapolis.

N. T. OGDEN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—What will in all probability be the last of the national conventions of the Mexican war veterans began in Indianapolis to-day. There are less than 4,000 of the veterans left out of a total of 112,000, and they are dying at the rate of more than 1,000 a year.

The gathering was called to order by N. T. Ogden, of Cincinnati, president of the national association. Letters of good will were read from President Roosevelt and from the governors of several states.

THREE THOUSAND LIVES LOST

A Tidal Wave.

Dever & Co., stock brokers, received a message soon after two o'clock, stating that 3,000 lives had been lost at Atlantic City by a tidal wave which swept over that place today.

A later despatch says that the city has been wiped off the map.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 16.—A severe storm from the gulf section reached this city this morning. The rain fell in torrents and was driven by a thirty-eight mile gale. The temperature was seventy-four degrees, rendering the atmosphere oppressive. The telegraph and telephone services are badly crippled, and there is no communication with Atlantic City. Over 800 telephones are out of service at Atlantic City. Passengers arriving from there say the storm was very severe there, and that the wind unroofed in the neighborhood of fifty hotels and cottages. All telegraph wires to the coast are down and some suburban trolley lines are idle because of prostrated wires.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—Passengers arriving from Atlantic City say the storm there was very severe and that the wind unroofed in the neighborhood of fifty hotels and cottages.

A. G. McCausland, the superintendent of the Atlantic City railroad, arrived from Cape May, at 9:30 o'clock, and reported that the fury of the storm there was unprecedented. A bank building was unroofed. The Queen Anne railroad pier was partly destroyed and a number of cottages were damaged.

Robert Dunlop and Thomas Dunlop, sons of Mrs. Dunlop, Rideau street, conducted hotels at Atlantic city. Robert owning the spacious Dunlop Hotel on the Boardwalk, and his brother had a cafe near to it. Thomas was recently married to Miss Swaine, of Barrisfield. Mrs. Larkin and husband, relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Folger also resided at the fated city.

John Corbett was a recent visitor at Atlantic City. He came home over a week ago after a delightful visit there. The city is quite out in the sea, the piers extending far out. It would be a great mark in time of storm.

Both the C.P.R. and G.N.W. Telegraph companies were asked to secure news, but so far have not been able even to substantiate the reports which have come over the stock wires. They report wires as all down.

A BRAVE RESCUE.

A Four-Year-Old Child Saved From Drowning.

Colebrooke, Sept. 16.—Our pulpit was filled last Sunday by Rev. Mr. McCaul, Odessa, who preached a grand and inspiring sermon which was well appreciated by the congregation. Gideon Peters has secured a situation in H. Finkle's carriage factory. Mrs. M. N. Miller, Kentwood, La., is at present the guest of Mrs. A. C. Warner. Mrs. Miller has been absent from these parts over fifteen years and intends staying several months. A large party of young people held a picnic up the river last Saturday, all had a jolly time. The same young people were invited to the home of Arthur Irish for the evening, where games of all kinds were indulged in. Refreshments were then served, and the young people were sorry to acknowledge the time had come for them to leave. All enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Mrs. Morton and sons, Syracuse, N.Y., who have been visiting at C. Lee's, left for their home last Saturday. As the four-year-old son of Wilson Dafoe was playing on the bank of the Napanee river, with other children, he stumbled and fell in. Mrs. C. N. Garrison was the only one besides the children who saw the accident, and she called loudly for help. It being a bold shore at the point where the little fellow was precipitated, every struggle he made only carried him farther out into the deep water. By this time the bridge and shore were lined with spectators, all dumb with horror. The little fellow struggled bravely, but was rapidly getting weaker and weaker, and had sunk for the second time. Excitement was at its height. Several men made an effort to get the child but failed. Just as the little fellow stopped struggling and was sinking for the last time, A. C. Warner arrived on the scene, plunged into the deep water and after some difficulty rescued him. Mr. Warner passed him in to willing hands on the shore, who after some exertion, resuscitated the child and delivered him to the home of his thankful parents. We think, Mr. Warner is justly entitled to a medal from the Humane Society for the brave act.

William L. Perry suffered with a severe stroke one morning last week, and has been in a very low condition for some days. At the time of writing he is reported a little better. What makes this still more sad is that his wife is confined to her bed, having suffered from a series of strokes a couple of years ago.

Visitors: David Snider and wife, George M. Lucas and wife, George D. Lucas and Miss Fraser, all of Odessa, at H. P. Lucas'.

MEETINGS OVER.

Chamberlain To Go On With Expository Programme.

London, Sept. 16.—The Pall Mall Gazette says it understands that the cabinet has concluded the consideration of its fiscal position and its policy in regard thereto, that no further cabinet meetings will be held for the present, probably not until late in the autumn, and, that in the meanwhile Colonial Secretary Chamberlain will proceed with his expository programme. The paper adds that it probably will be found that the colonial secretary has modified his proposals so as to bring them in harmony with Mr. Balfour's views as set forth in his pamphlet. The main feature of Mr. Chamberlain's modifications, according to the Pall Mall Gazette, will be the disappearance of all suggestions in the direction of the further taxation of foodstuffs and raw material.

Attorney-General Finlay, to-day, resumed his argument for Canada before the Alaskan boundary tribunal in session at the foreign office, reading long documents connected with the negotiations for the Russian British treaty of 1825.

Fire Insurance In Canada.

In no year from the time, shortly after Confederation, that the first general statistics of fire underwriting in Canada, were compiled, says the Monetary Times, was there so favorable a year for the companies as 1902. In that year, not only was the volume of premiums taken greater than ever before, but the losses were in much smaller ratio than in any previous year.

The Wise Married Man.

Ogle County Republican.

He was big and fat and forty, and still a bachelor. He stood mopping the perspiration off his fevered brow on the shady side of the court house. A vision all in white floated up the other side of the street, "My Lord," said he, "I'd give a thousand dollars to be as cool as that girl is." And the reporter said never a word; for he knew the chances were that under all that floating cloud of apparent coolness the girl was probably laced, tied and strapped up like a kicking mule in a blacksmith shop.

Many a man who poses as the architect of his fortune would be in hard luck if the building inspector were on to his job.

NO "UNCLEAN" COSMETICS.

Sultan Will Not Allow His Beauties to Use Them.

Constantinople, Sept. 16.—The beauty experts have had a severe setback in the Turkish capital since the sultan's thirst for knowledge led him to look into the ingredients of cosmetics and pomades.

Learning that a large majority of these articles, dear to the heart of woman, are mixed with pork lard, Abdul Hamid at once put a royal prohibition upon the importation and sale of such "impurity." He invoked the command of the Koran, bidding the faithful abjure all things appertaining to a pig. Manufacturers of soaps and other toilet articles have been notified that only such as are exempt from all suspicion of the unclean will be acceptable. Small merchants who trade in other countries are buying up the unorthodox merchandise prohibited by the sultan.

The Dream Came True.

Guelph Mercury.

A Guelph lady had a dream the other night in which she saw a neighbor with whom her son had been good-naturedly "joshing" grasp the latter in his arms with such force that, when the neighbor released him, the youth dropped to the ground in a heap, evidently in much pain. In her indignation she woke up, and the clock struck two. As she had had similar experiences she at once concluded that something had happened to the young man, and she lay awake the rest of the night. No word came however, until a few days after, when a sister from the west came up from the home of other relatives to visit her. From her sister she learned that on the very night of her dream her boy had fallen from the roof of a moving train with such force that his feet were quite injured, and he was laid up for some days. He was picked up in exactly the same position as she had seen him in her dream, and at exactly the same time.

Oath Is All Right.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 16.—After listening to a committee of the local Roman Catholics union printers explain the clause in the oath of the International Typographical Union, which he and certain other of the Roman Catholic clergy believed antagonistic to Roman Catholic obligations, Bishop Scannel said that from that interpretation it was probable that no priest would refuse to absolve any Roman Catholic subscribing to the oath.
