A SPLIT IN QUEBEC.

The expected has happened in Quebec politics. Mr. Monk and Mr. Tarte have been running the conservative campaign, the one with the concurrence and good-will of Mr. Borden, and the other with the concurrence and good-will of Mr. Graham, of the Montreal Star.

The conservative party suffered a severe reverse in the last election through the race and religious agitations of the Montreal Star, and present evidence points to a repetition of this experience.

Mr. Tarte cannot restrain himself. He must be busy, he must lead, and he must have the aid of the Star. Mr. Monk is not in sympathy with these tactics, and has shown it by absenting himself from the recent meetings which have been arranged by the conservative organizers.

The difficulty is becoming acute. One or the other of the contending leaders will have to retire. Who will it be? Not Mr. Monk. He has earned the recognition he demands. He was the honored lieutenant of Mr. Borden at the late rallies of the party in Montreal and Quebec.

The Tarte and the Montreal Star may form a combination of their own and run things to suit themselves, but it will not be to the advantage of the conservative party. That is certain!

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

There is evidently a difference of opinion in regard to the merits and virtues of the German surlax. The Montreal Gazette regards it as "the most forcible evidence of the Laurier government's incapacity to understand anything connected with business."

An importer of German goods, James Coristine, and a conservative, supports the surlax and expresses himself as satisfied that it represents a wise and judicious policy. Canada imports goods from Germany to the value of ten millions annually, while Germany takes products from Canada to the value of only two millions. Canada may want and desire German toys, says Mr. Coristine, but it can do without its other goods. They can be obtained elsewhere, and there is, therefore, no occasion to pay the surlax.

The Montreal Gazette, in condemning the surlax, condemns the protective policy of which it is a distinguished champion. All high taxes are designed to keep out of the country the goods which can be made in it to advantage. The surlax is designed to operate against Germany because it aims to injure Canada on account of its British preference.

Fault-finding is the stock-in-trade of the average man in opposition, and sometimes it is very wearisome. The sneers of the Montreal Gazette are not hurting the liberal government. They are, however, stirring up the conservative merchants, and the declaration of Mr. Coristine, that he would rather support the interest of Canada than follow its lead, is tantamount to a repudiation.

EDITORIAL POINTS.

He's In Danger.

The manager of that woolen mill in Ontario who started work again, will probably be read out of the conservative party.

A Savage Act.

Borden's alternative railway policy was always a weakling and now Sir Mackenzie Bowell kicks and cuffs the last breath of life out of it.

Not A Safe Guide.

Sir Charles Tupper says Canada is united in supporting Chamberlain. The last time Tupper felt the Canadian pulse he announced that the conservatives would sweep the country.

The Rural Vote.

The chief danger to Hon. George E. Foster in his trip to Britain is that he will acquire from Chamberlain the monoch habit and thus lose the Canadian rural vote forever.

Lining Up For Degrees.

The day may not be far distant when York County or Frontenac County will have to send up their pathmasters and fence-viewers to receive honorary degrees at the hands of Toronto and Queen's.

This Is Trafalgar Day.

On the 21st of October, 1805, Lord Nelson, Britain's immortal naval hero, won the glorious battle of Trafalgar, but with the sad loss of his own life. It is almost a hundred years ago, but the memory of that splendid fight and Lord Nelson's last signal to his men—"England expects that every man will do his duty"—will never be forgotten as long as the British empire lasts. The descendants of the men who fought with Nelson are ready to-day to fight for their country.

TOO MANY SWEETHEARTS.

One a Suicide, Other Breaks Engagement—Captain in Trouble.

Turin, Oct. 21.—A society scandal will shortly be aired in the courts. A captain of an Italian crack regiment and a leader of the smart set of Turin, in order to retrieve his broken fortune, became engaged to a rich young widow of very good family. The woman, who was deeply in love with him let him have the disposal of her fortune.

The captain, who, under various pretences, had the wedding postponed, was transferred to a provincial garrison, where he at once paid court to a rich young heiress and became engaged. The first sweetheart, whose money he in the meantime had wasted, heard of her betrayal and committed suicide. The second, on hearing this, broke off the engagement. The captain was anxious enough to threaten her, through his solicitors, with an action for breach of promise. The family of the young woman invoked the aid of the law, and the captain in a short time will undergo his trial for fraud.

THESE FISH ARE DUTY FREE.

Despite Fact That They Were Caught in Foreign Waters.

New York, Oct. 21.—A decision of much interest to American fishermen engaged in business in waters adjacent to Canada was made by the Board of Classification of United States general appraisers, when it was held that fish taken at Bay of Islands, Newfoundland, in American vessels under license from Canadian government, with the assistance of men, boats, and gear hired for the purpose, are entitled to free entry.

The fish were imported in American schooner A. E. Whyland, at Boston, March 18th, 1902. The general appraiser says counsel in the case have not discussed the question whether Bay of Islands is American fishery. He seems to have assumed that it is Canadian. Quirpon Island is off the extreme northern point of Newfoundland, so that Bay of Islands is clearly included within the terms of the treaty.

TIN DISCOVERED IN ALASKA.

Rich Deposits Located On The Coast Near Teller.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 21.—None is excited over the discovery of valuable tin deposits in the Lost River and Cape Prince of Wales districts. Well defined veins of this metal have been found about forty-five miles up the coast from Teller. The discovery was made by two prospectors named Randt and Grim.

The prospectors are said to carry a much larger percentage of metal than is found in the famous tin mines of Cornwall, England. The ore also contains copper to a considerable extent. The discovery is looked upon as one of the greatest mineral finds of the year. At Cape Prince of Wales a further strike of tin is reported, and this is said to be one of the richest deposits in the world.

SEWS WOUND WITH BOOTLACE.

Injured Hunter Performs Heroic Operation on Himself.

Wellington, New Zealand, Oct. 21.—News of a remarkable instance of endurance and resource comes from Cromwell, Central Otago. A "tramp" named Clark fractured one of his hips by slipping down a steep face of sharp rock and received in the abdomen a gash four inches long. Not having a pen knife, Clark made holes in his boot with the tongue of his belt buckle, and stitched up the wound with his bootlace. For several days he remained undiscovered—how many he is unable to say—and then his condition became so precarious that it was impossible to move him.

COURTS 14 YEARS BY MAIL.

Miss Florence Simmonds Becomes Mrs. Damon B. Floyd.

Chester, Pa., Oct. 21.—A pretty romance has just been brought to a happy climax in this city. Miss Florence A. Simmonds, daughter of Alfred D. Simmonds, was married this evening to Damon B. Floyd, of Tamworth, Ontario. For fourteen years the young couple did not see each other, and their courtship was ardently kept up through correspondence. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Charles Hoag, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church. The newly married couple will go to Tamworth to live.

Hackmen Protest To Pope.

Rome, Oct. 21.—The hack drivers of Rome have presented to the pope a protest against the monopoly of the carriage-furnishing business exercised by some vatican employees on the occasion of the arrival of Catholic pilgrims in Rome. They claim that the monopoly is injurious to them individually, and ask the pope to give such orders as will prevent abuses in the future and insure an honest living to the petitioners.

Russia Plans "Living Wall."

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—The "Amursky Krai," states that it is proposed to move a million Russian colonists to the Amur. Great irrigation works are being planned, mainly situated in the South Ussuri region, and roads built in various districts. This will be the "wall of Russia"—a living wall more permanent than the great wall of China, which failed to keep the Manchurians out.

"Taylor's chocolates" null sed. The Pennsylvania railroad has issued orders to cut down the force in the Altoona, Pa., shops ten per cent., which will necessitate the suspension of over 300 men.

Owes His Life To A Neighbor's Kindness.

D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Summer counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea; was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any, relief, when a neighbor, learning of his erty condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. For sale by all druggists.

READY TAILORED CLOTHES

About Vests.

How few tailors pay proper attention to vests. As long as the buttons are on straight, it's all right. Even if it is too big, they give the strap a pull—tighten it—and defend themselves by saying "the vest won't show anyhow."

But it does. Ill fitting, "pulled-in" Vests have a bad habit of wrinkling at the waist, and bulging out at the collar.

That is the strong point of "FIT-REFORM" Clothes—perfection in every detail—the most scrupulous attention to every part of every garment. "FIT-REFORM" Vests are made just as carefully—fit just as snugly—as "FIT-REFORM" Coats. And when the whole suit is on, it is a suit of perfection—every stitch, every line, every garment absolutely faultless.

Usual sizes to fit the normal man—special sizes to fit the unusual man. No matter how difficult you are to suit, there's a perfect fit for you in the "FIT-REFORM" WARDROBES.
