MADE RESTITUTION.

An Interesting Case Related by Gananogue Journal.

About three years ago W. G. Kendrick, treasurer of a Lyndhurst stock factory, was made the victim of financial loss by trusting too easily the story of a young man named Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Niblock who reside near Lyndhurst and who sent milk to the factory, where Mr. Kendrick was treasurer. Twice the young man drew the monthly amounts of money due to Mr. Niblock.

On the first occasion the money reached the proper owner without trouble, but on the second occasion Forest disappeared immediately after receiving the money, and Mr. Kendrick was threatened with suit by Mr. Niblock, if the money due him and taken by Forest was not paid within a specified time.

Forest had never been presented by Forest for the money, some $30 or more, Mr. Kendrick had no alternative but to pay it a second time which he did.

Subsequently it was learned that Forest was in the United States and Mr. Kendrick thought that there could be no chance of ever getting the amount repaid to him.

On Tuesday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Niblock called at the residence of Mr. Kendrick and stated to him that Forest had sent to them the amount wrongfully taken by him and had requested them to make restitution of the money to Mr. Kendrick.

When the money was paid to him, Mr. Kendrick was of course, delighted at receiving what he had for years considered to be lost money and still more pleased at the voluntary restitution made by the boy who probably did not at the time he took the money realize the magnitude of his offence.

Taboo All Men Callers. Ithaca, N.Y., Nov. 12.—At a mass meeting of the upper class women of Cornell University it was decided that the freshmen girls must be prohibited from "fussing," which is short for giving men callers, attending parties or having men escorts on any occasion.

WAS A HERO

Midshipman McGuire Tried to Save Officer

WORTHILY DID IT

UPHELD THE BEST TRADITIONS OF SERVICE.

A Wind Storm Arose While The Men Were Absent From The Ship—They Were Wrecked And McGuire Wrapped His Clothes About Comrade.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 12.—Details of the death of Lieut. Pearce, in Northern waters, brought by the return of his ship—H. M. S. Flora—to Esquimaut, reveal qualities in his companion, Midshipman McGuire, which show worthily he upheld traditions of service.

The Flora had called at Queen Charlotte Island to obtain some samples of coal to forward to the admiralty. She had gone up Skidegate Inlet, which separates in her company Graham Island, intending to remain there a couple of days.

While the ship lay there Sub-Lieut. W. C. Pearce and Midshipman McGuire took their leave one day at four p.m., intending to hunt up the inlet and return by 8 p.m.

During their absence a wind storm arose. After an exciting chase the two men attempted to return to the ship. Miscalculating the treacherous currents, they were carried on to a low reef in mid-channel, where the fragile boat was dashed to pieces.

They clambered up the rock, but from it there was no way of escape. Pearce was physically much less robust than his companion, and was chilled to the bone by the piercing winds and the breaking surf.

McGuire unselfishly stripped himself of almost all his clothing to protect his superior. All through the night he vainly strove to keep warmth in his companion's body by wrapping his own round him.

When found in the morning he was helpless and almost naked, and beside him Pearce lay wrapped in his clothes, but dead.

IMMIGRANTS FLOCK BACK. Foreigners Return to Europe by Thousands.

New York, Nov. 12.—Thousands upon thousands of immigrants who arrived at this port in the early months of this year are now crowding the east-bound steamships, in their efforts to return to their native lands.

Never before have so large a number sought return passage.

Steamships, particularly those sailing to the Mediterranean, are being crowded to their fullest complement and leaving hundreds behind to be transferred to and forwarded by rival lines.

There is no cessation in the movement and yesterday a representative of one of the largest lines asked his ships were booked full to the end of the year.

Business retrenchment, industrial strikes and the fact that many again wish to see their native lands are the reasons advanced by the agents of the lines for the exodus.

The feeling prevalent that large works of a semi-public nature will be abandoned and ordinary labor will not be required is believed in the largest measure to be responsible.

With the exception of the annual flow of foreigners that go to their former home because of the holidays, there is little skilled labor in the ranks of the multitudes that are daily departing. The nationalities represented are Italian, Polish, Slav and Hungarian, and was asked by the council shortly before the close of the meeting last night.

When business was first started, Alderman Wood delivered a long speech on several points, after which he interrupted a number of the speakers, and was asked by the mayor his worship was forced to repeat his request for quietness.

The next local department to feel the retrenchment policy of the C.P.R. will be the secret service. There are about twenty-five men employed locally in this service. Between 150 and 200 employees in various branches have been laid off at Winnipeg up to date.

On Fire—Loss Estimated At $30,000—Insured.

Hamilton, Nov. 12.—Fire broke out about one o'clock this morning, and gutted the upper flats of the Hamilton Brass Works. Only the efforts of the firemen prevented the spread of the flames to surrounding property.

As a heavy gale was blowing, and the flames at times were carried almost across the street, threatening the Gurney scale works, and other places.

The fire, however, assisted in preventing the ignition of nearby property from the flying sparks. The building is of three stories, brick, and covers quite an area. The loss is estimated at $30,000, insured.

A WINNIPEGGER SUICIDES.

Police Quell a Council Chamber Row.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—William Notter, aged thirty, a furniture salesman, and a former resident of Winnipeg, jumped from the high bridge over the Mississippi river at St. Paul, and was instantly killed. The act was premeditated, as Notter left notes saying that he intended to jump over the bridge.

The police were called to the council shortly before the close of the meeting last night. When business was first started, Alderman Wood delivered a long speech on several points, after which he interrupted a number of the speakers, and was asked by the mayor his worship was forced to repeat his request for quietness.

Rutland Transit Steamer Gone to Pieces.

Quebec, N.S., Nov. 12.—The steamer Walter L. Frost, the oldest and fastest steamer of the Rutland Transit company, of this city, which ran ashore on the south end of Manitowish Island, Lake Michigan, after fruitless attempts of the crew to jettison the cargo, was scattered to prevent further damage on the rocks, in two early on Wednesday morning during the hurricane which raged on the lake at that time.

A telegram received at the company's offices here, dated Glen Haven, Mich., states that the steamer has been abandoned.

After her grounding last week, she was pumped out, and preparations were completed to have the ship towed to Manitowish for repairs, but as another gale raged she was again scattered, and the old boat could not withstand the blow of yesterday and broke up. No lives were lost. No insurance was carried on the steamer.

Shortly before eight o'clock the barn doors were thrown open and six trains, one a mail train, were sent out. No effort was made to stop order keepers having been notified of the strike, they were greeted with a perfect hail of stones and other missiles.

Three of the trains managed to weather the storm, but the crews of the remaining three abandoned the cars and fled to the yards, bleeding from numerous wounds.
