Waterbury, N.Y., Nov. 17.—Allen H. Herrick, the oldest flour miller in Northern New York, and senior member of the firm of A. H. Herrick & Sons, proprietor of the Excelsior Mills, died last evening at his home No. 112 Main street, aged seventy-seven years.

Made a Selection. The committee of the congregation of Christ Church, Cataract, to whom was entrusted the duty of choosing three names of clergymen to be submitted to Bishop Mills, for him to select one to become rector, performed that task Saturday, and on Monday submitted the names to the bishop. Through three names were presented, the unanimous choice of the committee was centred on one—Archdeacon Worrell, incumbent of St. Mark's. The bishop desired to consult with Archdeacon Worrell before confirming the action of the committee.

The local license holders met Monday afternoon to discuss matters of importance pertaining to their business. The questions of doing away with the sale of five-cent whiskey and employing bar-tenders other than union men were up for discussion.

THE NEW NORTH

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF NORTH BAY.

The New Railway Rapidly Approaching The Town—Game Very Plentiful—Mineral and Coal in Abundance.

North Bay, Ont., Nov. 15.—(To the Editor): A visitor to the northern country now would not quickly realize the changes that have taken place during the past year, from the 1st of October, 1902, to the first of the month, in 1903. North Bay, from a sleepy little C.P.R. divisional town, has developed into a bustling industrial centre.

Before Christmas Day, 1903, the "Muskeg Limited" will have reached the sixtieth mile, the moose-hunting American sportsmen are now using the railroad instead of the long canoe route from the Ottawa river in order to reach the Indian hunting grounds at Temagami. The game are as plentiful as ever, but have to be sought further back from the railway line as the blasting caused by excavating has frightened them. Many fine specimens were dressed for shipment at the Temagami post-office last month.

The famous electric train, whose speed during the tests being held just outside of Berlin, has averaged 130 miles an hour.

agami post-office last month. Some of the smaller contractors, rendered desperate by the high prices of beef and pork, have been shooting at moose and out of season. The plenteous deer partridge this fall has kept the Italians (who board themselves) from the "Blacklegs" and also saved them deer kills.

The trial line party, under Bay, are thirty-one miles north of Halesbury in the strictly clay country, and have secured a tangent ten miles long with no grades and no curves. They have also explored the country further north and report deposits of nickel, copper and silver, and also large beds of a lower order of coal, and also lignite. They report also that the sands in some of the creek-beds would tempt a "Placer Miner" to stop and try them. So New Ontario may have for an asset a sterner attraction than the high prices of beef and pork, and have always had to play away from home. The final game may be played on Wednesday, December 2nd, provided the winner of the western clubs will consent.

McLennan Will Referee. Varsity and McGill have agreed to G. B. McLennan, of Queen's University, as referee for Saturday's game. Mr. McLennan is president of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union. The umpire has not been picked yet.

Con. Is Sorry. Con Millan, manager of the Limestone football club, says he is sorry the Brockville football team is out of the running for the championship, as he wanted his team to have another chance on neutral ground to show the people of Brockville what an inferior team they have. If the two teams ever come together again, the supporters of the local team will back the players heavily, feeling confident they can win easily from Brockville.

Much Improved. Kingston, Nov. 17.—(To the Editor): I was very much impressed last evening when I read that the police were having a house-cleaning. I was particularly struck with the remark, "something should be done to have this work done regularly. Well, what is to prevent the police from dusting the streets every week, and taking down the cobwebs? Do they want some one to visit them occasionally to see if they are clean? It is not a new official that is being suggested, surely! A man to drop in and tell them when they should draw their salary is quite as necessary as the official who will take a broom to clean up the cobwebs' decorations. It's fewer officials in place of more of them we want. Yours, TAXPAYER.

ENGINEERS UNSEATED.

Ousted By Trades And Labor Council.

Cleveland Exchange. A long wordy fight the delegates from the local lodge of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers were unseated by the United Trades and Labor council. The charter of the Amalgamated Society was revoked a year ago by the American Federation of Labor and because of the action lodge No. 233 of the international body of machinists petitioned the council to return the credentials of the delegates of the engineers. National officers of both bodies addressed the meeting and there was considerable discussion among the officers of the council, but the delegates were unseated by a vote of fifty to thirty-one.

The matter was called up by Delegate Reynolds from the machinists. Delegate Branlow of the printers, asked that the resolution be laid on the table until after the next meeting of the A.F.L. at Boston, thinking that perhaps the action of the executive committee of the A.F.L. might be over-ruled there. Many of the local members were not willing to lose the privilege of sending a delegate to Boston to keep the engineers in the local lodge. They were of the opinion that such action as was requested would lead to ruptures which might be detrimental to the local bodies and the local organizations, Isaac Cowen, international organizer of the engineers, and P. J. Conlon, first vice-president of the International Order of Machinists, addressed the meeting.

PRIEST FOUND

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE AND ITS SEQUEL.

He Was Seized, Bound, Chloroformed and Put in a Dark, Dismal Cell—When Released He Was Pushed Into Street.

New York, Nov. 17.—Rev. Father Joseph Cirrigione, rector of the Italian church of the Immaculate Conception in Williamsbridge, a suburb of this city, disappeared from his home under mysterious circumstances last Friday night, has been found. He was discovered by a policeman in East Fifty-first street, raving wildly in Italian, and is now in a hospital.

Father Cirrigione, when found, fell exhausted into the policeman's arms, crying out in fear that he was robbed and would be killed. His wrists bore marks as though they had been bound with rope.

He said two men, representing themselves as detectives, called at his home Friday, and asked him to accompany them to the police station. When but a few steps from the house they were seized, bound, and chloroformed him.

When he regained consciousness, Father Cirrigione says he was in a dark dismal cellar, with his wrists bound. He was led into the street blindfolded, and given a push. He had been liberated about fifteen minutes when found.

CANADIAN PROGRESS.

To Make a Conspicuous Exhibit At The World's Fair.

It is now conceded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis world's fair of 1904 will surpass anything which has been heretofore undertaken by the dominion. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of experts.

Canada, for years, has been plodding along quietly developing its strength and seemed rather small in the eyes of her neighbors to the south. Within the past two or three years, however, there is a change of aspect in the eyes of the public men and a change of tone in the American press. Our resources and possibilities are now competing with those of the United States.

While our neighbors have been almost dazed at this development in Manitoba, the great grain fields of millions and millions of acres in the North-West Territories have been opened and the influx of settlers, not only from the United States, but also from Great Britain and the continent, has come in earnestly only to raise to a greater estimation our resources and possibilities.

There is more. The great advantage of cattle raising, in the western part of the territories has led a great number of Americans to cast their lot and future welfare in those parts for the purpose of producing meat, which it is now admitted can be done as well as in their own country if not cheaper. Mr. Hutcheson, exposition commissioner at Ottawa, has requested all Canadian exhibitors to file their applications for space at Ottawa before December 1st. Let us show the universe that our country has achieved a position and status of which every Canadian has a good right to be proud of.

Depew On Marriage. Interview with Chauncey Depew. My belief, from observation, is that seventy-five out of 100 marriages are happy, and that not more than five out of that number are unhappy.

Apart from love itself there is a companionship in married life that draws closer and more beautiful as the years go by. During my last visit to Europe I met a distinguished man who expressed the deepest interest in our country.

"Why do you not visit us then?" I asked him, "if you have so kindly a feeling for America and the Americans?" "Because," he replied simply, "my wife could not stand the voyage, and I would not, for any personal or selfish reason, be responsible for one day's separation from her."

The couple had been married forty years.

The Congo Free State is making experiments with the cultivation of American cotton in Congo territory. It is also experimenting with the Egyptian and Peruvian article.

A. BUDD Endured the Agonies of Dyspepsia for 35 Years. A. Budd, Shanty Bay, Ont., writes as follows about the efficacy of the medicine that cured him: "After suffering from dyspepsia for thirty-five years, and meeting with many failures with other medicines, I decided to use Paine's Celery Compound, having heard of so many cures effected by it. The compound produced miraculous results and banished my troubles. From a condition of helplessness—being unable to sleep or eat—I now feel well and strong. I am astonished at the results, as my trouble was an old and chronic one. I have recommended Paine's Celery Compound to some of my neighbors, and in every case it has given satisfaction."
