PEOPLE VOTE

In January on an Important Measure.

SEEK CHANGE IN THE MODE OF ELECTING THE ALDERMEN.

By-Law to be Submitted to Electors For Their Approval—Aldermen Are Satisfied With The Scheme.

As provided by notice of motion at the previous meeting of city council, the first business taken up at last night's meeting of the council was consideration of Ald. Meek's by-law, providing for the election of aldermen by a vote of the entire electorate, thus cancelling the present peculiar ward system. The measure provides for a one-man one-vote system, electing twenty-one aldermen at large, instead of five from each ward. The by-law, if accepted by the ratepayers, must, by reason of provisions of an act of the Ontario legislature, remain in force five years.

Ald. Meek presented a strong argument in support of the by-law, and also pointed out some objections that might be raised against it.

The solicitor, writing me on November 17th, said he pointed out that the section of the municipal act provides that the council of every city shall consist of a mayor, and three aldermen for each ward. It provides, also, that the council of any city may, before November 1st in any year, pass a by-law reducing the number of aldermen for each ward to two, but such by-law, before its final passing, must receive the assent of the qualified electors. In the same letter, the solicitor stated that section seven-one (a) subsection five, provides that the council of a city having more than 15,000 population, may pass a by-law providing that the aldermen be elected by a general vote of the electors; and subsection six provides that such a by-law must, before it is finally passed, be submitted to and approved by the electors. Mr. McIntyre continued: "Reading these sections together, it is competent for the council to pass a by-law, providing for the election of aldermen by a general vote, submitting to the electors at the municipal elections. If accepted, it would be operative for the elections in January, 1905, but the number of aldermen would remain unchanged."

"I have information from two cities in which the election of the aldermen by two or three electors, and the experience in these two places is quite interesting. In Hamilton, in September, 1900, the people petitioned for the change in the system of election, and a by-law was passed to reduce the number of aldermen to five from the people in January, 1901. A gentleman in Hamilton (one quite competent to pass an opinion) writes me that it is too soon to pass judgment upon the new system. One of his advocates has not been realized. The personnel of the council has not been materially changed. The strong men—commercially, intellectually and financially—did not get in the council. They did not get in for election, and therefore they could not be elected. The people selected the best men that did offer. There is a political aspect to the election, but it is not new. It existed with the ward system, and in some places it will exist under any circumstances. It must be admitted, said my informant, that so far the civil government has not suffered by the dominance of politics, and by the conduct of municipal affairs on party lines. Those appointed to public office have been fairly good men."

"Stratford has tried the new system. I do not know how long—but the city is satisfied if the Daily Herald expresses positive sentiments. This paper says there is no desire to go back to the ward system. The change was calculated to do away with canvassing, so far as the aldermen are concerned, and this has been the result. The Herald recalls the fact that last year, some of those who headed the polls, did not canvass. 'Canvassing,' as it is termed, is dying out, and it is hard to comprehend how anyone should advocate its revival. The new system of civic representation can, the Herald remarks, be improved in two ways. (1) By more frequent plat-form meetings, and (2) by further reduction in the size of the council. But let us make no mistake and delude ourselves into thinking we will improve matters by getting into the ward system again."

In Ottawa a vote was taken on the proposition or principle a week ago, and with adverse results. Two objections only were urged against it. The first was that the people might as well have members of parliament elected by general vote, regardless of constituencies, or without reference to the boundaries of counties. The second was that the change would lead to racial and religious differences, that the principle might be all right elsewhere, but its application would be unfortunate in its effects in Ottawa. So, in the interest of peace and harmony, the ward system of representation was continued in Ottawa.

"I understand that the ward system had been abolished in London, so far as the representation of the city in the council is concerned. Now, I claim for the principle of general representation—the election of aldermen by the general vote of the city—several things:

(1) The aldermen will serve the city better as a whole than any small group ever has, when they are elected by a wider vision, a broader spirit, and a desire for the benefit and interest of all the people instead of only a few of them.

(2) The jealousy which are now apparent in regard to ward expenditures will disappear. The engineer will be made more directly, as the head of the works' department, officially, responsible for the condition of the streets and walks. He will be required to indicate the improvements that are called for from time to time, as the funds permit, and the council will deal with them on their merits and on their merits only.

(3) Every elector will have only one vote, but it will be for the twenty-one aldermen who constitute the council board.

(4) Canvassing for votes will be largely, if not entirely, done away with, and the elect will have the consciousness of knowing that they are the choice of the larger constituency, and such a choice ought to appeal to the noblest spirit in the community.

There are objections to the proposal of them: (1) A man, who is good representative of the ward, and who can be elected in it, may not be as well regarded in the election by a general vote of the city. I do not see much in that argument. It is advanced by one alderman in the Ottawa discussion, and answered by another who said that it was absurd to suppose that any public man, who is asked to stand for election, would not, in a small city at any rate, every elector. Stratford disposed of the objection in a similar way. (2) The several wards might not have as many aldermen in the council as at present, but it is a money matter, and considerable experience in the conducting of "Quiet Days," to conduct one for us; and he has kindly consented to come to us on Friday, Dec. 4th. There will, therefore, on that day, be a celebration of the holy communion in the cathedral, at 7:30 p.m. Morning prayer at 10 o'clock, followed by an address by the Bishop on "The Priesthood of Our Lord," 3 p.m., address by the Bishop of the "Paraclete," 5 p.m., evening prayer, 8 p.m., address, "The Mission of Israel."

To meet general conveniences the half-yearly meetings of committees would be held on a week end, and immediate reference to the council. This Lordship's call will be generally answered, is a cause for gratification. The people look to the clergy for leadership in the spiritual life, and the spiritual life of the city can best be enhanced by frequent meetings such as this.

BOTH FEEL

What Proper Food Does For Both Mind And Body.

Physical health, mental health, indeed almost everything good in this earth depends in great measure upon proper food.

Without health nothing is worth while and health can be won almost every time by proper feeding on the scientific food Grape-Nuts.

A California trained nurse proved this. "Three years ago I was taken very sick, my work as a trained nurse having worn me out both in body and mind, and medicine failed to relieve me at all. After seeing a number of physicians and specialists and getting no relief I was very much discouraged and felt that I would die. I had never heard of Grape-Nuts and I had never imagined food would help me but on the advice of a friend I tried Grape-Nuts. The first package brought me relief and the second I felt much better. I quit the medicine and used Grape-Nuts steadily three times a day. The result was that within six months I had so completely regained my strength and health that I was back nursing again and I feel the improvement in my brain power just as plainly as I do in physical strength.

"After my own wonderful experience with Grape-Nuts I have recommended it to my patients with splendid success and it has worked wonderfully in the case of many invalids whom I have attended professionally." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

POOR RELIEF YEAR JUST PAST VERY SATISFACTORY.

Forty-Two Cases Helped During Year—Miss Holt Takes Treasury—A Good Balance On Hand.

The annual meeting of the City Poor Relief held on Monday afternoon, which representative and influential, was presided over by the Mayor and present were the Dean of Ontario, Mrs. Richmond, Miss Mackenzie, Miss Mackenzie, Miss Helen Fraser, Miss Alice Choyin, Miss Holt and Mr. McCallum.

The report of the corresponding secretary, Miss Mackenzie, was very satisfactory. Fewer cases had needed assistance during the year. Fuel had been given regularly in forty-two cases to the aged and infirm, widows, and children, where the father is incapacitated. The children of Wellington street school received acknowledgment for gifts of vegetables, etc., at Christmas, and Miss Alice Choyin's assistance was also gratefully mentioned.

The former treasurer, Mrs. Mackenzie, reported that she had received her report: Receipts, $573.58; disbursements, $501.19; balance, $72.39.

The election of officers was then proceeded with. The former officers were re-elected, with the exception of Mrs. Macdonnell, who refused to continue in office, and Mrs. McLossie, who will be out of town this winter. The official record was read by Mrs. Macdonnell; vice-presidents, Mesdames Mackenzie, Richmond, and Duff; corresponding secretary, Miss Mackenzie; recording secretary, Miss Helen Fraser; treasurer, Miss Holt; executive committee, Mesdames Robertson, W. Skinner, Macdonnell, Tandy, Jordan, Livingston, Oliver, Porteous, C. Livingston, Oberdorfer, and the Misses de St. Remy, Meadows, Fairlie, Robertson and Betts, with power to add to their number. After some discussion over the appointment of the ward collectors, and a few words of congratulation from the Mayor, the meeting adjourned. The committee will meet weekly in the Y.W.C.A. rooms.

A QUIET DAY.

A Pastoral Issued By The Bishop.

The Bishop of Ontario, in a pastoral to the clergy, says:

"The 'Quiet Day' held last year seemed to be much appreciated by the clergy generally, and to have been helpful to the laity. Some of the things asked me if it might not be made an annual affair. I mentioned this, in my Charge to Synod last June, and having asked for an extension of the 'Quiet Day' to the clergy, I was gratified to find that it was the wish of the clergy to have the spiritual help which such a day might afford. I have, therefore, invited the 'Lord Bishop' of Huron, who has had considerable experience in the conducting of 'Quiet Days,' to conduct one for us; and he has kindly consented to come to us on Friday, Dec. 4th. There will, therefore, on that day, be a celebration of the holy communion in the cathedral, at 7:30 p.m. Morning prayer at 10 o'clock, followed by an address by the Bishop on 'The Priesthood of Our Lord,' 3 p.m., address by the Bishop of the 'Paraclete,' 5 p.m., evening prayer, 8 p.m., address, 'The Mission of Israel.'"

To meet general conveniences the half-yearly meetings of committees would be held on a week end, and immediate reference to the council. This Lordship's call will be generally answered, is a cause for gratification. The people look to the clergy for leadership in the spiritual life, and the spiritual life of the city can best be enhanced by frequent meetings such as this.

Is Suggested By City Solicitor McIntyre.

At last night's meeting of council, the city solicitor presented a report upon the recent Macpherson case, which the city lost $300 by the award of the court. The solicitor went carefully into the details of the suit, and concluded by offering the following suggestions:

(1) When any communication is received hinting at an accident on the streets, it should be handled to me, not that I may at one set on foot enquiries and protect the city's interests by a prompt settlement, if deemed advisable.

(2) I think it would be advisable to have a small claims committee vested with full authority to adjust and pay claims for accidents on streets. I think the city might well take a leaf out of the book of the great railway companies, whose claims agent is on hand as soon as the relief train after every smash up on the line, and gives with full authority to settle claims. When Alderman McLeod and I advised the council to issue a check for $1000 on the late Mrs. Macpherson, the amount at once we would have done so and nothing further would have been heard of the matter, and a suit would never have happened. I don't think such a committee need be larger than the chairman of the board of works and myself.

The matter will be considered by the finance committee.

In this connection, Mayor Bell said that the first intimation he had from the police school, was a private letter Col. Macpherson was a private letter in which the writer stated that he desired to deny a report that he intended suing the city. Evidently he later changed his mind.

E. W. BATEMAN DEAD.

He Passed Away This Morning At Deseronto.

E. W. Rathbun, ex-mayor of Deseronto, died suddenly this morning. He had been in failing health for some time and had constantly been under the care of doctors and nurses. Two years ago a cardiac affection manifested itself and he suffered quite severely at times, the final attack culminating in death to-day.

His eldest son, F. Walter Rathbun, is acting general manager of the company with Harold Rathbun as assistant. Twice married the deceased is survived by seven children. One is Mrs. C. A. Mastin, Toronto. He also leaves three brothers, F. S., H. B. and W. C. B. Rathbun, and three sisters, Mrs. R. J. Craig, Kingston; Mrs. Hindhaugh, Oswego, and Mrs. V. W. Powell, Ottawa. He was a man of large view, ready apprehension and keen financial ability. He was connected in scores of enterprises, lumbering, railroading, cement and charcoal making, etc. He was a Presbyterian, an independent liberal and associated with many societies, colleges and charitable institutions.

Edward Wilkes Rathbun was the oldest son of the late Hugo Rathbun, founder of Deseronto, his mother being Louise Storm. He was born at Auburn, N.Y., in 1842, educated in New York, received his business training with Storm, Smith and company, East India merchants, in that city, and in 1861, joined his father in the lumber business in Deseronto. He took charge of the business under the firm name of H. B. Rathbun & Co., which in 1883, became by act of parliament, the 'Rathbun Company' of which company he was president. He was also president of the Bay of Quinte Railway company, and has been included in the royal commission appointed to examine and report upon the forests of Canada. Politically, he was an independent, and in religion a Presbyterian. His first wife was Miss Elizabeth Burt, Auburn, N.Y., and his second wife, Bunnella, daughter of the late Hon. John McMurrich, Toronto.

Mr. Rathbun was a trustee of Queen's University, and also a governor of the School of Mining of which he was one of the founders. He took a great interest in educational matters. His last appearance at Queen's was at the formal opening of the new Kingston arts' building, at which ceremony he delivered a short address.

Deceased's son, H. B. Rathbun, who is secretary of the Canadian Cement company, a branch of the Rathbun business, is a graduate of the Royal Military College.

Mr. Rathbun was evidently in fair health on Monday as he wrote a letter to his brother-in-law, R. J. Craig, this city.

Barbarous Surgical Operation

For The Cure Of Piles.

It is not only intensely painful, but dangerous to life and very expensive, but in the light of modern medical research, and since the discovery of the Pyramid Pile Cure, wholly unnecessary. If you have any doubts on point kindly read the following letter from one who knows that the claims regarding the merits of the Pyramid Pile Cure are borne out by facts.

"For a long time I suffered with blind piles. They gave me so much pain and uneasiness that they almost disqualified me for doing anything. I saw an ad in the Atlanta Journal of a Pyramid Pile Cure, and ordered a box. I used them three days and I felt relief; that encouraged me and I bought another 50c. box and they cured me. Oh how glad that I am well again!"

"The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists, for 50c. a package, and its merit is so well known that the sales exceed those of all similar remedies combined."

Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the causes and cure of piles, which is sent free for the asking.

Hired Horses And Rigs.

The police on Sunday received messages from Napanea and Deseronto asking them to be on the look out for a woman who had red rings and failed to return them. Thursday she secured a horse and buggy at Napanea and on Friday turned up at Deseronto and hired a similar outfit, saying she wanted to drive to Sharnonville. Saturday a woman arrived at Belleville with a horse and buggy and had the outfit placed in the week at a hotel, where it remained until Monday, when Mr. Galt, Deseronto, identified it as his property. The Napanea outfit has not been recovered. Who the woman is or where she comes from is not known, as she gave different names and different places of residence.
