MISTRESS OF SEAS.

Measure to Spend $2,750,000,000 For Warships. Washington, Nov. 30.—Former Commander Richmond Pearson Hobson, of the navy, has prepared a bill which he has requested Representative Wiley, of Alabama, to introduce in the house on the convening of the regular session of congress for the purpose, as he says, of making the United States the first naval power of the world during the next eighteen years. The bill makes a total appropriation of $2,750,000,000, a portion of which is to be used each year for new ships. Fifty million is made available for the present fiscal year, $60,000,000 for the next year, and so on, increasing by $10,000,000 each year up to 1915, when a lump sum of $1,500,000,000 is made to carry on the programme to 1925.

Whyne Insurance Suit. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 30.—A suit that may develop into a second Hillman insurance case came up for trial before Judge Gordon. The suit is that of the Fidelity Trust Co., as executor of Robert C. Whyne, against the Prudential Life Assurance Society of New York, to enforce the collection of a policy for $76,000 held by Mr. Whyne. Mr. Whyne was found dead near his home in Beechmont shortly after he had started out hunting. The insurance company contends that he committed suicide, while his executor maintains that his death was accidental. The deceased carried an unusually large insurance on his life. Following the present suit will come the trial of the case brought by Mr. Whyne's executors against the Equitable Life Assurance company to enforce the collection of a $150,000 policy.

RUSSIA IS ANXIOUS TO BUY SHIPS.

Which Were Built For Chili And Not Used—Disaffection Among The Working Classes in Kiel—There is Trouble in Japan—A Jewess' Offence.

London, Nov. 30.—Disquieting reports in regard to the health of Emperor William continue. The wound produced by the operation on the emperor's throat is in semi-official language, slower to heal than was hoped for and its place upon the vocal chord renders it liable to constant irritation. The Newcastle correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that Russia has offered negotiations for the purchase of two battleships that were built for the Chilean government, but which were not required after Chile's differences with Argentina were settled by arbitration. A fruitless Jewess has just been compelled to pay £200 for jilting a bicycle dealer, Constant Van der Pergh courted Frank Knight assiduously against her father's will, the bicycle dealer's wrath not being sufficient in her rich parent's eyes. Frank even declared that he would willingly marry the girl in a synagogue, but the father still refused to give his consent. Constance then wrote to Frank, declaring that they must elope. Shortly afterwards she married a man of her own faith and offered Frank the sole excuse that she did so because she was afraid that her mother might have an apoplectic fit if she remained true to her Christian love.

The Sultan of Turkey learning that a great majority of cosmetics and pomades were mixed with pork and lard, immediately put the royal prohibition upon the sale of such impurities and invoked the command of the Koran, bidding the faithful to abjure all things appertaining to the pig. The manufacturers of soap and other toilet articles were notified that only such of these articles as were exempt from all suspicion would be acceptable. Russian correspondents of the Times say disturbances are reported in all the Russian provinces of Armenia. Conflicts are taking place everywhere between the peasantry and the nobles. The chief cause is the decree which handed over the church property to the government. The general policy of Russification is also a factor. Civilization and neutral institutions like schools, libraries and charities are persecuted because they are Armenian.

The Moscow correspondent of the Times reports alarming dissatisfaction among the working classes at Kiel. The police force has been largely increased and the majority threatens the summary punishment of persons circulating rumors likely to accentuate apprehension among the inhabitants.

The Times' Tokio special says: The progress of events indicate a coalition of some of the conservative and the progressive, the probable result of which will be strong opposition in the diet to the cabinet unless the latter shows that progress has been made in the negotiations with Russia.

MARRIAGE THAT FAILED.

Interesting Lawsuit Between Wife And Husband. London, Ont., Nov. 30.—Annie Stinson, of the township of Mosa, is suing her husband, Andrew John Stinson, for the possession of a farm which he bought from her before they were married and which he agreed to give her if she acted in a dutiful manner towards him. She alleges that she was driven from home, and that her husband accused her of intimacy with other men. She asks alimony and that the title of the farm be made over to her name, as was provided in the marriage agreement. She denies that she was anything but a dutiful wife to him. Stinson claims that he was assaulted by his stepson, and that he was forced to build a house to live in. He also says that he was injured by his wife's medical attendants, and states that he is ready to take his wife back to live with him. The case will be tried at the high court sittings.

YANKEEDOM

May Usurp Sovereignty of American Territories

THEN, LIKE ROME

SHE SHALL TOTTER TO HER FALL.

So Muses The National Zeitung—Imperialist Idea Involves Reconstruction of The Union—Will Need Legions and Ships of War.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—The National Zeitung anticipates that the Central American states will be all absorbed by their great northern neighbor, the United States, or fall under its influence. It wonders if Mexico and South America in general will be able to escape this fate. The opinion is expressed that "Yankeeism" would reach the limits of its possibilities when it has usurped the sovereignty of the American continent just as the Roman Empire ceased to exist when the Romans became "The Lords of the World."

"Possibly" the paper suggests, "The United States may reach the limits of her possible achievements before she can attain an object so remote."

The article continues: "The imperialist idea necessarily involves a reconstruction of the union. A federation of states is not capable of unlimited extension, nor can it exercise dominion over territories, the extent of which exceeds its own. The United States, henceforth, will need legions and ships of war on both oceans. With militation, a new element will be introduced in a republic, hitherto exclusively civilian. The imperialists now see only the obverse of the medal, and it is to be hoped that the reverse may be shown them after it is too late. Human things have their limitations."

Toronto, Nov. 30.—A Globe Ottawa special says that when questioned regarding Fairbank's charge that he had neglected to answer a letter written by the senator, suggesting a meeting of the joint high commission, Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied: "I never received any letter from Senator Fairbanks' since March last; his suggestion that the joint high commission should meet was replied to without delay."

This, the despatch adds, was all Sir Wilfrid would say, nor did he take any notice of the suggestion that he left connected with the institution as a professor since its foundation in 1877, died at midnight from apoplexy, having been stricken last Tuesday night. He was sixty-one years of age.
