THE SCIENTISTS. HAVE A GREAT MEETING IN ST. LOUIS.

The Gathering Will Last For a Week—A Few Men Alive Who Were With the Society at Its Introduction.

PROF. I. C. RUSSELL. Chairman of the Association. St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28.—Scientists from all parts of the country—representing chemical, geological, mathematical, engineering, botanical, microscopical, astronomical, psychological and kindred societies—gathered in the central high school building of this city to-day to attend the forty-third annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science was practically founded in 1848 at Philadelphia.

The first suggestion of the idea of an association was contained in a letter written by Prof. Hitchcock, of Amherst College, to his friend Prof. Henry D. Rogers, of Philadelphia.

Most men never think of what's responsible for a well-cooked dinner, served right on time—until it "happens" the other way.

Good food makes good fires, fires that can be depended on to heat your oven to just the temperature you need.

Good fuel keeps the pot boiling—keeps the domestic affairs running smoothly.

Speaking of reliability, you can depend on us to deliver your coal, wood or kindlings just when you want it.

And it will be as good fuel as money can buy.

We'll fill your next order in shipshape style, if you'll let us.
