Good Road To The North-Cheap Traffic Might Be Secured -Railroads Have a Monopoly. Township of Kingston, Dec. 30 .- (To the Editor): Now that municipal home-keeping for 1904 is under consideration in the county, can nothing be done for that prime factor in a progressive policy, namely good roads? If the county would lav out a new line of road by as short a route as practicable from Vennachar, in the township of Denligh, to Kingston, and construct it so that a steam tram or automobile could run over it at twelve miles an hour, it would prove a good investment by raising the value of land throughout the county, giving facilities for dairy industry, reducing the cost of supplies now extortionately increased by the railway and enabling farmers to get a fair re turn for produce now taxed out of all reason by railway freights. The passenger traffic of the county pays a first-class rate for third-class accommodation. The farmers in the town ships north of Sharbot Lake have no market-day advantages like those south of the lake, although as heavily -taxed as any for the enormous bonus given to build the railway. The liberal provision made by the provincial government in aid of county roads should not be allowed to lie idle. With road-making machinery and material of the best for AT SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE_ road-making, there is no reason why Good to a new era of prosperity by the construction of a great county line from ten to twenty miles west of the AT FIRST-CLAST FARE AND ONE-Kingston city took an interest in K. & P. railway. FASHION'S FORM

A Pretty White Blouse For

The blouses this winter are prettier and daintier than ever, and made of soft, filmy silks, gauzes and wash fabrics. The above design is most attractive made in white pongee, which launders beautifully and makes the blouse very practical. The squares of lace should be selected with the object in view of laundering. These Chicago Tribune squares can be bought separately, but as a rule are cheaper to buy by the yard and cut apart.

In making the blouse, first a deep voke should be finely tucked. The tops of the sleeves are done in the same way. The squares are then fitted on like in the illustration, and the fabric cut from beneath them. "It requires three and a half yards of the fabric and three dozen squares to make the
