SUNLIGHT SOAP

We have used "Sunlight Soap," and we want to tell you that it is the best soap made, that's why we are writing. We found out that the Sunlight way is the best way to wash with "Sunlight Scap." At first we used to wash with Sunlight Soap in the old way as we did with common soap, but after we washed according to directions printed on the package, we would never wash the old way again. We first soap the articles, leave them to soak and then rub out lightly on the wash board. Not much to do and it makes the clothes white as snow.

"CLINICS" IN TORONTO.

One of the Scientific Phrases That Sound The hospital doctors complain of a lack of "clinical material" in Toron-This is one of the scientific phrases that sound innocent. Som of us have been "clinical material. Teachers are quite content to ictures for illustrations. Some preachers get along very nicely with limelight views. Why cannot the doctors experiment with a few wax works? Still, if a patient gets a fre cot, it is, perhaps, his duty to medical science by becoming an ject lesson in clinics. If so, he should also get reasonably decent treatment by the nurses. After all, that is a shade better than the dissecting room. It also illustrates, quite aptly the curious brotherhood of the race. A poor man compelled to take the public ward is subject to same ailments as the man down stairs, who has a suite of rooms and a special nurse. The pauper whose the second year in medicine has pre cisely the same nerves and muscles as the magnate who rides past the dis secting room in a two thousand dol lar automobile.-Toronto News.

LATE SIR J. G. BOURINOT'S POST HUMOUS WORK ON LORD ELGIN.

Understood Self-Government and Did Not Shrink From Giving It Its Way-The Times and the Man-Free Criticism of Many of the Notable Men Who Came to the Front in Lord Elgin's Time,

> The Times and the Man. Of the social, political and commercial conditions in Upper and Lower Canada when Elgin came a good account is given. An understanding of them serves to explain much of the difficulty of the Governor-General. Britain's adoption of free trade meant loss of a preferential market. The navigation laws excluded the merchantmen of other countries. Racial feeling ran high at times. There were still rebellion ani- et mosities. Sir John Bourinot can make allowance for the slowness of British statesmen to grasp the meaning of the change for which the Act of Union prepared, and can understand their apprehensions, but he can see only selfish partyism in the Canadian Tories who opposed the Baldwin-Lafontaine Administration. He blames them as much for the excitement of 1849 as he does Mackenzie and Papineau for the Rebellion of 1837. Papineau he regards as a man with no idea of the principles of Parliamentary Government Of Sir Francis Hincks he says that impartial history must credit his enterprise and financial talent with good service to the country, John Bourinot's.
