-General Capital Tidings. Ottawa, Jan. 19 .- The Ottawa University authorities have issued their pamphlet in appeal to the public for aid in the re-construction of the buildings recently destroyed by fire. The pamphlet gives a complete history of the fire and the circumstances surrounding it, and says that the future of the university depends largely on what its friends can do for it within a reasonable time. It points out that the university was built up for more then fifty years by sacrifice and untiring energy until it has reached a draw closer the bonds of fraternal feel- * session, and trust to be en- * who invented the steam engine. The governments of Ontario and the Dominion have come, to an understanding in regard to the regulations to be enforced for the protection of ish in Ontario. It is now probable that the dominion will shortly issue new regulations limiting the number and fixing the legal size and weight of fish to be taken by sportsmen, and extending the close season for those fish that seem to require it. It is also understood that the netting of black bass will in future be strictly prohibited, and that for three or four years the exportation of black bass or trout from the province will be prohibited.
