THE DAILY WHIG

Typoid Fever Cases

Waterloo is still under the strain of a typhoid fever epidemic. The Standard has a reasonable suggestion to offer. It is that every case should be investigated, and that there should be an effort to locate the fact: Is his in one of four places—the house in which the patient lives, the shop or store in which he works, the well or reservoir from which the water is drawn, and the dairy which supplies the milk.

PROVIDING PURE ICE

There is no occasion for any alarm in connection with the ice which is now being cut for domestic purposes. For years it has been the custom of one man to dump the cut into the "well" or open space outside the place of storage.

REFORMING THE ARMY

The war office will soon be a thing of the past, and be remembered only as something which existed at a certain time, which had a certain indefinite connection with the wars of the period, and ceased to be when John Bull began to think about it.

THE MAGAZINES

The February Review of Reviews is a triumph in monthly journalism. The far eastern crisis and its bearings on trade interests are editorially discussed. "Korea as the Prize of War" is an illustrated article of great value by Hon. J. Sloat Bassett.

Abdominal Supports

Elastic woven or whale-boned; light and comfortable; may be washed without injury. Abdominal Warmers, Riding Belts, Health Bands and Trusses of all descriptions.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY

Local Notes, and Also Things in General

No one can now steal the street railway company's tracks.

The horseless carriage, and smokeless powder and the keyless watch are all right, but hang the engines here.

The Boechevove hockey team did not arrive home till seven o'clock this morning.

The dear people who have been so long sighing for "the good old days" ought certainly to be well satisfied with this old-fashioned winter.

Carbolic vaseline, 5c. and 10c.; glycerine and rose water, 5c. and 10c.

A number of friends of Miss Ethel Reynolds "dropped in" last evening and surprised her.

Dr. Knight's official report to the meteorological office gives Kingston's lowest temperature in January as 28 degrees below zero.

Since the street cars ceased running, Princess street has been cleared of 9 p.m. At that hour the merchants blow out their candles and go home.

The curfew is not needed.

Lord Roberts succeeded to the command of the army, and the nation paused to see what he would do.

He has been silent, perhaps discreetly so. The fact, however, that his office is to be abolished, that the direction of military matters is to be put under the direction of a managing committee of which the premier is a member, indicates that no substantial reform has so far been made, and none can be made under the present circumstances.

The recommendations have passed the king and been sent to the government for its consideration, and it will likely act at once in order to pacify public opinion and meet its demands for immediate and effective reforms.

The Montreal Gazette admits that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's personality has cost the conservatives many votes.

Its hope is that the party will talk politics for a change and in that way break the spell. It cannot be done.

GRAZED WITH LOVE

Beautiful Woman Makes Known Love For a Clergyman

New York, Feb. 6.—A wealthy woman of about fifty years has been driven insane by unrequited love for Rev. John Harris Knowles, Canon of the Protestant Episcopal church on Seventh avenue and Thirty-ninth street, New York.

THE NURSES' DINING-ROOM

Is Opened, and Is Cozy and Well Furnished

At last the nurses at the General Hospital have a pleasant place to gather in at meal-time—a place where they can rest their minds a bit as well as feed their bodies.

THE LIGHT THAT FAILED

The sale of seats and boxes will open Monday morning for Wednesday evening.

William Bonelli and Rose Stahl are underlined for Monday next at the Grand Opera House.

"A Man of the World."

His Death Deeply Deplored.

Seldom has more apparent public feeling been shown than over the death of Sandy Hook, Connecticut.

Dr. J. W. Gordon, a popular practitioner, and very active citizen and public worker.

He came of an intellectual and prominent Scottish family. In 1900 he was married to Louisa Telgmann, third daughter of Dr. Jens Ferdinand Telgmann, of Kingston, who was sent by the German government to Canada to superintend a settlement there.

On the maternal side Mrs. Gordon is a great-granddaughter of Johan Jacob Leonard, who served as minister of war in Germany. One daughter, Margaret Dorcas Leonard Gordon, survives to mourn with her mother.

The Ancient Order of Foresters attended the funeral and solemn high requiem sung by a quartette from Bridgeport.
