London, Feb. 9.-War in the far east has definitely begun. Japan regarded From Metropolitan Stock Exchange. the withdrawal of all her diplomatic !, representatives from Russia, of which she notified St. Detersburg, Friday evening, as being equivalent to a formal declaration of war. She then waited forty-eight hours before making a evening, she sent her warships to sea with orders to attack the Russian flag wherever found. It is believed at the Japanese legation here that first blow has already been struck Although there is no definite inform ation on the subject. It was reported, to-day, from Paris, and one or two other points, that a faint hope remained that war might be averted, and it was asserted that M. Delcasse, the French foreign minter, with the moral support of two or three of the powers, was making last strenuous effort, both at St Petersburg and Tokio to save the situation. The Japanese authorities have openly declared that an attemp at intervention would be absolutely hopeless a state of war already existing. She will probably regularize the the powers that a state of war exists as was the case between the United States and Spain. The feature of the situation that is attracting most attention in diplomatic circles is the apparent drifting apart of Russia and France in the present crisis. It is noticed that Russian interests at Tokio, upon th withdrawal of the British moveme were not entrusted to the French, but to the Austrian legation, whereas Japanese interests at St. Petersburg, were left in the hands of the British

Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, has informed the Associated Press that military steps contemplated by Japan for the preservation of its interests in the far east already have commenced. The minister was careful to point out, however, that this does not mean actual hostilities, but strategic action through putting Japanese troops into Corea and Manchuria. This, he states is now in progress, Baron Hayashi calculates that forces adequate to any emergency will have been full disembarked within two or three days. He regards the breaking off of negotiations as tantamount to war, and does not look for any form al declaration. The minister reiterates the statement that the Russian reply was not delivered, and declares his belief to be that it never was sent. A special despatch from Berlin says:

A strong fleet of Japanese warships is reported to be on its way to Che mulpo, Corea. The report that several Russian merchant ships have been captured by Japanese warships has reached the Japanese legation here. The report is discredited at the legation, and it lacks confirmation.
