REVELATIONS

IN CONNECTION WITH DENVER ELECTION FRAUDS.

Shafroth Congressional Contest Shows Irregularities That Put to Blush Mere Men Vote Manipulators—The Work of Women.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Denver, Colo., is the only large city in the United States where all women over twenty-one years can vote for representatives in congress.

It was the representative for the Denver district, John F. Shafroth, who arose in his seat in representative hall last Monday, and made the startling announcement that he was satisfied gross frauds had been perpetrated at the Denver poll last election day, of which he was unwittingly a beneficiary.

Shafroth's case, however, is not a mere case of a woman voter, "I hope the country won't get a wrong idea. It is only in the 'red light' precincts that the women are accused of frauds.

Now," said a Colorado woman voter, "I hope the country won't get a wrong idea. It is only in the 'red light' precincts that the women are accused of frauds.

London, Feb. 22.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph mentions a report that, despite official assurance that everything is quiet, an outpost engagement has occurred on the Yalu river, resulting in the Russian advance guards being driven back.

The losses are estimated at 2,500. It is not clear whether this figure means those who fell on the Yalu or the entire Russian losses since the commencement of the war.

There have been days ugly rumors of Russian mishaps on land. There are also rumors of the czar's extreme displeasure at the incidents of the night torpedo attack on the ships at Port Arthur.

It appears that the czar has ordered a full enquiry. It is believed in St. Petersburg that on the night in question, the entire staff officers were celebrating the birthday of Madame Stark, wife of Admiral Stark.

The Times Tokyo correspondent says that, at noon, on Sunday, a direct message from Emperor William to the Empress of Japan was received placing the German naval hospitals at Yokohama and Kiao Chiao at the disposal of the Japanese wounded.

The action of the emperor is much appreciated in Japan.

The Times Tokyo special says: The Vladivostok squadron seems to have left port again. The ships are reported to be seeking to sever the Japanese cables. The indications are that the Russians beyond the Yalu river do not intend to make an immediate offensive move into Korea, but prefer to continue scouting operations.

Yokohama has accepted the portfolio of home affairs which has been vacant for some time. The emperor has instructed Count Inouye to discharge the duties of his adviser, thus giving him direct access to the sovereign.

To Cope With Discontent. St. Petersburg, Feb. 22.—The official classes are discussing reports of the internal condition of Russia which is causing the government anxiety. It is stated that the czar has summoned the provincial governors to St. Petersburg, to devise strong measures for coping with the manifestations of discontent.

There is no master mind at present to conduct affairs. The despatch of troops to the far east is being complicated by the transportation of medical appliances and war material. There are alarming reports of the embolment of large sums of money allotted for the victualing of Port Arthur and for providing the troops with ammunition and materials.

An imperial decree appoints Grand Duke Michael, president of a commission to arrange for the construction of the Asiatic cruiser squadron in being mobilized at Shanghai.

A Small Force. Paris, Feb. 22.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Temps claims that the Russian army in the far east does not exceed 70,000. Fervent efforts are being made to draft heavy reinforcements to the front but even the war office does not expect to get them there before three months.

The Matin publishes a despatch from St. Petersburg which says the czar's autograph letter to the czar ordered him the services of the German Red Cross Society and was identical with a letter sent to the Empress of Japan. Irritation is said to be growing in St. Petersburg against what is considered false news published in the British newspapers.

Nations Must Help China. New York, Feb. 22.—"Although no one in authority here will say that the Asiatic cruiser squadron is being mobilized at Shanghai," says the Washington correspondent of the Herald, "because of the report that a Chinese squadron is going to drive the Russian cruiser Manjur out of the harbor, it is understood this may have something to do with the direction of American naval activity in the far east. It is believed here that the action of China, if she demands the Russian cruiser's withdrawal will have to be supported by the powers, most of whom have warships at Shanghai. It is claimed that other nations are bound to help China maintain her neutrality if she finds she cannot do so herself."

THE RUSSIANS WERE HONORING A LADY.

It is Stated That The Russian Army in Far East Does Not Exceed 70,000—Fervent Condition Over the Despatch of Troops and Materials—The Kaiser's Orders.

THE MANDJUR.

Russian Gunboat Ordered To Leave Shanghai.

Shanghai, Feb. 22.—Last evening the Shanghai Tactel, acting on representations of the Japanese consul, formally demanded that the Russian gunboat Mandjur leave Shanghai within twenty-four hours.

The Russian consul replied that he was unable to comply with instructions from the minister at Peking, which he was requesting by telegraph. He was reminded that the Mandjur was here in virtue of an arrangement approved by the Chinese government, that the vessel be considered a non-combatant, and stationary during the war, and said he was not aware that the government had modified its decision.

On the other hand the Japanese maintain that the presence of the Russian warship in a neutral port is injurious to the re-establishment of the regular merchant service.

The Russian consul is arranging to send to Odessa the refugees from Chemulpo and Port Arthur.

China's Neutrality Temporary. New York, Feb. 22.—The Chinese minister here, says a cable to the World from Berlin, with an orientation that has been entirely foreign to him, has proclaimed that China's neutrality is only temporary, that no one, even the atavist diplomats, can tell what change a day will bring forth in China's attitude.

Says the Chinese minister in a public interview: It should never be forgotten that the war will be fought out in Manchuria on Chinese territory and that the excitement of the Chinese people will increase as the war progresses.

Natural, therefore, the Chinese government may be expected on any one day to decide that its continued neutrality is neither possible nor desirable.

Thirty thousand well-drilled Chinese troops are stationed in the provinces at Chi-li, ready at a moment's notice to march into Manchuria. Our nation admires the Japanese, and sympathizes decidedly with their efforts.

What is Expected. London, Feb. 22.—The Japanese minister here, Baron Hayashi, has not been killed in an outpost engagement at the Yalu River. He says there is no Japanese force in that vicinity large enough to inflict a loss.

The only naval engagement at the Yalu is expected in the near future is a possible attack on the Japanese fleet by the powerful Russian torpedo flotilla at Port Arthur and hitherto untried operations against the Russian Vladivostok squadron.

The Japanese minister does not look for developments at present, believing that Admiral Togo will be satisfied to keep the disabled Russian squadron prisoners at Port Arthur. The minister credits the Russians with having only 100,000 troops in Manchuria.

Latest advice of Baron Hayashi lead him to believe the Japanese troops may now wait in working order, before undertaking aggressive operations in Manchuria.

Hanged Japanese. St. Petersburg, Feb. 22.—A despatch from Halifax, dated February 20th, says the railroad is in working order. The Japanese who attempted to blow up the bridge over the Sungari river have been hanged. Bands of bandits have been observed under Japanese leadership and are being suppressed. Almost all the civilian inhabitants of Harbin have left and the remainder of the population is quiet.

Cruelty To Refugees. Tokio, Feb. 22.—Popular indignation is aroused as the facts of the ill-treatment of the Japanese in Manchuria, and the refugees now at Chefoo become known. These refugees declare that the Russian authorities compelled them to go to Port Arthur in order to intentionally expose them to danger. The Chinese in the Liao-Tung Peninsula are showing demonstrative friendship for the Japanese.

Presented To Mikado. London, Feb. 22.—A despatch sent yesterday from Tokio, to the Daily Express says that at Chinda Castle, the mikado received Captain Yamamoto, one of the officers of the squadron which sank the Russian warships Vainig and Koreitz at Chemulpo. He brought the flags of the Russian ships and presented them to the mikado.

Would Mediate. Paris, Feb. 22.—The Petit Parisien's London correspondent says that during an interview preceding the departure from London for St. Petersburg, the Russian ambassador, Lord Lansdowne, the British foreign minister, intimated to him that King Edward was willing to offer his mediation in the war in the far east if the czar thought he could accept it.

Like French Canadians. London, Feb. 22.—The Times, referring to the conciliatory work of the progressive party in Cape Colony, says the Dutch are now able to play the same equal part freely and loyally taken in the great dominion by the French-Canadians in Quebec.
