Trees In The Northwest.

A. P. Stevenson, Nelson, Man., before the committee on agriculture and colonization in Ottawa, gave an interesting account of the tree planting experiments which have been carried on under the department of the inter ior for several vents. He reported an awakening of interest among the far mers upon this important subject and general success when the instructions of the department with regard to planting and cultivation of forest trees are followed. The government is sup plying every farmer who takes the trouble to properly prepare the ground, with 1,300 trees, sufficient to plant half an acre. Clever Styles Walking

The clever new shapes and ideas in Walking Suits brought out for this season have created a demand for these sensible costumes. Everything fortells their great popularity. This is largely due to the fact that the New Walking Shapes, if necessary can be made to answer for the Dress Suit on so many occasions, as they combine many of the style features of the latter. The skirts are made just to escape the ground and have given the designers the opportunity of imparting to these models all the grace and style of the long skirts, at the same time retaining every desirable feature of the short skirt.
