Starting Spring's Work.
Breuer's Mills. April 26.—Sugar-making is over, and farmers have started their spring's work. W. L. Breuer is engaged as milk drawer for Cold Spring cheese factory. D. Murphy is improving the appearance of his dwelling by the addition of new windows and veranda, under the management of Mr. Stoney, Sudbury. Miss Lulu Todd is preparing some of her pupils for entrance. D. Murphy has recovered after a severe attack of grippe. G. Murphy, Sr., is on the sick list.

MEN SENTENCED
BAR CLOSING TROUBLERS GET SIX MONTHS.

Motion to Quash Local Option By-Law Adjudged—Funeral of A. S. Irving, President Toronto Gas Company, Quiet.
Toronto, May 2.—William Crews and Fred Smith, two of the men arrested at Toronto Junction on Saturday night, in connection with the closing of the bars under local option, were sentenced, to-day, to six months in the Central prison.
A motion by Charles A. Kelly, proprietor of the Occidental Hotel, to quash the local option by-law, was to have been heard at Osgoode hall, to-day, and was adjourned a week by consent. The ground of the motion is alleged irregularity on the second reading of the by-law in council.
The civic investigation was resumed before Judge Winchester this morning. It was expected that William Mackenzie and W. H. Moore, of the Toronto Railway company, would be examined, but they were out of town. Comptroller Smith, of that company will be examined this afternoon. Ex-Alderman Harvey Hall, legislative representative of the railway, was called. He said that Controller Richardson gave him $40 to pay scrutineers. He paid out the $40 at $2 a man.
The funeral of the late A. S. Irving, president Toronto Gas company, was conducted to-day at afternoon, by Canon Welch, of St. James' cathedral, of which deceased had been for many years rector's warden. There were no pall-bearers, but a large attendance of Toronto business men.
The Imperial Book Co. asked leave from the court of appeal, to-day, to appeal to the supreme court in the action brought against the company by A. and C. Black. The action was brought by the Blacks, who have a copyright in the "Encyclopedia Britannica," to prohibit the importation, by the draft of copies, from the United States and involves the application of the imperial customs law to Canada. Judgment on motion to appeal was reserved.
In view of the discovery that the labor unions had interfered to prevent work being done by the firemen in maintaining the halls the Board of Control to-day, made an order that the fireman whitewash and paint the halls when necessary.
A. E. Davis, aged seventeen, employed by the contractor in carrying the mail between Shelburne and the Grange has been arrested and lodged in Brampton jail for theft of a registered letter containing $60. The letter was missed about six weeks ago. The young man confessed; he is a Barnardo boy.

NEGROES DEGENERATING.
A Sorrowful Picture Of The South.
The condition and aspect of the negro problem, as shown by statistics, is presented by Thomas Nelson Page, in McClure's for May. Instead of progressing the negro has, on the whole, retrogressed since the war. The south has spent over $100,000,000 on the negroes' education, besides $30,000,000 contributed by private charity. Yet the effect of all this has been scarcely perceptible. On the other hand the negro has lost much ground industrially. In slavery the negro was a mechanic arts in the south were filled with negroes. Now few mechanics are to be found among them. Neither have they advanced economically or politically. But underneath material advancement, there lies the deeper question of moral advancement, of growth in character and ideals of life. This is the true test of progress, and here the negro is most backward. Alarming percentages of crime among them are given and while a certain portion of the race has risen notably since emancipation, it generally has degenerated morally and mentally. Twenty-five years ago women in the south went unattended, with no more fear of attack than in New England. To-day no woman goes alone upon the highway out of sight of white men, except on necessity, and no man leaves his home alone in his house if he can help it.

Realized A Good Sum.
Allen, Wolfe Island, April 27.—Several farmers have commenced seeding. Gilt Edge, a team of horses, was operated on Monday. H. C. Hogan has moved into his cottage at the Wolfe Island cheese factory, and intends to open the factory on May 2nd. A. Henderson and family have moved into P. Hogan's house for the summer. W. Honessy sold a team of horses last week for the fine sum of $300. John Hogan has purchased a new seeder. John Spoor, assessor, canvassed this section last week. Mrs. Joseph McDonald has returned home from Watertown, N.Y.

Held A Sugar Social.
Collins Bay, April 27.—The assessor made his annual call on Tuesday. The sugar social in the Methodist church on Thursday evening passed off very successfully. Mrs. D. J. Rankin spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. R. Bushell, Williamsville. Miss Florence Marsh has returned after spending some time in the city. Mrs. Robert Grass, of Toronto, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Rankin. Webster Clement and R. Miller spent Sunday with friends in Deseronto.

Pleased To See B. A.
Wilton, May 2.—The sugar social held at Thomas Caton's on Wednesday night, in aid of the Violet Methodist church repairs was a success, socially and financially. The supper, a gift from George Robinson, Violet, was excellent. The social was well attended, especially by the Wilton people. Quarterly services are to be held next Sunday morning in the Methodist church here, owing to the repairs being made on the Violet church. William Owens is ill again. We were very much pleased to see amongst the names of those receiving degrees of B. A. at Queen's that of Blake Asselstine, after an attendance of only two sessions. Miss Beatty, Kingston, is visiting at H. Mills'. Mr. and Mrs. M. Cloak, and Mrs. Lake, Hartington, were visiting J. Owens on Friday.

The Queen's Visit.
The "Times," London, says: The queen took a deep interest in the Alexandra dining room named after her, and yesterday she paid a surprise visit to the institution, as she did in 1900. Sir Thomas Lipton was the only one who knew of the queen's intended visit, as she wished to see the room and diners under normal conditions. Her visit was accompanied by Princess Victoria, and attendants, drove in a plain carriage without escort, and were received at the main entrance by Sir Thomas. The identity of the royal visitors soon became known and they were cheered with true English heartiness. They repaired to the manager's room and dined, faring exactly as ordinary diners, the queen sitting at the head of the table. The party began with vegetable soup, took roast lamb with mint sauce and a round of beef, had two vegetables and finished with plum pudding. The queen took apple pie with her dinner, and the whole party afterwards drank coffee out of "Alexandra" cups. The queen and the princess, always well received here rarely received in any part of London so vigorous and enthusiastic a send-off as that which marked the close of their kindly visit.

LEGISLATIVE BRIEF.

A Member Offered Re-Election Without Opposition.
Forest Free Press.
In the legislature when Mr. Pettipiece moved the second reading of his bill for railway taxation, Mr. Whitney asked to have it killed then and there. Mr. Hoyle said that he, as a member of the special committee which had almost unanimously adopted the government measure, could not support Mr. Pettipiece's bill, as the committee had evolved a better scheme. Then came a standstill, Mr. Pettipiece declining to withdraw his bill and Mr. Hoyle expressing his opinion that when this situation became apparent, some leading spirits on the opposition side began to lay plans for as they fondly hoped, defeating the government. They conceived the idea that if Mr. Pettipiece would force a vote on another railway taxation bill, they would have to carry out their scheme. Mr. Whitney now declared that he had "found some good in the bill" and was prepared to have it further considered, and within twenty-four hours Mr. Pettipiece was voluntarily secured, both by writing, by fifteen or twenty members of the opposition, that they were now prepared to support his bill, and among those generous new found supporters were several members of the committee which had just adopted the government bill. Two converts wrote to Mr. Pettipiece "the opposition are with you to a man," and the crowning offer was the assurance by one of the plotters that his re-election in East Lambton by acclamation would be assured. Thus a good measure that should have been passed long ago, was dragged into the arena of partyism by those whose only object was to make a party gain.
This plot put Mr. Pettipiece in the position of having to destroy the government he was elected to support, or agree to some arrangement. He chose the latter course. There was talk about the party lash, the swallowing of principles and so on, but even these could not be so degrading as to have been made the tool of unscrupulous partisans. This position Mr. Pettipiece declined to accept, hence the bitter and somewhat petty attacks that have been made on him.

MR. LOWE IN TOWN.
Prominent Official of Railway Employees Visit.
Brockville Recorder.
H. Lowe, Kingston, is known all over this continent as one of the most useful officers among the railway employees' associations. The position he now occupies is first vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Railway Employees, and he has jurisdiction all over the North American continent. On Friday he dropped into the Recorder office and enjoyed a few minutes' chat. "Oh, yes, the trackmen are all right," he remarked. "There is a striking arrangement now that any difficulties that cannot be settled between the men and Mr. McNeil will be referred to arbitration. The terms are satisfactory."
"What about wages on the International?"
"To tell the truth," said Mr. Lowe, "the government pays a higher scale to the men than either the G.T.R. or C.P.R., which is satisfactory to the men."
Mr. Lowe is very busy and it is not surprising he possesses the absolute confidence of the railway employees, for he is persistent in looking after their interests, and does it in such a way to usually obtain the desired results.

The Queen's Visit.
The "Times," London, says: The queen took a deep interest in the Alexandra dining room named after her, and yesterday she paid a surprise visit to the institution, as she did in 1900. Sharpton, May 2.—This is the second of May, and seeding is scarcely begun. But with a continuance of the present good weather farmers will be going it full blast in a few days. Meadows promise well, last year's seeding especially is splendid. Some have turned young cattle out to pasture; but it will be the middle of May before the stock, generally, can do on the pastures without extra feed. The hard winter has had its telling effect on the fodder, which is nearly cleaned out of the country. With cheese at 7c. compared with 13c. one year ago, yeomen are wondering what the future will bring forth. A great many hogs are held for higher prices. The thought of hogs seeding was pretty well done. W. Babcock and J. Curran passed through here drawing milk from different routes to Odessa cheese factory. The flow of milk is heavy so early in the season. It is said the country is fairly lined with young pigs. Some think there is double the stock in the country as compared with fifteen or twenty years ago. Horse buyers were through here from the vicinity of Utica, N.Y. In reply to the question: "Will the horse market continue high?" One Yankee said: "I thought horses would be down before this, but they are very dear yet." He also said, that Canadian horses were well liked over there. Building milk stands is the order of the day. A big effort is now made to establish a library in the school. Dr. Spinks visited the school and was pleased with everything, barring the absence of the library. The trustees have let the job of building a wood-house to J. Young. A large amount of patent fence is being built. We are sorry to say that Mr. R. Paterson continues very ill. It is said that J. Moon has bought the Nugent farm; Master A. Vrooman, who for some time was very ill, is now able to be around. There was a dance at W. McQuay's.

A Great Capture.
Japan has been excited by the capture of its most famous criminal, Seishi Ono, alias Kinzel Wantanabe, whose audacious feats of breaking out of the Mayebashi jail created a sensation. When only a stripling of twenty, Seishi broke into a provincial bank and made away with 10,000 yen. On another occasion he paid a nocturnal visit to S. Kuriowa, a millionaire in Numata, Gumakake, carrying off 100,000 yen worth of old coins and 50,000 yen in bank notes. He has been arrested twenty-three times, has made attempts to escape from prison 110 times, passed ten years behind prison bars and robbed the public of 1,000,000 yen, at the lowest estimation. Now he has been sentenced to prison for a year and six months.

Perfect purity in food is very essential to perfect health. Yet how careless we are in regard to the purity of food we eat! Sanitation cleanliness is absolutely necessary in the preparation and handling of food. Are you sure the food you eat gets it?
SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT AND TRISCUIT
The Natural Foods
are made in the cleanest, brightest, most scientific food laboratory in the world. Care cleaning process is unique. The whole of the wheat is all that is left, not a particle of foreign substance remains. It passes through the three cooking without being touched by the human hand, and is then placed in cartons which preserve its cleanliness from top to bottom.
Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit and Triscuit are pure, clean and wholesome—they contain every element required to nourish the human body.
