Doan, Dr. George Green, Pitta Ferry, Ont., of a very bad case of kidney trouble.

He tells about the cure in the following words: "I cannot recommend Doan's Kidney Pills too highly. I never took anything that did me so much good. I had a severe pain in the small of my back and could scarcely get up or down without help. I could hardly urinate, but when I did the pain was terrible. I was in the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, last winter and when I came out I was some better but not cured. It was then I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised. Since taking them I have been completely cured and have not had any trouble with my kidneys since."

FULL DETAILS OF THE SHOCKING ACCIDENT AT NEWBURGH.

Injured Man Lived But a Few Minutes—Victoria Day Celebration—High School Visitation—Other Notes.

Newburgh, May 25.—It is many years since our little village has had such a sad accident as that which occurred on Monday morning. Absalom Husband, who has had the contract for years for supplying the cement works at Strathcona with sand, in company with Robert Street, cemetery for the sand pit near the cemetery about 7 a.m. They were taking the sand from a pit which apparently had been dug under the bank, for suddenly the bank above became loosened and a huge rock weighing 600 pounds, rolled down the embankment with terrific force. When about half way down the incline, it suddenly turned and striking Mr. Husband in the back, flung him to the wheel. The blow was fatal and the unfortunate man turning to his comrade said, "Billy I believe I am dying." These were the only words he uttered. Mr. Street ran immediately to Stickey's laundry for aid and W. Stevenson went for Dr. Beeman. But the sufferer was beyond human aid, and by the time the doctor arrived Mr. Husband was dead. The body was taken to T. A. Dunwoody's undertaking rooms and prepared for burial. It was then taken to his home at eleven o'clock. The accident cast a gloom over the whole village and the sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved widow and family. The funeral took place this morning at 9:30. Service was held in the Presbyterian church after which the body was interred at Harrowsmith. Besides the widow, deceased leaves three daughters, Miss Florence, teacher at Switzer's, Miss Myrtle, teaching near Sydenham, and Miss Edith, at home.

Victoria day was celebrated very quietly in our village, the citizens amusing themselves in different ways. The public school baseball team with George Shorey, the little southern, in the box, trounced a good sized team from the town by a score of ten to three. The whist club intend holding an assembly in Finkle's hall on Friday evening, C. Thomson, Toronto, is visiting his family. John Thomson and wife, Nanapan, spent Victoria day at C. W. Thomson's. Mr. Mott, of the High school staff, spent a few days this week at his home in Lyn, Ont. Mr. Hodson, high school inspector, visited our school on Tuesday. J. B. Merrickville, is visiting his mother, Mrs. D. B. Stickey. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sharpe spent Sunday in Odesa. Miss Sharpe, Belleville, spent Victoria day with her brother, J. R. Sharpe, Rev. Mr. Day and wife, Wilton, spent Monday at the Methodist parsonage. One lone flag was in our village could sport on Tuesday and that the one that flew from Finkle's carriage works. T. D. Striver went to Toronto on Sunday evening to attend the wedding of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Low, who died on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. McGuiness, Selby, spent Monday evening at Thomas Winter's.

Battersea Briefs.

Battersea, May 24.—Crop prospects are splendid, especially for hay. It is already well advanced and looks fair for June cutting. The farmers have nearly concluded seeding, and planting has already begun. We are glad to be able to report favorably of the sick Mrs. George Kirkpatrick, formerly Miss Boal, who has been very seriously ill for several weeks, is now out of danger and doing as well as could be expected. Isaac Holder has almost fully recovered from his late illness. A meeting of the trustees board of the Methodist church will be held on Thursday night to make arrangements for the church re-opening entertainment. The interior of the church underwent much needed change and improvements during the winter, and it is but fitting that the public should be given a special opportunity of showing their appreciation of it. Rev. Mr. Bell, accompanied by C. W. Vanlaven, as lay delegate, attended the Kingston district meeting last week. Our teachers, Messrs York and Todd and L. Burk will attend the teachers' convention in the city this week. Quite a number from here celebrated Victoria day in the city, and those who were too busy to go, entertained equally loyal sentiments at home. A new boiler is being put in position in a new boiler house at the cheese factory. Our salesman made considerable money for the patrons by holding over last week's shipment of cheese. Messrs Guthrie and Clough, Perth Road, are learning dressmaking at Mrs. Brown's shop. W. Merriman has set out one thousand lily bushes this season. He has one of the finest fruit gardens in the township. W. H. Jamieson has been enlarging and improving his house. George Matthews has completed the painting of his new residence. Visitors: Mrs. James Ely, city, at Mrs. Kirkpatrick's; Miss P. J. Sweet, Selby's Bay, at W. H. Jamieson's; Miss Dunlop, city, at Thomas Clark's; Miss C. Curson in the city; O. Sears, Lyn, Mass., at J. L. Sears'; T. E. Hughes and wife, city, at Isaac Holder's; Mrs. James Hughes at Smith's Falls.

EARLS AND DIDN'T KNOW IT.

How the House of Courtenay Lost Title For 300 Years.

The death is announced at Powderham Castle, near Exeter, of the thirteenth Earl of Devon, in his ninety-third year. The Earl, who was prebendary of Exeter Cathedral and rector of Powderham, succeeded his nephew in the Earldom in 1891. The house of Courtenay, to which the Earl belonged, dated back to a very early period, and members of the family have for centuries been associated with the history of the country. The existing branch was founded by Sir Philip Courtenay of Powderham Castle, who received the honor of knighthood from Edward the Black Prince the day before the battle of Navaret in Spain. One branch of the Courtenays were Counts of Odesa, and another became allied to the royal family of France. In England the Courtenays have been allied to the Bonvilles, Bohuns, Spencers, St. Johns, Talbots, Veres and royal house of Plantagenet. With the city of Exeter the family has always been closely associated, and in olden times there were stout struggles for privileges between the Earls of Devon and the Mayors of the city. Few, if any, titles in the peerage have been, for long periods of their history, involved in more mystery and doubt than that of the Earls of Devon.

Several hundreds of years the heads of the house of Courtenay were Earls without being aware of it. Indeed, so far were they from being acquainted with the dignity that should have been theirs that they accepted baronets and viscounties, and were proud to hold them.

After three centuries had passed, however, an astute lawyer discovered the patent among some old records, and found that there were two missing words, "de corpore," usually inserted in patents.

The discovery meant that the Earldom could be inherited by collateral heirs, and a Courtenay in 1831, after a hard fight, established his right to sit among his peers. The peerage he recovered was the one created by Queen Mary.

Five times the Earldom has been supposed to be extinct. Four of its holders have been attainted and four beheaded.

Queen Mary revived the Earldom in favor of Edward Courtenay, who, in the previous reign, when only twelve years of age, was committed prisoner to the Tower. He was released when only twenty-eight years old, and he died at Padua of poison.—London Express.

After Thirty Years' Service.

General Sir John Dartnell, who has just retired from the command of the Natal Mounted Police after thirty years' service, distinguished himself in the early stages of the war in South Africa, when his knowledge of the country was of invaluable service. He was with General Penn Symons when he fell at Talana Hill, and to his guidance General Buller's column owed its safe arrival at Ladysmith. Among his other exploits he made a march of 120 miles in three and half days without transport. Lord Roberts in his report to the War Office, said that General Dartnell's "name stands very high in the estimation of the colonists, and he possesses the greatest influence over the natives. His advice was of much assistance in the earliest actions of the war, afterwards during the siege of Ladysmith, and finally in the general advance through the Biggarsberg to Laing's Nek, when Natal was cleared of the enemies of the Queen." General Dartnell was born at London, Ontario, in 1838, and entered the army in 1855. He was severely wounded while serving with the Central Indian Field Force in 1857, and received the brevet of Major. He had plenty of South African experience, in the Zulu war of 1879, the Basuto war of 1880, and the Boer war of 1881, before the recent struggle.—London Star.

NEVER VIOLATE NATURE WITH DRASTIC PILLS

Give Her Aid, Lend Her Proper Assistance, But Do Not Overstep The Mark.

Shameful, indeed, is the use of drastic cathartics as a family medicine. The drastics play great havoc with the sensitive organs and invariably cause grave troubles.

No pill is to be trusted as a family remedy it should be so active as to be always effective, but so mild that the youngest child might use it. It was a family pill Dr. Hamilton had in mind when he prepared his famous pills of Mandrake and Butternut. They are a happy combination of vegetable extracts that afford most satisfactory results.

Dr. Hamilton's pills act in such a mild and painless way that they simply establish natural action of the bowels and thus prevent constipation. Of course they are active—a good pill must be, but there is a wide difference between the drastic action of most pills and the natural stimulus given by Dr. Hamilton's pills, which never gripe, cause pain, or necessitate a lay-up and loss of valuable time.

Dr. Hamilton's pills are the perfect pill. Try them and be delighted with their merit. They are just a little different and a little better than anything you have used before. They should be used by the aged, by the very young and those whose delicate condition demand a laxative free from all reaction. Prompt to work, certain to cure, easy to take, one a dose, you can't find anything so good as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills. Price 25c. per box, five boxes for $1. At all druggists. Insist on the genuine and beware of substitutes.

FINANCIAL ADVISER.

He is An English Officer And Well Versed.

Mr. Vincent Corbett, who has been appointed to succeed Sir Eldon Gorst as Financial Adviser to the Khedive, has for some time past been the British Commissioner on the Cause of the Egyptian Public Debt. Mr. Corbett has spent twenty years in official positions. He was nominated an attaché in 1884, and was appointed to the Embassy at Berlin in 1885. He was transferred to The Hague in 1887, and a year later was appointed to Rome. In 1891 Mr. Corbett was sent to Constantinople, where he was granted an allowance for his knowledge of Turkish. He later filled positions at the Embassies at Copenhagen and Athens, at both of which places he acted for a period as Charge d'Affaires. Before proceeding to Egypt Mr. Corbett held the appointment of British representative on the International Financial Commission for the control of Greek finance.

Malaya-Free Willing.

Mr. William Wallace of Nigeria has just arrived in England on one of his rare holidays, says The West African Mail. He is accompanied by Col. Morland, whose brilliant audacity won Kano for the Empire. Mr. Wallace who used to be thought a negro by our French friends in days when their knowledge of British colonial methods was not so accurate as it now is, has served eighteen years on the Niger, and is malaria-proof.

A Scotsman and a diplomatist.

Mr. Wallace went on embassy to Sokoto and Kano, on behalf of the Royal Niger Company, when such journeys involved great personal risk. On the assumption of direct Imperial control Mr. Wallace, who is a C.M.G., was appointed Deputy High Commissioner. He has visited every corner of the protectorate from Sokoto to Lake Chad. From him Sir Frederick Lugard has had most valuable help in bringing about the acceptance of British rule.

Mr. Jardine Explains Law.

Ottawa, May 25.—In reply to a question by the trade and commerce department, J. G. Jardine, Canadian commercial agent for South Africa, writes that for three years back Chinese have been admitted to Cape Colony upon depositing £100. Under a recent act of the Jameson administration, however, they are to be excluded. Chinese are admitted to the Transvaal on contract for work in the mines. They are excluded from Natal, although thirty thousand East Indian coolies are admitted to work under contract.

Ten miners were suffocated by gas and sulphur fumes from a small locomotive in a Williamstown, Pa., coal mine.
