ENGINEER'S STATEMENT.

Regarding Allowing Street Railway Company To Proceed. The city engineer was asked this g why he allowed the street way company to begin operations ingreonnection with the double-track on Princess street before the agreement had been signed. He replied that necessary, that the company in making a deposit of $300 and beginning a switch, accepted all the regulations in the motion of permission passed by the council. He held that this motion and its references to clauses in the old agreement was quite sufficient "What is your intention concerning the laying of the rails? Will they be placed exactly in the middle of the road-bed, that is between curb

"No, not exactly," he replied. They will be placed so that the distance between the curb and the outer rai on the west side at its extreme point will be twelve feet seven inches, and on the opposite side thirteen feet and three-quarter inches. There is only a difference of about six inches. The engineer intends to make better tables at the curbings. The road will be made to curve down more, thus permitting of better drainage.

A PATIENT PUBLIC.

It Endures Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. Special to the Whig.

New York, May 28 .- One of the most remarkable phenomena of American civic, particularly urban life, is the wonderful patience with which the public endures the most outrageous impositions by corporations and the most glaring imcompetency in the management of public institutions. One of the most remarkable specimens in the line of angelic patience under the most aggravating conditions the meekness and good nature with which the travelling public of New York, endures the utter incompetency and absolute lack of common sense in the management of the Brooklyn Ra pid Transit company. It is true, the bridge problem is not simple and easy to solve, but the methods em ployed by the company are so abso lutely inane and ridculous that it is difficult to believe that sane men originated them.
