Chaucer Has Returned. "Chaucer" Elliott, playing with the Concord, N.H., team, returned to the city yesterday. "Chancer" has been playing good ball, but his team were at the wrong end of score card and lost the interest and financial support of their backers. At the first of the season the Concord team carried a force of eighteen men but when their financial difficulties overtook them, they decided to cut down their expenses by reducing catcher were asked if either one them would stay and do all catching. This, however, is a nigh impossible feat, and on their refusing to do so, another man procured who promised to do so. The fulfilment of his promise, however, remains to be seen. "Chaucer's" many local friends will be sorry to hear of his hard luck, but their regret will be mingled with joy when they consider that his return may prove a signal for a sudden boom in local baseball

DR. SCOTT LECTURES.

Vivid Description Of Work In

Dr. T. B. Scott, medical missionary at Jaffna, Ceylon, occupied the pulpit the First Congregational church ast evening. He gave an interesting portrayal of the customs, habits and people of Ceylon, mentioning especially the work of the medical mission of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions in Jaffna. The views, many of which were beautifully colored, gave the audience a vivid impression of the appearance of the people, their dress, houses and means of travel, also the beautiful and luxuriant vegetation of the island. Types of the different castes from the coolie, or laboring class, to the royal personages were shown and the fluence of European teaching was very clearly portrayed by contrasting groups of natives in their natural conditions and after a few years of ering the terms in the motion passed Scion of Nobility-Caretaker of Christian instruction. This was especially noticed in pictures of the native mid-wives and the natives who let by Mahood Bros., for the imhave been trained as nurses in the mission hospital.
