MORE LAW IN VIEW. The city and the Electric Light Company have seriously disagreed on the light question.

Guided by the advice of Mr. Aylsworth and Mr. Melnyk the city will, on or before July 1st, tender the company the value of the plants as it has been fixed by the arbitrators and courts.

Meanwhile the city has notified the company that the contract for street lighting will end with this month, and the electors will walk in darkness and the city will sue for possession of the property.

The time has come when a new policy must be defined with regard to the construction of walks.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS. The time has come when a new policy must be defined with regard to the construction of walks.

The works department has considered the situation at considerable length, and has come to the conclusion that wooden walks should not be laid except when they were the choice of the property owners.

Hence the question has gone back to the committee with the request of outlining a district within which only asphalt or granolithic walks shall be laid.

POSITIONS NOT UNDERSTOOD. Events revive a significant warning which it gave to Lord Dundonald, when referring to his appointment in September, 1902, Events then said:

The office Lord Dundonald has accepted is a Canadian office created by the Canadian parliament and the salary attached to it is paid by the Canadian taxpayers.

While the final stroke of the Japanese advance on Port Arthur was the capture of Port Adams and the Russian Manchurian railway, it was at Pitsewo, on the Southern coast of the Manchurian province, that the most loaded twenty regiments.

While the final stroke of the Japanese advance on Port Arthur was the capture of Port Adams and the Russian Manchurian railway, it was at Pitsewo, on the Southern coast of the Manchurian province, that the most loaded twenty regiments.

how high a regard the Canadian people for the Canadian government had for the particular officer temporarily in charge of the headquarters staff of the militia should he forget that the man in charge of the militia force and the man solely responsible for it to parliament and the people is the minister of militia. The result would be the same.

The one regrettable feature of the case is the disposition to say aggravating things. Lord Dundonald's banquet speech, the one in which he practically challenged the government to a quarrel, was particularly snappy, and it has been followed by a discussion which generally is lacking in moral tone.

Lord Dundonald, when a question of precedent or authority was at stake, should have at the outset insisted upon an understanding of his position. In his first report he recommended, would have cost $12,000,000, and Sir Frederick Borden felt that he was justified in holding it for consideration.

The general officer commanding, as an experienced soldier, should be a great aid to the militia department, in conferring and advising with the minister on military matters, but he ought to remember that the minister is the responsible head of the department, that he has to defend and champion its expenditures, and that millions of dollars cannot be regarded as lightly in Canada as in the metropolis.

EDITORIAL NOTES. The railway business of the mother country is not prospering.

"What," asks the Toronto Telegram, "will they say in England," about the Dundonald case? A good deal, and many hints have been given that Lord Dundonald went the wrong way about airing his grievances.

The Military Gazette is sneering at the small tradesmen who desire to be made officers of the local militia. What is the inference? That only the Hoods should be given commands, and there are so many of them in this country!

Col. Hughes is saying too much about the minister of militia for his own good. He was very glad to have Sir Frederick Borden do him a favour, when Major-General Hutton turned him down. He ought not to forget some things.

The Montreal Star wants Lord Dundonald to obtain leave of absence from the imperial army and fight it out with the government of Canada. If my lord wants to be particularly humiliated he will get it as a political combatant in Canada.

A writer in a New York paper wonders why some people believe in God when He allows hundreds of his children to perish in the Slocum disaster. God did not send a boat out improperly managed and equipped, that was man's work, and man, not God, is responsible for the result.

SPORT REVIEW.

MOST EXPENSIVE EXPERIMENT IN BASEBALL

Several New Records Made At Cleveland—Big Charge To Get Lacrosse Sticks—The Match To Come Off In August.

Shannon, of the St. Louis Nationals, has not made an error in thirty-seven games.

Outfielder Dougherty has been traded to New York Americans by Boston for infielder England and some money.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: "The team that beats Pittsburgh will win the pennant." That is the cry of the managers of the teams in the National League and hits the nail right on the head.

Pitcher Yeager, of Fall River, formerly with Toronto, is keeping up his one-run record—five consecutive games won or lost by one run, 3-2, 2-3, 2-3, 1-2, 4-3. Twelve runs behind him, 14 against him.

The Chippewas left on Saturday for Fergus minus their sticks, which were packed away in a box at the station, and as a consequence the goods shipped to Fergus by a special in time for the game.

For a mile Fort Hunter looked like the winner of the American Derby at Chicago on Saturday. But he was never a contender after that and finished eighth in a field of sixteen horses.

The most expensive experiment in record in baseball is said to have been pitched by Jim Wiggs, who was tried out by Cincinnati last spring. He was paid $1,150 in advance money, salary or credit, and pitched exactly three innings, at the end of which he was released. This is an average of $383 per inning, or about $765 minutes, allowing five minutes to an inning.

Before a crowd of 10,000 horse lovers at Glenville track, Cleveland, on Saturday, Lon Dillon, the trotting mare, driven by her owner, C. K. G. Billings, was sent a mile to wagon to beat the amateur, record of 2:10. The mare made the distance in 2:06. The last quarter was made in thirty seconds. Mr. Billings' next rode Charlie Mack, a mile to saddle in an effort to break the amateur world's record of 2:19. The record was lowered to 2:17.

A San Francisco despatch says: The Jeffries-Munroe match has been postponed to the last week in August. Manager Cynoth, of the Yosemite Club, and Harry Pollock, manager for Munroe, have been at Harbin Springs, Jeffries' training place, and had an interview with the champion. Jeffries declared his ability and willingness to meet Munroe on June 30th, but Cynoth, after consulting with the surgeon in attendance, decided that it would be the wiser course to allow the big pugilist more time to recover from his injury. Manager Pollock was agreeable to the long postponement provided that he had some assurance that the match would be carried out. He stipulated that Jeffries should post $5,000 by next Monday night, guaranteeing his appearance in the ring late in August. Jeffries agreed to meet the $5,000.

"Reddy" McMillan, who shone in hockey in Belleville last winter, is now playing lacrosse in his native town, Cornwall, and on Saturday took part in a match against Montreal. "Reddy" played on the home and, according to a despatch, completely obliterated his check. He was the victim of a serious accident just before time expired, getting his nose smashed while trying to carry the ball in on the Montreal home. Can anyone tell us where "Reddy's" home is now that he has quit Belleville?

Yacht Club Meetings. The annual meeting of the Kingston Yacht Club Association was held last night. The finances were reported in flourishing condition.

Spread Of Baseball. "Baseball may no longer be referred to as a national game," said President Hurry Pulliam, of the National League, the other day. "It really is an international sport, and is fast supplanting the so-called national sports of other countries all over the world."

"Both of these inquiries—one at Toronto, Mexico, and the other at Johannesburg, South Africa—wanted to know how a ball should be called that had been accidentally hit by a batsman and then gone into fair territory. In both instances the accident had nearly occurred while the batsmen were trying to get out of the way of wild pitches.

"Another instance of the prolific growth in the game is found in the statement of a gentleman from the Philippines, who is visiting here now. He says that the league which has been formed on the Island of Curzon, and in which the players are largely American soldiers whose terms of enlistment have expired, now is self-supporting. The Filipinos are taking up the game and are rapidly becoming expert in it. In Canada baseball has succeeded lacrosse—so, you see, the game is fast becoming international property."
