of Mahood's drug store, and were also charged with discharging firearms in endeavoring to evade arrest.

Stanley Drapeau, who was found guilty of both offences at his previous grain, appeared this morning for sentence. The police magistrate, before passing sentence on the prisoner, reviewed the history of the crime, and, of the two charges, dwelt on that of discharging firearms as the more hideous. His honor said that it was hideous. His honor said that it was of discharging firearms as the more hideous.
