

SUFFERED MANY YEARS WITH A COMPLICATION OF FEMALE DISEASES.

Two Robust Women Who Owe Their Restored Health and Usefulness to Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. J. E. Finn.

Miss Ruth Emerson

MRS. J. E. FINN, 82 East High St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: 'I suffered for two years with irregular and painful menstruation, and Peruna cured me within six weeks. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel. Any agency which brings health and strength to the afflicted is always a welcome friend, and to-day the market is so filled with useless and injurious medicines that it is a pleasure to know of so reliable a remedy as you place before the public.'

catarrh of these organs. While each case presents some minor difference as to detail, they are all in reality alike. Peruna does not relieve these cases by temporarily mitigating some symptom, but by a removal of the cause. Many a woman can testify that local treatment does not permanently cure. A large multitude of women are constantly going from doctor to doctor to receive local treatment, with little or no result. In Peruna these women find a prompt and permanent cure. Imitations of Pe-ru-na. Peruna has come to be recognized as the greatest remedy for catarrh in the world. At first competitors tried to deny this and insisted that their remedies were just as good. This was found to be impossible, however, and now imitations are springing up everywhere. To successfully palm off an imitation of Peruna even for a short time is sure to be a money-making scheme, but no one who has ever taken Peruna can be fooled on these imitations. No conscientious druggist would sell one of them. Every purchaser should look carefully at each package of Peruna he buys, to be sure that he is getting only genuine Peruna. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

ENDS IN SORROW

YOUTHFUL GROOM CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION.

Irate Mother of Eloping Damsel Gets Warrant For Daughter And Son-In-Law—Show Marriage Certificate—Girl But Fourteen.

Le Roy, N.Y., Sept. 17.—Detective Barnett, of Rochester, came to Le Roy and arrested George Houseman, nineteen years of age, on the charge of abduction. On Thursday of last week Houseman went to Rochester and asked Miss Clara Panzer, fourteen years of age, to marry him. She consented, and the couple departed that night. Houseman told the girl's mother of their marriage, and she, accompanied by a number of relatives, went to police headquarters and asked that the couple be placed under arrest. A warrant charging Houseman with abduction was sworn out, and placed in the hands of Detective Barnett to serve. The detective came to Le Roy, accompanied by a sister of the youthful bride. The young couple were found in the Barret Block in Main street. They produced their marriage certificate, which showed that they had become united in marriage at Caledonia on September 9th.

The detective took his prisoner back to Rochester and they were locked up, the charge against the girl being a disobedient child. The Panzer family formerly lived in this village, and at that time Houseman became acquainted with them. The bride is good looking, wears her dresses to her shoulders, and her hair in a long braid.

IN OUR OWN CIRCUIT.

News Of The District On Both Sides Of The Line.

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY.

Trade As It Appears in United States.

Special to the Whig. New York, Sept. 17.—The prospects for the drygoods trade for the season just opening are encouraging. The retail merchants in every state and territory are looking for a busy fall and winter, and their confidence is reflected in purchases made in the primary markets. The conditions in the North Atlantic states are generally favorable for a large business. In the greater part of New England merchants are optimistic, and prosperity seems to be the rule in the South Atlantic sections especially in the manufacturing centres of Virginia. There is every indication that an average fall and winter trade will be done in the north central states. In Michigan the conditions indicate an average fall trade, and the reports from Wisconsin indicate continued prosperity. Similar reports also are received from Minnesota. Manufacturing centres of Missouri show prosperous conditions. In the Dakotas and Nebraska trade conditions are described as good. In the south central states a spirit of optimism prevails, the high prices of cotton having caused money to be plentiful. Kentucky merchants are preparing for a larger business than last fall. Excellent prospects are also reported in Tennessee. Alabama will be full up to high standard of last year, and bright prospects are also evident in Mississippi and Louisiana.

THREE JURORS CURED.

Of Cholera Morbus With One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: 'While there I ate some fresh meat and some soups and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and I sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fit I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us.' For sale by all druggists.

While Mr. Rimson, his son and daughter, were driving to Mr. Rimson's ranch, sixteen miles from Charesholm, Man., the boy in picking up a gun in the bottom of the rig, to show some children, accidentally discharged the weapon and the shot entered his side, killing him almost instantly.

SHOT DEAD IN FEUD.

Two Men Killed And Troops Are Called Out.

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 17.—News reached here from Baxter that in an attempt to arrest the Altman for the murder of Jack Duncan and James Riley on the train, last Sunday night, Ballif R. Thrift met with such a warm reception that he desisted. Later a crowd gathered at his house and when he came out he was fired upon. He returned the fire and killed one of the men, said to be a workman named John Dowling. Then Thrift, his gun being empty, ran under the house to escape the crowd but was after him, but he was pulled out and shot to death, his body being riddled with bullets. Baxter was policed last night by two companies of Florida militia.

Police Court—Saturday.

William Fannon, one of the regulars, was in the police court again this morning, charged with being drunk. He pleaded guilty and the magistrate imposed a fine of $5 and costs or one month. William will be sober and will behave for the next month. A further argument of the street railway case was heard before the magistrate by the opposing counsel this morning. John McIntyre, for the prosecution, held that the information was laid against the street railway company for running Sunday cars in the village of Portsmouth as well as the city of Kingston and argued that the company had not the authority to run Sunday cars in the village. W. F. Nickle had evidently expected this objection as he promptly drew from his pocket the original agreement between the company and the village authorities in which the clause relating to the running of cars each day in the week was precisely the same as in the agreement with the city. When down street this evening, call in and see Lemmon, Claxton & Levenson's display of stoves. They have the largest and best lines in the city. Sale Saturday of Dip Hip Corsets, worth $1, for 65c. STEACY'S, THE STORE THAT ALL THE TALK'S ABOUT.

SOMALILAND ABANDONED.

The Discouraging End Of British Efforts.

G. H. Kirkpatrick, son of the late Sir George, who recently returned from Somaliland, has given an opinion regarding affairs in the protectorate. 'All troops have been removed from the country except a small force under Colonel Mellis. The original intention was that this force should only remain a few months, just long enough to allow the civil authorities to put their house in order. The situation appears very difficult for the civil power, as the Mullah is still at large and his prestige as high as ever. When the military leave the protectorate will be absolutely defenceless as the raising of native levies is impracticable for these reasons: Our Somalis have proved useless as soldiers. It is doubtful if, owing to their dislike of discipline, they could be induced to enlist again, and that the home government would pay the necessary money. The friendly tribes will be left entirely to their own resources, and as is only fair, the government are issuing to each tribe a limited number of rifles, as well as ammunition. If we are to assist in this, it is in the least we can do, but it looks to be like a gift of so many rifles to the Mullah, who is almost certain to raid the friendly tribes, and come fairly close to the coast. Although I speak of 'friendly tribes,' yet these same people gave so much trouble to us, and so much information to the enemy, that I should feel very little regret if the Mullah gave them a mauling were it not for the disturbing effect on the whole country, some of which has been quiet all along. It is a great pity that operations ceased so suddenly, as better operations for water were stopped before all important question was solved as to whether an artesian system underlies the interior plateau or not. If, as is quite possible, an artesian system is present, the country may, in the future, come to the front as a ranching and stock-raising centre, since the grazing is very good. It seems that, unless some money is sent on the contrary, the situation is hopeless, as the civil authorities have no forces with which to meet the Mullah's raids, and so must perforce abandon the interior and confine their attentions to the coastline alone, which will also lose the revenue accruing from the trade from the interior. Undoubtedly the best, and in the long run the cheapest solution of the situation is the construction of a narrow gauge railway from Berbera to Harrar, which would at once attract an established and growing traffic, and from which branches could be run at very small cost for military purposes.'

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets For Women.

Not for men, and not a cure-all. But for women it is a blood maker, a nerve and uterine tonic—an up-to-date tonic for sick, tired, physically run-down women—the latest and without doubt the best medicine for ills peculiar to women. It cures by stopping the cause, and it has saved many a woman suffering with womb disease from the operating table. Make Healthy Women. These tablets are made from a formula used in his practice by Dr. Hugo, the eminent specialist in female diseases of Paris. We control the Canadian and American rights of the remedy. He charges $50 for the medicine. We charge 50 cents for a box of 72 tablets—enough for an extended treatment.
