LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Word Offered. Kingston, Nov. 16.—(To the Edida company tor): Perhaps as we have heard a South Car great deal lately on the subject of music, a few words might not be out on. of place as to the music in some our churches. It is admitted on al hands that a clergyman should be a good reader, but it is as important that he should be a good musicia that is to say, able to take part in the musical service intelligently. What is meant by this is that he should earn when to sing, and when not to sing. A very beautiful burial service was spoiled lately through the single effort of a gentleman present, who in-sisted upon either leading the choir, or putting the brakes on them. If hurch has a choir, the congregation. and particularly the clergyman should try and keep with them, and endeavor to get them to keep with him.-A SUFFERER

THE MOTHERS' UNION.

The Mother's Union held its opening neeting for the season last night. when Mrs. Buxton Smith read a very helpful paper on the force of example in the training of children, which was eeply appreciated by all who heard . Mrs. Loucks gave a most interestintercession for her son Augustine. Miss Machar, who was intercepted on her way from the Historica Society meeting, gave a short talk on the duty of parents in training their children to realize the beauty and the privilege of serving others. There was too much thought nowadays of giving the little ones a good time, for-getting that discipline, the training in habits of obedience, and the leading into ways of loving service, would be far more likely to result in the pure happiness of the young.
