Corsets. Buy your Christmas presents at an early date. Watch the advertisements in the Whig. Rubber boots for little boys, and girls at Abernathy's shoe store. A peculiar state of affairs came to light at the last council meeting in Yonkers, when an account from H. J. Wale for nails was presented. In the early summer when tenders were asked for corporation supplies Mr. Wale's tender for nails was accepted, and in accordance to instructions about a ton of nails was ordered by him, the necessary signs required by the town being secured. But strange to say, the street committee did not go to Wale's hardware for the supplies, but secured them elsewhere. Now Mr. Wale is asking for pay for the nails ordered for the town, and for which his tender was accepted.
