SCIENCE DINNER

IT WAS A FINE EVENT LAST NIGHT.

Interesting And Able Speeches—Songs Of Tip-Top Character—The Menu Was Up To The Top Notch.

The eighth annual dinner of Queen's Engineering Society was held, last evening, in the City hall and the affair proved to be a glowing tribute to the rapidly growing and important science faculty at Queen's. The spirit of good fellowship and friendship existing among the students and professors of the science faculty was exemplified, last night, in a manner which leaves no doubt as to the democratic spirit of this faculty, at least, of Queen's University. The hall had been artistically decorated under the capable supervision of William Shea, and when the guests entered the banquet room, shortly after nine o'clock, they were not surprised to find the nine-course dinner being successfully managed by the staff. The platform, looked very pretty with its artistic arrangement of colored lights and decorations. An orchestra played excellent music during the dinner and later in the evening. In different parts of the hall, machines and other devices illustrating engineering were displayed. The banquet as served by Caterer Thomas Ferguson left nothing to be desired, the nine-course dinner being admirably served and rapidly disposed with by the appreciative guests. The arrangement of the tables was such as to give all those present a good view of the speakers who were seated at the head table with the president and other officers of the Engineering Society. The table decorations were very dainty, the menu appetizing and on a par with the first-class service. The menu card was of unique design, being in the form of an engineer's hand book, and making an excellent souvenir of a very pleasant event. At the close of the dinner portion of the banquet the guests were called to order and the toast list began.

The first toast, "The King," was proposed by E. A. Collins, president of the Engineering Society, who made an able speech, welcoming the guests on behalf of the society and calling on Prof. Gulliver, the honorary president of the society, to make an address. Prof. Gulliver complimented the society on the success of the banquet and expressed the honor he felt in being connected with such a flourishing organization.

Dr. M. McIntyre proposed the toast, "Our Country." The speaker briefly reviewed the past history of Canada up to the present. Canada, he said, is determined to develop a separate nation, annexed by close contact to the mother nation. He referred to the glowing future of the country and the varied resources of the country, and expressed his confidence in the development of the science faculty in its different departments.

Dr. Watson made the first response to this toast and in opening expressed the great pleasure it afforded him to be present at such an inspiring occasion. He referred to Dr. Johnson's description of patriotism as "the last refuge of a scoundrel," and gave illustrations of this in the history of Canada. Canada, he said, lives too much in the present. Canada has not yet a full history for the future. All our resources are our heritage and we must see to it that the development of this grand heritage is properly directed. The trouble with Canada, he said, is that her people do not keep the highest ideal ever before them. He designated Queen's as the university possessing the totality of knowledge and advised his hearers to make themselves acquainted, in leisure moments, with other lines of work outside their chosen profession.

Dr. W. L. Goodwin also spoke a few words in response to this toast. W. H. Lavell sang a fine baritone solo and was forced to respond to an enthusiastic encore. W. F. Nickle, proposed the toast "Queen's and Her Faculties." He spoke of the rapid growth of Queen's in regard to buildings and referred to her professors as some of the greatest minds in our country. He briefly reviewed the advances made in the different faculties at Queen's and dealt at some length with the rapid growth of the science faculty. His speech was cleverly illustrated by a number of good anecdotes told in a simple and lively and appreciated by his hearers.

Prof. Macnaughton responded in his usual witty manner. He went on to say, advise his divinity students to associate with their engineering brothers. He did not believe in the separation of the theological faculty. We want theological men who talk facts and can come right down to the hard bed rock. The miner he said, should have in him a good deal of the missionary.

Prof. Adam Shortt also responded to this toast with an able address. He spoke of his early connection with the medical and science faculties in Queen's earlier days. There is, he says, an air of uniqueness about Queen's which turns out to be a distinct atmosphere as from a distinct air in a Queen's gathering. A bond of sympathy has grown up and developed at Queen's, until it has become an asset of the university. Even new professors are brought into the fold and turned out good Queen's men in time. A residential university may be good thing in many ways, but mentally and morally there seems to be no necessity of a residential university at Queen's. The spirit of Queen's is largely connected with the freshness and independence characteristic of our university. There is no danger from open friction, but there is a great danger from under hand friction. Queen's turns out practical theologians, who are able to take care of themselves and look all around things. There is no necessity that a man should be trained up to the last point in every subject but he must realize that there are other than his own.

H. H. Scott proposed the toast "Sister Institutions," in a brief, concise speech. There was, he said, a sister

HAWKEY'S TALE.

HE TELLS HIS SIDE OF THE CASE.

The Voting at Ardoch—He Says It Was on the Square—Denial Made to Topping's Evidence. Chicago, Dec. 12.—(To the Editor): I see by recent issues of this paper, and of other papers in Ontario, that my name is frequently used in connection with the bogus ballot box scandal, simply, I suppose, because Mr. Avery's majority was reduced a little at Ardoch, the poll at which I had the honor and pleasure to act as deputy returning officer. Now, in the first place, I wish to contradict a few of the statements made by Canadian papers and by parties connected with this case. The News and Times claim that I was imported from Chicago for the purpose of acting as deputy returning officer, which is certainly false. I came from Chicago of my own accord and paid my own way and expenses, and for the purpose of witnessing a match in Guelph on November 11th, never knowing anything of my appointment as a D.R.O. until I came from Chicago.

Again on election morning at Ardoch, when I opened the poll, I gave the box of the table number, and I did not examine my box until I was up side down, and said: "Gentlemen you see the box is empty." If Mr. Tapping got information, as he claims he did, that I was using a bogus box, I can give him nothing peculiar about it. From the time I put the box on the table, until it was sealed, no man ever looked inside of it, or saw the box of the table number, and I only had a small oil lamp, sitting on the table, which was not nearly as high as the box. After we were through George Hamilton my poll clerk, said to Tapping and Thompson: "Well, boys, are you satisfied?" and Mr. Thompson said "yes." I do not understand what they are kicking about now.

Mr. Tapping swore that he put his hand down in my ballot box and examined it inside, at Ardoch, on November 3rd, but he never did so in my opinion. And, again, Mr. Tapping was not an inside scrutineer, and no business inside whatever. If I had been doing all kinds of crooked work as some claim, would I have allowed all those gentlemen present in there when I was counting the ballots? Well, I guess not. But as everything was straight I had no fear of an incognito spy. Mr. Tapping or any other man, can give me nothing peculiar about our movements around Clarendon. As far as the private room was concerned, Mr. Sproule did invite Taylor and his mother to drink, and I changed his collar. He had a bottle of whisky, and one of whiskey, I wish to say right here, that I will give any man enough of whiskey to get him drunk, but I never did so.

Mr. Franklin and Mr. Shortall swear that they were given me a note, which I returned, and I do not know what kind of a box was supposed to be the one I used at Ardoch, but what I do know is, that, I never saw a box of the kind that was the same identical box I used at Ardoch, and returned to Mr. Franklin. If there was such a lot of difference between the one I returned, and the one I used at Ardoch, I did not protest when I returned it. Mr. Shortall was not there at the time to notice. I did not make the usual returns to him. If I did not make them to him I did to his agent which, I considered, was just the same. He also said he expected a majority of votes for the fifty, at Ardoch. Did he not expect a majority at No. 6, township of Kingston, also? It gave the liberal candidate thirteen votes, and the conservative party a majority was never given before in my time. I guess if Mr. Avery will look around he will find that the people are beginning to wake up to their condition in some parts of Frontenac, especially at Ardoch.

It has also been insinuated by certain papers that I have bought and sold votes in Canada. I do not understand that I am a professional wrestler. Such is not so, but I am a wrestler enough for anything in Canada and I have won $100 to $200 that way. I had no intention, whatever, of contradicting any statement made in regard to myself by those implicated, but when they begin to shove it a little too hard it is time to take a halt. I am prepared to swear to these statements. I remain yours respectfully, Joseph Hawkey, 3,818 Lake avenue, Chicago.

Must Pay Damages. George McKay, forman in the Gananoque Harness Works, has been condemned to pay $135 damages and costs for suing a girl, Ada Sharkey, for not doing the work given her. McKay reported her to Mr. Acton, who ordered her to do as she was told, and she refused, and was discharged. As she was about to leave the factory she said to McKay, "Well, I like sneaks, but that suits me too well." McKay came some reply, and she said, "Well, George, you are a sneak!" whereupon McKay struck her. While trying to restore her, Hill, a collar-maker in the shop, ran to the rescue, and McKay, in the process of breaking some of his teeth and making blood flow.

Marine Notes. It has been decided that the steamer Pollat will winter at the M.T. company wharf instead of going back to Toronto. The steamer Wahconah is expected at the M.T. company wharf in a few days. An old marine man writes: "I do not believe that either the steamer Pierpont or the steamer Fawcett can break through nine inches of solid ice. It's too bad the Pierpont is not here just now, so that we might have a contest."

To Cure A Cold In One Day. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box, 25c.

Ordination Next Sunday. On Sunday next an ordination service will be held in St. George's cathedral. The deacons to be ordained to the priesthood are: Messrs. Woodcock, of Westport; Kidd, of Hill; Wilkinson, of Amherst Island; DePencier, Wellington; and Smith, Sharbot Lake. Rev. H. Bedford-Jones, Brockville, will preach the ordination sermon.

The Elected Candidates. The breakfast food which will carry out its ante election process, most faithfully is certainly "Swiss Food." Miss Hazel Miller, nurse in a Brantford, Ont., hospital, has arrived in the city to spend the holiday season with her parents on Bogart street. "Think of it," the ladies of Napanee are ordering Huyler's candies from Gibson's Red Cross drug store. They want the best.

Don't suffer from cold feet, when you are selling hot water bottles from $2c. to $2.50. Wade's drug store.

CIVIC AFFAIRS.

AMALGAMATION OF CIVIC COMMITTEES.

Some Change Will Be Necessary—Effect of Throwing Off The Market Tolls—Another Alderman Mentioned For The Mayoralty. While amalgamation of civic offices has been so well carried out by the progressive section of this year's administration, there should be a continuance of the work by committee amalgamation. A scheme suggested is that the parks should be taken over by the fire and water committee and that the light plant should have a separate committee. It would perhaps be better if the parks were added to the domain of the city property committee. Next year's council will, no doubt, early consider necessary advisable changes. A voice is heard now and again in favor of the election of the mayor by the city council just as the county warden is elected by the county council, and the Board of Education chairman by the trustees. The Frontenac council has for the past number of years been a conservative body, and in the past four years there have been two liberal wardens. If this scheme were put into force in the city councils, good men would be more apt to offer themselves for reelection. There is frequent discussion on the advisability of the city throwing off the market tolls. In years gone by, many arguments have been given in favor of them, the chief one being that the farmers should pay for wearing out the roads. Of late years, hundreds of farmers come to town, sell their produce at citizens' houses and pay no market toll. The main question for the city council is: How will the revenue derived from the tolls be made up? Throwing off the tolls will certainly increase the market to some extent and thus bring more trade to the merchants. With fresh eggs sold at thirty to thirty-five cents a dozen and turkeys at sixteen cents a pound, some citizens think it unnecessary to grant any favors to the farmers.

Alfred McFarland has under consideration the conservative offer of being a mayoralty candidate, and is waiting to see what man "the other fellows" will bring out. The candidate of "the other fellows" will be much stronger than Ald. McFarlane. In some quarters Ald. Rigney is mentioned as a possible mayoralty contestant, but it is hardly likely he would consider the matter. His time will come later on.

A Pleasant Social. A parlor social was held at the home of Mrs. D. Harris, York street, last evening, and was well attended. Games and music were the chief amusements, those taking part being Misses McCartney, singing and musical selection, and Miss Ethel Hatton a comic recitation, which called for an encore to which she most heartily responded. Miss Hatton is becoming most popular at social functions as a humorist. Miss Trussell also gave musical selections. Refreshments very choice, were served about ten o'clock. The crowd then dispersed, all voting Mr. and Mrs. Harris a very interesting host and hostess. The social was under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of Zion church of which Mrs. D. Harris is president.

Death Or Lemacy. Seemed the only alternative for a well-known and highly respected lady of Wingham, Ont., who had travelled over two continents in a vain search for a cure for nervous debility and dyspepsia. A friend recommended South American Nervine. One bottle helped, six bottles cured, and her own written testimony closes with these words: "It has saved my life." At Wade's Drug Store.—20.

Pictonians Married. Yesterday Miss Maud Welbanks, formerly of Millford, but now of Picton and Frank Alexander L. Collier, of that town, came down to Kingston to be married by Canon Loucks, under whose spiritual care the bride had been.

The liberal party in Ontario is as full of life as ever it was, and in splendid shape to add another to the long line of victories won during the past thirty odd years.

IT WAS NO DREAM. Even Though Nearly Incredible. For twenty years I suffered with piles, sometimes being confined to my bed for days at a time. The relief received from doctors, both in the United States and Mexico was temporary and more frequently I received no relief, other medicines had no effect, it was a continual drag; I was fit for nothing. I finally tried Pyramid Pile Cure first application was magical; I could not believe I was awake next morning. I experienced relief I had not known for twenty years. "One box cured me, but not believing myself cured I bought two more and they are still in my trunk. I first used this remedy in July, 1902, have had no occasion to use it since. The world should know of Pyramid Pile Cure. I have no words to express my gratitude to E. Leonard, Nueva Calle de San Antonio de las Huertas No. 5, City of Mexico. Pyramid Pile Cure is in the form of a suppository, which is admitted to be the best form of treatment for piles; it comes in direct contact with the painful tumors and does its work quickly and painlessly. It is sold by druggists generally, for fifty cents a package and there is no other remedy "just as good." Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book describing the cause and cure of piles, as it is sent free for the asking.

Turkeys Were High. There was but a small market this morning, and while the thermometer was low, prices were high. Turkeys which can be bought in stores much cheaper, were held for as high as eight or ten cents a pound. Housewives would do well to first get the store prices before paying high prices on a cold market. A large number of turkeys came in on the early morning train, and a good many, and sold at from thirteen to fifteen cents a pound.
