The opposition to the by-law has been intense. The change from the two auditors, as originally proposed, has been explained. Two men, at small salary, could not be expected to remain in close attendance at the city hall, because the remuneration paid to them would not warrant that proseeding. But one can be in daily and One thing has been made clear by the discussion that the old plan of audit will not do any more, that the new departure has been warranted by the larger business of the city and the complexity of it. It has been shown that the one auditor was recommend ed by the finance committee of last year, and that the by-law which was then prepared was passed over to th council this year and was not adopte tor Wagner. "Our Lady of Christmas is Mother ! sister of the angels, beloved messennscarf, stole, muff or gauntlets? Our ger." With these words, Pastor Charles Wagner sums up a delightful "Christmas Message." In his dear Alsace they speak of "Mother Christmas," not "Father Christmas," as we do. It was the custom there, and doubtless it is so still throughout Alsace, for the Christmas lady, on the evening of the day, to enter the room where the festivities were in progress, "bearing as a torch the dear little tree," on which the gifts were hung. M.
