Fire Consumes 2,000 Barrels of Fruit.

Brighton, Ont., Jan. 10.—Fire broke out in William Wade's apple storage warehouse about nine o'clock last night and despite all efforts to save it, it was completely destroyed. The Grand Trunk assisted materially in saving the other storages and probably their own freight sheds and depot by holding back all trains and allowing the fire brigade to take water from their water crane. About 2,000 barrels of winter apples were stored in the building, some of which were insured. These were owned by William Wade and William Macklem, both of Brighton. Macklem had just finished repacking two carloads for export on Monday. These also were burned. The storage was only insured for $1,000.

AT PORT ARTHUR STOPS CHEFOO FESTIVITIES.

British Cruiser Intercepts Wireless Messages—Nogi's Army Hurries North—Japanese Convoy Captured—Remnant of Gallant Russian Garrison Pathetic Spectacle.

Special to the Whig.

London, Jan. 10.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph, from Chofoo, says that while the Japanese were celebrating the fall of Port Arthur in the theatre, on Sunday, an untoward communication was received. The Japanese consul instantly stopped the performance and dispersed the audience. It is stated that the news consisted of the information that there had been a disastrous mine explosion at Port Arthur. The same correspondent asserts that a large portion of Gen. Nogi's army has been already hurried north to Liao Yang.

The Port Louis correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the British cruiser, Morte, which is at that port, intercepted a number of cipher wireless messages, from stranger warships. The nationality using the cipher has not been fully decided yet, but the messages are believed to have been in a Japanese code. There have been reports from the eastward that Japanese cruisers are approaching. Nothing more has been seen or heard of the Baltic fleet, and it is believed that it is seeking shelter some where off the coast of Madagascar, or among the Comoro Islands. A large Russian ship was seen off Mayotte, one of the Comoro Islands, a few days ago.

Japanese Convoy Captured.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 10.—Gen. Kurapatkin reports that the Russians captured a Japanese convoy, near Saita, last Thursday.

Steadily Found Japanese.

Huanan, Jan. 9. (via Mukden), Jan. 10.—Russian artillery is steadily pounding the section of the Japanese lines west of Sihnia Pu and about Baitoshan and Sintangin. The Japanese are using balloons and searchlight, in efforts to locate Russian batteries which have been causing great annoyance. The past two days the Japanese have made two unsuccessful attempts to break through the Russian advance lines.

A Pathetic Sight.

Headquarters of the third Japanese army at Port Arthur, Jan. 6, (via Yonkon and Ten Tain), 10,000 men of the Russian garrison at Port Arthur to-day were marched from Yabotshi to Changlingtun, and the other detachments followed soon after. Each detachment was accompanied by six loaded transport carts. The Russians during the night, will be taken on special trains or open trucks to Dairen, and they will immediately embark for Japan.

CONVICT REFUSES OFFER.

Erna Bliss Turns His Back On Parole.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 10.—Tuesday a convict named Marquette refused the offer of the officers by turning his back on a parole that promised two and a half years' freedom. To-day, however, he went on his way rejoicing, having consented to accept the governor's clemency.

The convict was Erna Bliss, sent up from Grant county in 1901 for fifty years for a statutory crime. The cause of his action was much of a puzzle. However, he thought he had received a pardon and was free to do as he liked. When he found his liberty was subject to certain conditions and he demanded to be returned to his cell.

It was only after much explanation, coupled with a hint that such a thing as a refusal of parole was a vagary attempt to make it liable he would be sent to the criminal insane asylum, that he to-day was induced to vacate the premises.

Bliss is sixty or more. He seemed to get his mind into a state of a confusion to get him out of prison with the purpose of putting him in the poorhouse, and he entertained other hazy and erroneous ideas concerning it.

"If Americans have learnt nothing else from the primate's letter they would at least learn how to graduate in the art of suggesting much and holding back very much more."

COOLNESS AVERTS PANIC.

How Rev. Frank DuMoulin, Chicago, Acted.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Flames appearing among the decorations over the altar of St. Peter's Episcopal church, 1737 Belmont Avenue on Sunday evening, summoned the officiating priest, Rev. Frank DuMoulin, from prayer at the chancel to service in stalling panic, dismissing a frightened congregation of winter-crisis confidence and lighting the fire that threatened both the lives of the worshippers and their sanctuary. By reason of the priest's calmness and quick grasp of the situation, instilling confidence and presence of mind in those impelled to the church was quickly emptied without disorder or confusion, and pastor and assistant pastor, with the aid of the choir, were left free to contain the flames and save the building, a task they accomplished before the firemen arrived. Rev. Mr. DuMoulin is a Canadian, a native of Niagara Falls, Ont., and a son of the Bishop of Niagara.

A FIGHTING RAT.

It Routed A Cat And Tackled A Policeman.

New York, Jan. 9.—Persons in the neighborhood of Ross street and Wythe avenue, Williamsburg, yesterday afternoon witnessed a fierce fight between a cat and a rat, and Policeman Nicholas Benson, of the Clymer street station, was severely bitten in the leg before he succeeded in killing the rodent.

The rat ran out of the wagonway of a sulphur mill on Wallabout Creek, and fastened its teeth in the leg of Benson. Adjoining this is a stable. The stable doors were open and the rat ran in. The grocer's big grey cat was in the stable and with one bound had the rat by the back of the neck. Within the next five minutes the cat had got all it had bargained for. The rat freed itself from the cat's grip and fastened its teeth in the feline's throat. After a five minutes' combat the cat, with the rat's teeth in its throat, fell backward in the gutter. Policeman Benson was one of the spectators. He saw that the cat was no match for the rat, and with a big shove he struck at the rodent, which turned its attention to Benson. With one bound the rat sprang at the policeman and fastened its teeth in his right leg. Benson tried to shake off the animal, but it held a firm grip, and as the pain he was suffering was acute, Benson drew his revolver and pointing it at the rat's head killed it with one bullet.

Benson's wounds were cauterized by a doctor.

The exact amount of the damage cannot be ascertained, but it will be many thousands of dollars. The firemen and their apparatus were called at with ice and a strong wind helped the flames. Assistance was summoned from Detroit and a fire boat and firemen from Detroit succeeded in subduing the fire, which, at one time, threatened to destroy many places of business in Windsor down town district.
