WON'T MOVE.

Reservists Flatly Refuse to go to Manchuria.

MAJ. GEN. IJICHI NOGI'S CHIEF OF STAFF COMMANDS PORT ARTHUR.

Torpedo Boats Can Enter Harbor But It Is Not Yet Safe For Large Ships-Gravest Views of Russia's Internal Condition. Special to the Whig. 29.-Gen. Stossel, Shanghai, Jan. 20.-Gen. Stossel, commander of the Russian forces, upon their return from Port Arthur, on the French steamer Australian, from Nagasaki. They are bound for home.

Reservists Won't Move. London, Jan. 20.-A despatch to the Express says it is learned from a usually trustworthy source that 7,000 reservists, at Riga, have flatly refused to go to Manchuria, and have signed a document to that effect.

Ijichi Commands Port Arthur. Tokyo, Jan. 20.-Major-Gen. Ijichi, who was chief of staff to Gen. Nogi, during the siege of Port Arthur, and who arranged the terms of surrender, with the representatives of Gen. Stossel, has been appointed commander of the Port Arthur fortress. Japanese torpedo boats are now able to enter the harbor, but the entrance is not yet practicable for larger warships.

Grape In Blank Cartridge. St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.-According to military experts, indications point to a charge of grape having been inserted surreptitiously in a saluting cartridge at the ceremony of the raising of the waters of the Neva yesterday. If this was the case, probably only one man was involved, certainly if there was an extensive, deep-laid plot, or if an officer was involved, it was badly executed. It is now stated in official circles, however, that at gun practice, on Tuesday, a loaded shell was inadvertently left in the gun.

A gentleman who belonged to the czar's personal guard, was killed by one of the bullets. The battery from which the shot was fired, was under the titular command of the Grand Duke Mecklenburg-Strzelitz, who is a kinsman of the czar. All his men have been detained in barracks, and will be under nominal arrest until the completion of an investigation of the affair.

May Be Revolution.

London, Jan. 20.-The London papers to-day, and the St. Petersburg correspondents take the gravest view of the internal conditions in Russia. The majority express the belief that yesterday's incident was a premeditated attempt on the life of the Emperor. Nicholas and maintain that the strike is much more a political, than an industrial movement. In short they consider that every sign makes it appear that the empire is on the verge of a revolution. It is alleged that the St. Petersburg manufacturers have decided to reject the strikers' demands, and that the orthodox priest Father Gopov, the provincial member from Mantoulin, and who has constituted himself the leader of the strike movement, and who poses the men's complete sympathy, threatens to march, on Sunday, at the head of 100,000 strikers to the winter palace, with a petition for political rights, and that he will refuse to depart until the document is presented to the emperor.

Causing Great Uneasiness.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.-The strike situation is causing much uneasiness. There are many indications of it now spreading toward a general sympathy strike. Determined efforts are being made to call out the factory workers in St. Petersburg, numbering several hundreds of thousands, including the employees of the Russian Westinghouse company.

HUG WAS FATAL.

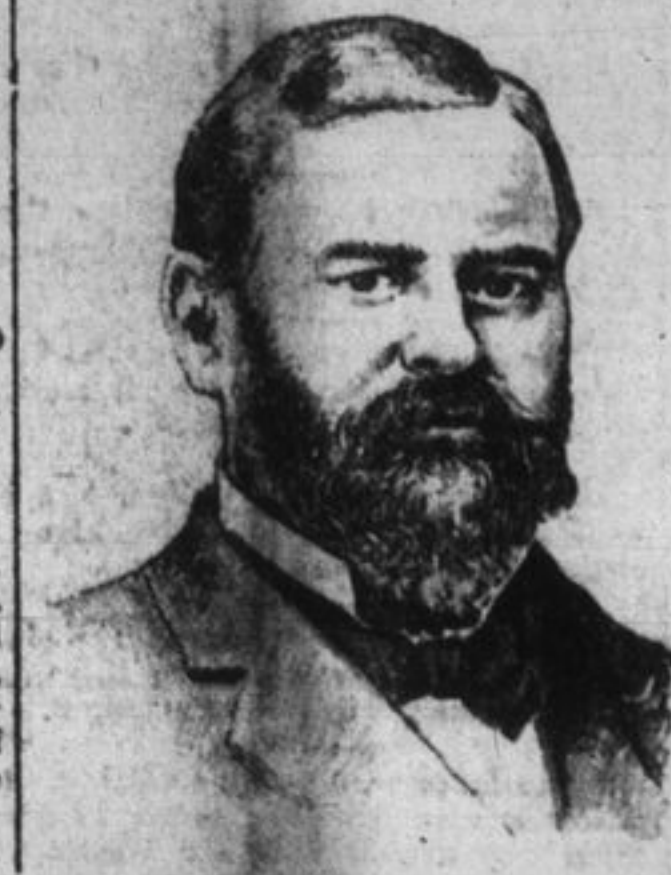

Husband Saw It And Shot Dead 'Wife's Lover.' Charlotte, Mich., Jan. 20.-Charles Smith, in a fit of jealous rage shot and killed Morton Kimes, aged sixteen years, because the latter, it is said, made love to Smith's wife. When Deputy Sheriff Spears reached the scene Smith was found propped up on the floor, and on seeing the officer, frankly remarked: "Spears, I have killed a man, and am ready to be locked up." The prisoner was taken to Eaton Rapids, arraigned before Justice Weatherax, waived examination, and would over to the circuit court for trial. It is possible Smith may plead guilty.

Local Option By-law.

Special to the Whig. Thessville, Ont., Jan. 28.-The local option by-law passed its third and final reading by the local council, last night, and will go into effect on the first day of May.

A SAD ENDING.

The Former Mayor Was Hanged For Murder. Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 20.-James Samuel McCue, a former mayor of Charlottesville, was hanged in the county jail here, to-day, for the murder of his wife. The execution attracted more public attention than any previous hanging in this section of the state. The crime for which the ex-mayor paid the death penalty, occurred on the night of September 4th of last year. Mr. and Mrs. McCue had gone to church, returning home about 9 p.m. Shortly afterward Mrs. McCue's dead body, clad in a night robe, was found in a bath tub filled with water. Mr. McCue told those who came in that some one had entered the house upon their return from church; that he had been knocked senseless and his wife probably killed. An investigation led to the arrest on the charge of murder of the man who only four days before had retired from the highest office in the city.

Mrs. McCue had received the contents of a shotgun in her breast, a sufficient wound to cause instant death, but in addition she had been struck a heavy blow on the head, cutting an ear nearly in two. Mr. McCue had first laid the crime to a stable boy, and offered $1,000 reward for evidence to convict the murderer. The day after he offered the reward, he was himself arrested for the crime. At the trial which followed several witnesses testified that the married life of Mr. and Mrs. McCue had been marred by jealousy on the part of the wife, and that they were continually quarrelling. One of the features of the trial was the fact that McCue had for years been a lawyer and convicted, and had been on friendly terms with most of those identified with the trial.

WOMEN'S DUEL.

Fists, Hatpins And Daggers Used In Tragedy. London, Jan. 20.-The Chronicle publishes the following from Paris: A remarkable crime in the open street took place in the Rue de Bondy, when two women, both of them well dressed, leaped out of cabs which had brought them to the place, and started fighting with their fists. Presently they used their nails, attacking each other ferociously and finally they chose hatpins for their weapons. At last the hatpins broke, and one of the women cried: "Now we must finish it. One of us must disappear." "As you wish," answered the other. The next minute they stood facing one another with daggers in their hands. The two women closed again, and with a terrible cry of agony, one fell backwards to the ground, saying, "Oh, she has killed me!" M. Pillard, a musician of the Porte St. Martin theatre, attempted to assist the wounded woman, but the other interposed, and plunged her dagger twice into M. Pillard's chest. Then, before the crowd could bar her way, she ran to where her cab was waiting, and, jumping into it, was driven off. The coachman slashed at the horses, and the murderer was soon out of sight. The wounded woman was taken to the hospital, where she died almost immediately. The police later arrested Clementine Poniaux, a girl of sixteen. Her plea is that she was first attacked, and struck out in self-defence.

GREAT STRIKE

Hopes of Settlement Have Vanished.

GO TO PALACE

SOME 400,000 MEN TO DEMONSTRATE.

Ministers Will Not Discuss The Situation With Strikers-A Petition To The Czar - "Be Merciful To Us And Let Us Live" Is Their Appeal. Special to the Whig. St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.-All prospects of an immediate settlement of the great strike among the shipping workers and operatives in St. Petersburg, and surrounding districts, have practically vanished. It is learned the ministers of the interior and finance have finally declined to receive a deputation of the operatives to discuss the situation with them. As a result an enormous demonstration before the palace, in which four hundred thousand workmen intend to participate, has been planned for to-day. At that time a petition will be handed to the czar asking for the carrying out of the strikers' demands and concluding "Be merciful to us, and let us live." The czar, feeling that the strike might readily become revolutionary in character, has ordered the commanding-general, throughout Russia to institute inquiries as to the extent of revolutionism in the army. The same orders have been sent to the naval stations. Strong measures will be taken to suppress all political agitation in both branches of the service.

LOOKING TO CANADA.

Great Cuts Of White Pine Being Made. Detroit, Mich., Jan. 20.-A Bay City despatch says: From practically nothing in 1898, the output of Georgian Bay saw mills grew to nearly a half billion feet last year. Last season's cut was by far the largest in the history of Georgian Bay white pine industry. The prospects for the coming year indicate that there will be little, if any, diminution in the cut. Practically all the cutting is done by Michigan mills and men. The greater part of the output is marketed in the United States and indeed, the entire eastern market is now looking to Canada for its white pine. Bay City, Saginaw, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo receive annually large quantities.

THE FIRST APPLICATION.

Of Its Kind Under New Railway Act Made. Ottawa, Jan. 20.-The first application of the kind under the railway act of 1903, was made in exchequer court, this afternoon, when the Montreal Street railway company, appealed from an order of the railway commissioners of December 27th, giving the Montreal Terminal company power to remove street rails laid on the night of October 31st on Pius XI avenue, Maisonneuve, on the grounds that the commissioners exceeded their jurisdiction. Campbell, K.C., appeared for petitioners; Dumont, K.C., and Belcourt, K.C., for Terminal company, and A. G. Blair for the commission. Justice Sedgewick decided that, prima facie, there was a doubt, but granted leave for an appeal at the next session of the supreme court. In the meantime the Terminal company can tear up the rails, on condition that they relay them, should the higher court decide against them.
