BROADBENT'S

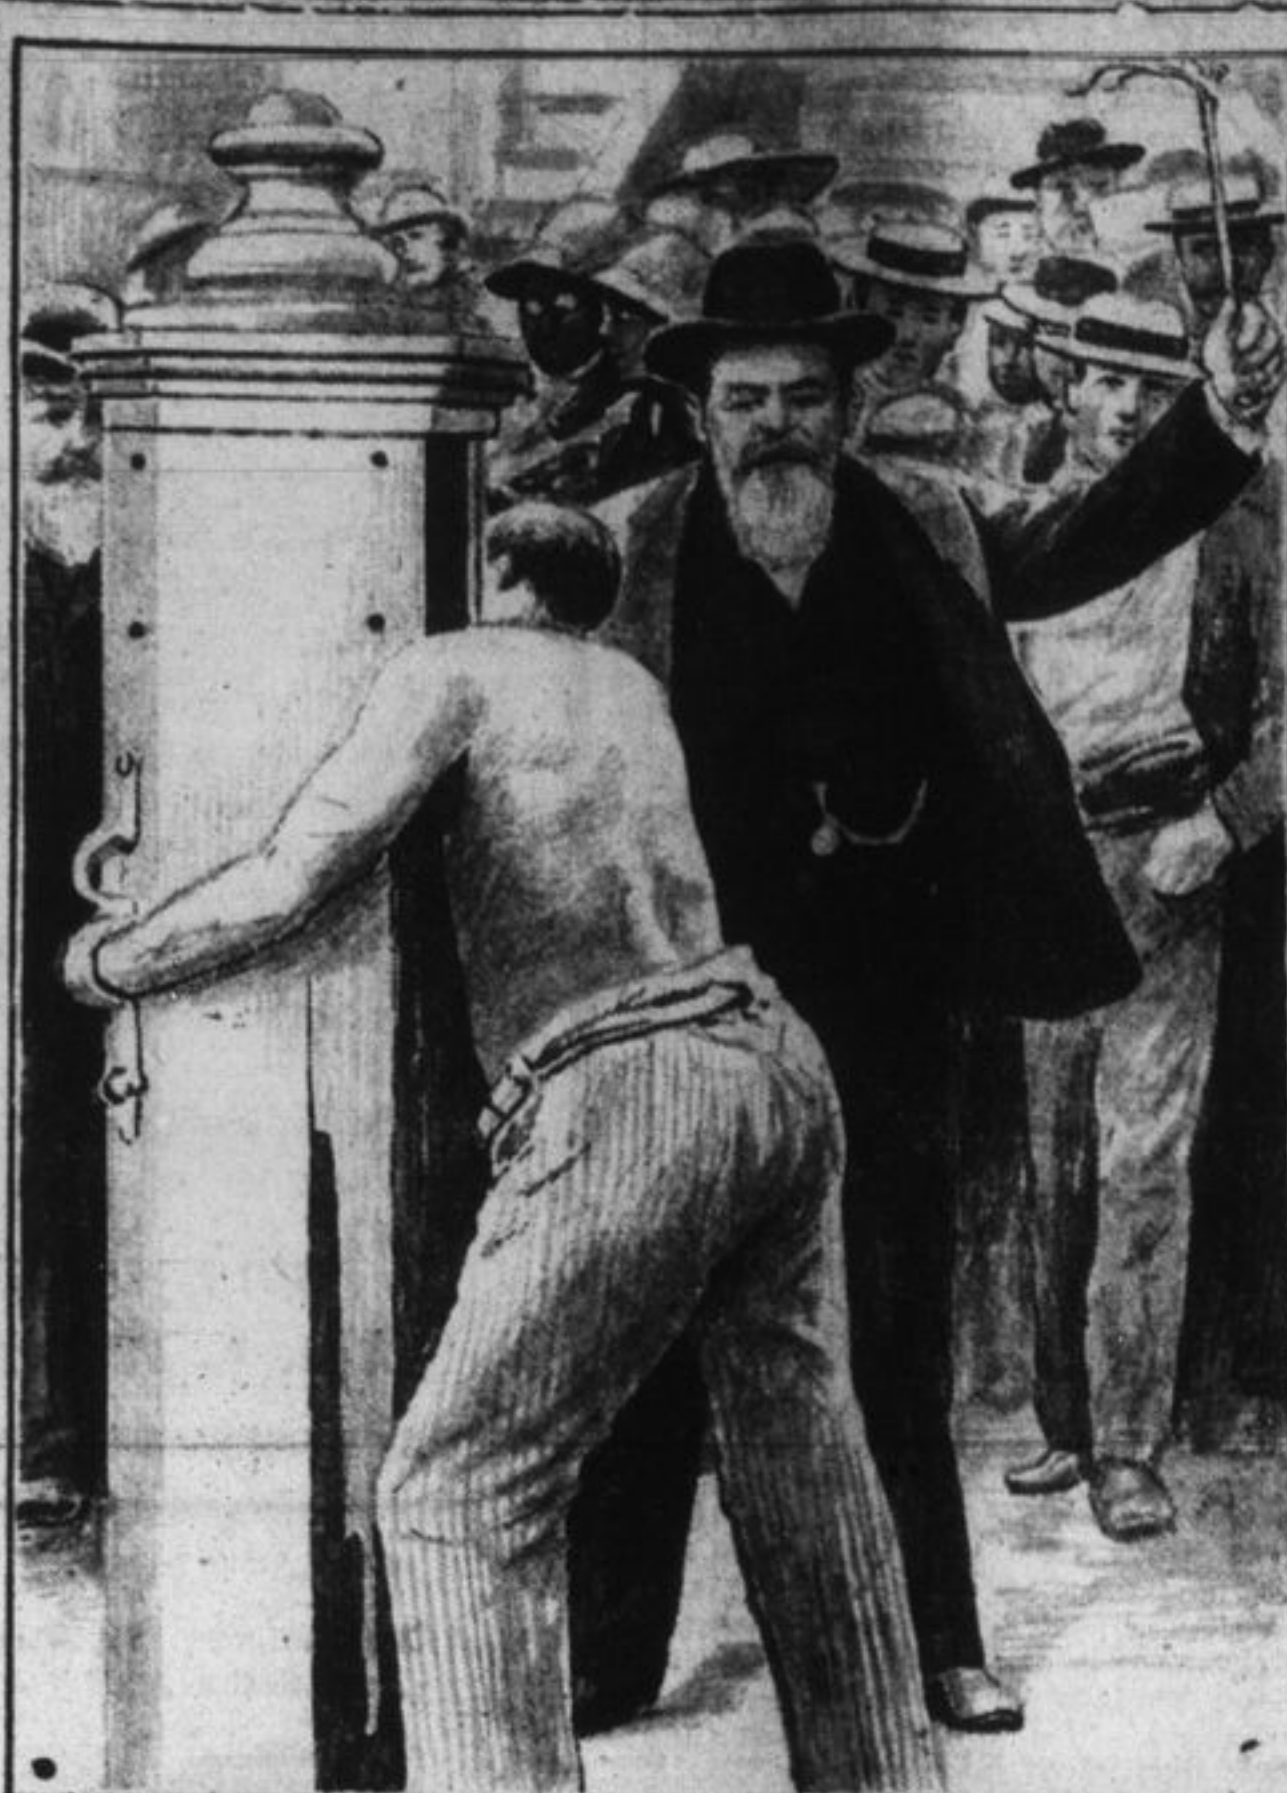

Letter From Greater New York.

NEW BURGLARY

JUST SUITS HIS FASTIDIOUS TASTE.

Nobody Is Hurt—Those Who Need Money, Get It—Those Who Can Afford To Lose It, Do.

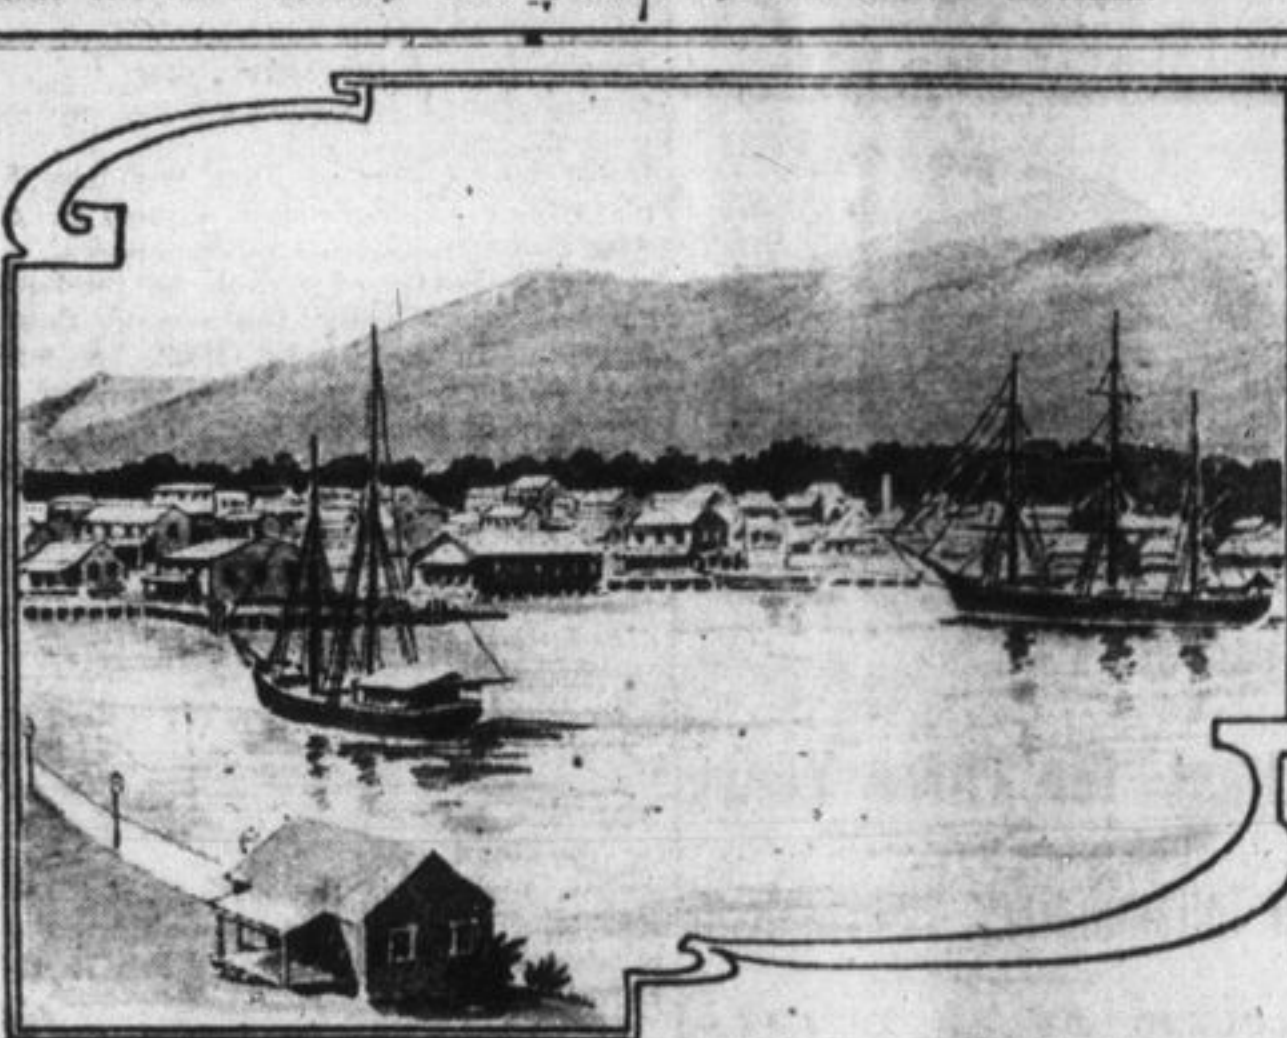

(Special correspondence letter, No. 1447.) New York, Feb. 17.—To a man who reads the newspapers and tries to solve the problem of crime, this idea stands out bold and clear, that the administrative power of justice, if properly administered, makes almost certain the detection of the criminal; no matter how clever he may be in covering up his tracks, the sleuth, if he be indeed a sleuth, do facts as well as de jure, the chances are ninety against the criminal every degree, of which is in favor of the department of justice. A wealthy brewer is in his house preparing to dine with some friends; a ring comes at the bell, and a servant goes to the door; the thief puts a pistol under her nose and insists on seeing the man of the house. The man of the house, seeing a fellow with a pistol in his fist, demands to know his business; he wants a hundred dollars, gets it, marches down stairs without hindrance and vanishes into the night. The startling point of this is, that it is a revelation in the annals of crime. As a criminal creation it is absolutely beautiful. Beautiful, you say? Yes, beautiful. How so? Why, don't you see this picture in your mind's eye? Here is a young man who wants a hundred dollars and he wants it badly; he knows that lager-beer brewers are generally a well-to-do class, and ordinarily have lots of loose change. I say it is beautiful for this reason. The man who wanted money got it; the man who paid the money could well spare it; nobody was hurt, and the principal gets what he wants, if there is a right kind of robbery, this is the genuine article. No. 1, thirty-six inches to the yard, and warranted to wash. It was only a few days later, when we heard of another robbery, of the same kind, but it was not such a howling success, for the fellow was a bungler, but the greatest exhibition of them all, took place when a neophyte in practice, tries to scare up another hundred dollars with an empty pistol; the robber rings the bell and the butler answers the call; the robber demands food; it is about five feet six in his stockings and as shabby and as lost as a looking varlet as ever rang a bell at any man's door; the butler, who is six feet one, shot out with his left duke, and caught the hungry robber under the jaw, then seized him, and although the robber threatened to kill him, he still hung on, and Mr. DeWitt, the owner of the house, hearing the row below, rushed down to his servant's assistance, grabbed the pistol from the thief's hand, and then, leaving the robber in the servant's charge, telephoned for a policeman, who soon arrived and took charge of the hungry thief. While awaiting the arrival of the police, Mr. DeWitt, like a Good Samaritan, took him down to his kitchen and fed him until he was full, fortifying his stomach for the perils which awaited him while in the hands of the police. Thus ends chapter first of a phenomenal house robbery. There is absolutely very little chance of a criminal getting away, if the parties injured, and eight thousand dollars off with his new silk. Take, for instance, the German Blue-beard, who married sixteen wives. He run a course of crime, the punishment of which would be at least a hundred years in state's prison. We have had plenty of bigamists here but nothing like Hoch. He married ten women. They were all widows, and generally, they were rich. We are not astonished at his running away with one wife's cash box; that was a bold robbery, but when the miserableascal rascal runs off with his new silk's frockcoat he places himself beyond the pale of human sympathy. Just as soon as the department of justice here was notified that Hoch would be in town, our police nabbed him and now they have him hand and foot. Then another instance, the case of Woods, in New Jersey, now under arrest, accused of the murder of George Williams, a grocer who had agreed to carry him to the home of a relative, eight miles away. The horse and sleigh is found in a dense piece of wood and the unfortunate grocer is found dead with a bullet in his heart. Inside of forty-eight hours, Woods was arrested and the net of evidence is drawn so tightly around him that his escape from

The widespread agitation in favor of the whipping post for wife beaters has drawn public attention to the state of Delaware, where the whipping post and pillory are established institutions. The picture shows the whipping post at Dover, the Sheriff handling the cat-o-nine-tails upon a prisoner sentenced to receive twenty lashes. In all cases the function is a public one.

the haugman's noose is almost impossible. One of the most remarkable and sensational robberies was that of the Manhattan Savings Bank, about twenty years ago. The bank was on the corner of Bleecker street and Broadway and the robbery was effected by Jimmy Hope and his son, the elder Hope being one of the most elaborate crooks of the country. This robbery was put up systematically; it enticed the janitor of the Manhattan building, a policeman who was then on guard, and two watchers whose names I have forgotten. The work was done in the darkness of night; the robbery was effected between six and eight o'clock in the morning. The windows were immense sheets of plate glass and the thousands of people passing up and down Broadway could see everything, apparently, that was going on inside. Jimmy Hope had a screen thrown across while he was at work on the safe; his hopeful son had a feather duster with which he was dusting off the counters, seen by everybody passing by. The bank was perfectly safe for there was a big burly policeman leaning up against the corner on the Broadway side. The president and the senate with regard to the treaty-making power. The president has given the senate to understand that the treaties now pending must be passed without amending; the senate conceives several amendments necessary, and as a co-ordinate part of the treaty-making power it insists upon its right to amend and has so amended and passed the treaties. The difference must be vital when Senator Lodge, the president's warmest friend, believes in the vindication of the senate's right. If possible, let us have peace.—BROADBENT.

AGAINST CUT IN WAGES. Coal Strikes Turned To Sources Of Profit. Washington, Feb. 17.—Before the Interstate Commerce commission, Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for William R. Hearst, charged that the coal strikes of 1900 and 1902 had been transformed by the railroads into sources of profit and that a wage reduction would not be justified by the lowering of coal rates and prices, as contended. He said that the contention of the railroads that they should be left free and untrammelled was in line with the opposition of every violator of the law to regulation. A pretty girl says many a young man who knows where to stop doesn't know when to go.

CATARH CANNOT BE CURED WITH LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and in a recent advertisement it was named the best tonic known, combined with the best blood purifiers acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, or Write for Catalogue. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CHURCH WORK

NUMEROUS CHANGES IN MINISTERIAL FIELDS.

A Great Free Church in New York Rockefeller's Great Gift to the Brooklyn, Y.M.C.A.—Declined Gift From Jockey Club.

Rev. W. Quarrington was ordained as pastor of Lakefield Baptist church. Rev. A. McVicar, Huntville, has been called by the Presbyterians of Attwood, and will be inducted on Thursday.

A canvass is about to be made on behalf of McMaster University, to raise a fund for the Forward Movement.

Rev. Hodgins, rector of St. Thomas' church, Seneca, for fifteen years, has been invited and gone to Holy Trinity church at Chatham.

At a meeting of the Presbyterian congregation of Maxwellville a unanimous call was extended to Rev. Boardman Mackay, formerly of Sherbrooke, N.S.

At the Baptist church, Moncton, N. B., Rev. David Hutchison announced that he had carefully considered their request to remain, and had definitely decided to accept the call to Main street church, St. John.

The Baptists of Calgary have decided to rebuild their church. The new building will be double the seating capacity of the former building with modern provision for Sunday school. The cost will be from $15,000 to $20,000.

Rev. W. B. Queker, B.A., B.D., Oronto, Ont., has received an invitation to become the pastor of the Metcalfe Street Methodist church, Ottawa, in 1905. The invitation has been accepted, subject to the approval of the stationing committee.

Rev. Dr. Drummond, pastor of Knox church, St. Thomas, who has accepted a call to St. Paul's church, Hamilton, was presented with an address, accompanied by a handsome gold watch and chain, and Mrs. Drummond with a cut glass vase.

The Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec having raised a jubilee fund of $200,000 is entitled to the $20,000 provided by the Congregational Union of England and Wales. All this money was to be expended in paying church debts. By next December Congregationalism in Canada will be free from debt.

Bishop Brent of the Philippine Islands recently startled the American community in Manila, by declining a gift of five hundred dollars for his hospital work from the Jockey Club, explaining that he could not use, in the work done in Christ's name money which he knew to be the proceeds of gambling.

Evian Roberts, while conducting a mission at Skewen, said he had received letters from England, Ireland, Scotland, Norway, Spain, America and South Africa, asking the people of Wales to pray for the extension of the revival to those countries. Prayer revivals were offered in response to the request.

Rev. D. O. Crossley, who has very acceptably filled three years' pastorate in the Bowmanville Methodist church, has received an unanimous invitation, subject to the approval of the stationing committee, Rev. Vernon H. Emory, Whitby, has received and accepted a similar invitation to succeed Mr. Crossley in the Bowmanville pastorate.

It has been officially announced that John D. Rockefeller has presented the Brooklyn Y.M.C.A. with $100,000, through John D. Rockefeller, Jr., conditional upon the raising by the association of $200,000 to be added to the public fund by January 1st next.

This is the second gift given to the association by Mr. Rockefeller. Some time ago he gave $100,000 to the fund that is being raised by the association to mark the completion of fifty years of work in Brooklyn.

It is recorded with gratification by the British and Foreign Bible Society that a native trader from Timbuctoo, visiting Bathurst took home a card with a text written in Arabic, and on returning to Bathurst the following day an Arabi Bible, the same great had been the interest excited among his fellow-countrymen by hearing the contents of the book that recently, on a third visit, he brought back to Bathurst.

St. Pierpont Morgan worships every Sunday he is in New York in a free jew. St. George's church is a free church, the same as the Holy Communion and the Church of the Ascension. The revenues of these churches are so large that there is no necessity for them to charge any rent. The poor are invited to attend and are given good seats. The Sunday collections in Dr. Rainford's church are said to average upwards of fifty thousand dollars. But this would not begin to pay the running expenses of the church and the various charities associated with it. It is in the latter direction that Mr. Morgan and other rich men who have free sittings have an opportunity to play the good Samaritan.

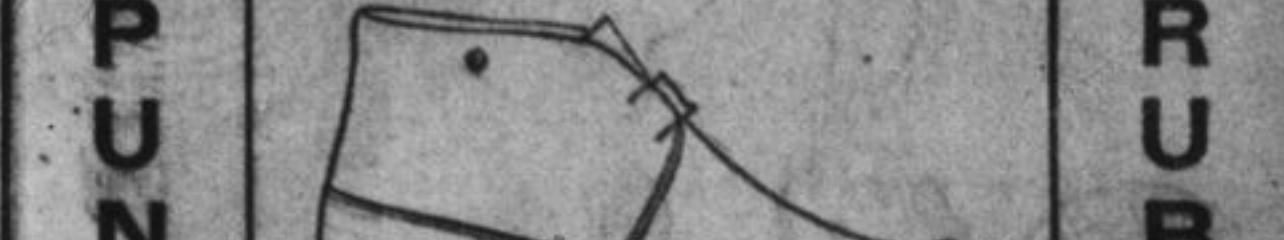

A Union movement of Protestant churches in Mexico City has been begun; the result in part of the evangelistic impulse of the Des Moines National Congregational council. The pastor of Union Church, in that city, was a delegate to that meeting and carried back with him a message which is being followed by a concerted effort to reach the unchurched members of the English-speaking colony in the capital of Mexico. Union prayer meetings have been held, the pastors are pressing home the responsibility of Christians as evangelists, and special invited services are to be held from February 12th to March 5th. The prayers of Christians are asked that this effort made under peculiar difficulties, may be successful.
