

"Seal Brand" Coffee may be a little more, per pound, than the "cheap" kinds, but its strength and peerless quality make it cheapest in the end, mentioning the greater satisfaction.

In 1 and 2 pound tins, sealed.

"Seal Brand" Coffee

born. - Montreal

arrivals!

are arriving daily, and soon to moth-ball your wardrobe to make your wardrobe snappy SUIT FOR a swing to every suit that's inside of it.

$5 TO $17.50. Every price

See the Suits.

BIBBY CO.

Shoes, Oak Hall, Kingston.

ifty years the

of the Cana-

Made to ar Sold by

Shoe Store.

abatt's

IS A PRIME

ORTER

side from tested natural spring selected barley malt and a of the choicest growths of Undoubtedly better for the and convalescent than any

LAND, Agent.

A Narrow Escape.

Dr. John G. Paton, known throughout the world as the Apostle of the Hebrides, has again narrowly escaped death at the hands of South Sea cannibals.

Lashes For Woman-Beaters.

Anyone wanting furniture or carpets this spring ought to get a handle on before 28th. Harrison Co's special sale ends then.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinckham's Advice Saves Many From This Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals.

More than three-fourths of the patients lying on these gynecological beds are women and girls who have made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the middle of the back, leucorrhoea, dizziness, faintness, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb, and if not heeded the trouble will make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness, at least, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Mrs. Robert Macdonald, 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinckham— "Lydia E. Pinckham's Vegetable Compound has well and wisely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in your favor. I suffered untold agonies from ovarian troubles for nearly three years, and the doctor told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. I try to accept my hearty thanks and best wishes.

Just as surely as Mrs. Glenn was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinckham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinckham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Lynn, Mass.

CARRIE NATION BESTED.

Dumped in Snow Heap By Bus Driver.

Medicine Lodge, Kas., Feb. 23.—Carrie Nation, visited her home town recently. On her arrival at the depot she and the bus driver, "Bill" Horn, who has long been a character in southwestern Kansas, quarrelled, and "Bill" pulled her out of the bus and tossed her into a snow pile. A trainman was attracted by Mrs. Nation's screams.

"Somebody come to my rescue. This drunken wretch will kill me," she said. He picked her up and set her on her feet. Horn was treated for assault and disturbing the peace.

In the trial Mrs. Nation said Horn pulled her hair, beat and kicked her several times, threw her out on the ground and cursed her. She said she in all her experience since entering her smashing crusade she had never been so terrified. Horn said that Mrs. Nation, on entering the bus, called him a drunkard and attempted to strike him with the handle of her suitcase. He did not deviate from his duty.

The jury endorsed "Bill's" theory by returning a verdict of guilty. Carrie got even by denouncing the courts and city officials as devils, anarchists, and hell-bound hypocrites.

Rheumatism Can Be Cured.

The fact that a disease has been difficult to cure is not proof that it cannot be readily cured. All diseases were hard to cure until the right remedies were found. Rheumatism— all kinds— can be cured with Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure. The remedy has been tested for years. It has cured hundreds of cases that nothing else would ever relieve. No sufferer is fair to himself until he tries this remedy. This is the preparation that cured John J. Peters, Sharbot Lake, and hundreds of others. In bottles, 50c., at Wade's drug store.

Christianity Shines.

The London Missionary Society records remarkable testimony of the quality of Japanese Christian soldiers. One of the most striking is a high military official (Japanese), not named. A Christian, he wrote to the British mission in these terms: "I have just returned from Port Arthur. I am not a betrayer, but I have noted among the good conduct of the Japanese soldiers in which they go into battle, and they bear themselves afterwards, free from excitement prejudicial to discipline. It would be a good thing for the army if all became Christians."

Another tells of a Christian Japanese soldier captured by the Russians and the Russian Red Cross Society, as he wished to show his obedience to the command, "Love your enemies."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Mother's Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children, for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it allays the fever, soothes the inflamed membrane, and is given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

Lashes For Woman-Beaters.

In line with increasing sentiment which believes that the claims for over any consideration to which women of brutality are entitled, the senate which provides for lashes on the bare back of any person who beats, whips, or mistreats his wife or any other woman, unless by accident or in self-defense.

Told in the Twilight

Miss Eleanor Macdonell's bridge, on Tuesday, was very bright and enjoyable, and her prizes, silver dressing-table accessories, especially pretty. These were won by Mrs. Carruthers, Mrs. Walter Macneil, Mrs. Brownfield, Mrs. James Gilderoy, Mrs. Deane, Mrs. Hemming, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Macnaughtan, Mrs. Cappon, Mrs. March, Mrs. Francis Macneil, Mrs. Constance Macneil, Mrs. Lora, Miss Constance Macneil, Mrs. Lora, Miss Constance Macneil, Mrs. Lora, Miss Constance Macneil.

Mrs. Macdonell gave a pleasant little affair yesterday for a number of young people which was very enjoyable. Instead of a dinner-dance, it began a little earlier, and was something in the nature of a tea-dance. Partners for tea were chosen by the uniting of several hearts, which had been written the first line of a popular song, these being tied with red and white ribbon, the R. M. C. Quartet was served at quarter of twelve. Miss Alma Macdonell, Miss Vera Macdonell, Miss Lora, Miss Constance Macneil, Miss Lora, Miss Constance Macneil.

The engagement is announced of Miss Hannah A. Hodgson, of St. Mary's, to Mr. William Angel, of Point Claire.

The engagement is announced of Miss Lena H. Jackson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson, of Ottawa, to Dr. Julius Emil Klotz, of Lanark, formerly of Ottawa.

Mr. Thomas Hodge, honorary secretary of the Wanderers' Hooker Club, of Montreal, is to be married Wednesday afternoon to Miss L. Schurman, of Montreal.

The marriage of Miss Olga St. George to Dr. Wilkins, will take place on April 24th, at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Ottawa.

The marriage of Captain George O'Farrell to Dorothy Vernon, of Sydney Mines, on Thursday, his brother, Major O'Farrell, of Ottawa, will act as best man.

Another Canadian girl is displaying histrionic talent on the stage. This one is acting at the Toronto Princess, and takes the part of Mary Queen of Scots, in "Dorothy Vernon of England." She is Miss Helen Ford, daughter of Mr. H. J. Stafford, of Montreal.

The Earl of Dundonald and Lady Elizabeth Carnegie left Southampton early in February for a trip to the West Indies.

THE C.O.C.F. CONCERT

Was A Great Success From Every Point.

The concert given by Kingston council, No. 20, C.O.C.F., in their rooms, on Tuesday, in honor of Miss Anne and Miss Kate Craig.

Each, without prizes, and delicious refreshments after the games, were the pleasures of an evening at the charming home of Mrs. S. J. Kilpatrick, University avenue, on Tuesday.

Mrs. T. F. Harrison, University avenue, entertained on Tuesday, and her guests spent a delightful evening.

Mrs. Birch's tea is on the cards for this afternoon.

Miss Spangenberg has sent out cards for an "At Home" to-morrow afternoon, at five o'clock.

Mrs. Andrew McMahon will entertain at home on Friday, March 2nd.

Miss Spangenberg has sent out cards for a euchre party on Wednesday, March 1st.

On Wednesday, March 1st, the bachelors of the city, will repeat their success of December last, and will give a ball in the city hall. There is much pleasant anticipation of the event, on the part of those who were present at its predecessor.

In the ladies' singles at the curling rink, this evening, Miss Mabel Dalton beat Mrs. Richard Hooper, and Miss Skinner won from Mrs. Almon. The singles will probably be finished next week, and a tea will come off shortly.

Miss Mowat is rather averse to taking the credit of the snowshoe tramp to Wolfe Island last Saturday, though some of the young men who were real instigators of the affair, felt that as Miss Ethelwyn Mowat, in conjunction with Miss Nina Ferguson, was kind enough to look after it for them, that the credit should go to the chaperons for their kindness.

Mr. Arthur Despard spent a few hours in Kingston, on his way through to Ottawa. Mrs. John Despard will remain in Picton with her husband's people, till she and Mr. Despard leave for Belgium, where the latter will be connected with the Canadian exhibit at the exposition in Brussels, next summer.

Mrs. Miller, who has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Macdonald, left on Monday for Ottawa.

Mrs. Charles Bate, of Ottawa, will be in town for a week or so yet.

Miss Nellie Hanley returned yesterday from Belleville.

Miss Minnie Dodge, of Toronto, is visiting in the city.

Mrs. Yates is spending a few days with Mrs. Prior.

It is probable that Miss Helen Ross will spend the remainder of the winter with her great-aunt, Miss Stoughton, at Hales Cottages.

Mrs. Leslie, of Belleville, is visiting with Mrs. James Leslie, University avenue.

Miss Ada Birch left to-day for Ottawa to visit with Mrs. J. H. L. Bogart. She will also pay a visit to Mrs. E. J. Prior.

Miss Madeline Dumble, of Belleville, is the guest of Mrs. McCammon.

Mr. John McKelvey will leave on Monday for Bermuda for the benefit

ARCTIC EMPIRE

A PEEP AT IT THROUGH GOOD EYES.

Commander Low Describes His Travels in Esquimaux Land—Enormous Northern Archipelago.

It is farther from Toronto to the northern limits of Canada than it is to Vancouver. From the international boundary to Ellesmere Land is 2,800 miles. The Arctic Archipelago has been mainly explored by British seamen, from Sir Martin Frobisher, Queen Elizabeth's old captain, in 1578, and Henry Hudson, after whom the bay was named, in 1610; Parry and Ross, in 1818; Franklin and others, down to Commander Low, who was the last to explore the coast.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low's expedition was a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

Mr. Low displayed a most interesting and artistic series of lantern slides from photographs taken in the Arctic Circle, one of the pictures showing the planting of the flag on Ellesmere Land. There was no agriculture in that latitude and never would be. But in Ellesmere Land the ice-cap was confined to the interior, and on the coast there was sufficient vegetation to feed herds of musk ox, caribou, Arctic hares and other creatures.

THE LITTLE WEEKLY PAPER.

Folks may prize the city dailies with their editorial views. With their business circulation and their telegraphic news. With their parliamentary speeches and the same old party song. And their so-called brainy essays which are always a weary read.

They may prize the great trade journals or the new class magazine. With its illustrated stories and the select in between.

But this one will with gladness which I long so for to come. Is the little weekly which they send me down from home.

"Tint" on every page edition for it has but only two.

"Tint" what folks would call artistic, for at every page and every line.

But it only serves to interest and I make out every word.

It is in the art and every, though sometimes my heart is bleat.

As I read it I feel that some old-time friend is dead.

But there's far more joy than sorrow in the message so sweet.

Of that little weekly which they send me down from home.

How it fills my heart with gladness as I read to peruse.

Through the briefly written columns of the little weekly which they send me down from home.

There are no long-winded headlines nor no colored pictures shown.

Nor the editor's art trying to tell folks all he knows.

It don't take up space in telling what has happened 'ere the sea.

But it speaks of things and people of great interest to us.

Never fills up half its columns with what don't interest us.

But it tells me Taylor's life is a striking quite a gall.

"That the baseball team is beating nearly everything in sight."

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

It don't deal with worthy matters which professors can't profound.

But it tells me Uncle Wiley is in health and getting sound.

That Uncle Wiley has traded off his team with Charlie Brown.

And that Uncle Silas Hamblin sold his famous Jersey cow.

Tells me that Uncle Silas is better, that she set up yesterday.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

That the Rev. Mr. Stinson lectured in the Baptist Church last night.

WHY DRINK Common Carbonated Waters

When for the same price you can get

Apollinaris

at any Bar or Restaurant?

Apollinaris is bottled ONLY at the Spring, Neuenahr, Germany, and ONLY with its own Natural Gas.

High Class Embroideries And Insertions

We have, without doubt, the largest and most attractive showing of high class needlework ever exhibited in your city.

Imported direct from the maker, which means a saving to you of from ten to fifteen cents on every dollar worth you buy. They are made on fine Nainsook and every piece is a work of art.

We Have All Kinds.

Embroideries, all widths. In many cases Insertions to match. Embroideries in sets of three widths, with Insertion. 42 inch Flouncings, also Demi Flouncings. All-over Embroideries for Waists and Yokes. Home-stitched Edging, Bands, etc., also Readings. Special Embroideries for Corset Covers at 25c., 35c. to 75c.

Remember, you can buy these only at Stacy's—Everybody's Store.

Correct Corsets

"First the Corset—then the Gown."

In these days a properly corseted woman is almost obliged to stand erect and well-poised, with her lungs in a position to take in all the good fresh air there is. This does not mean a tight corset, nor one that is uncomfortable, but simply the right model and the right lines.

You'll find every correct model here, and we'll take great pleasure in fitting you. Among our thirty makes of corsets to suit every type and variation of figure—beautiful models whose graceful contour and elegance of line have won the instant appreciation and approval of wearers and modistes. Come and ask to see them, or better still, select a pair suited to your figure before ordering your new spring costume or gown.

Prices from 35c. to $2. Every Corset Guaranteed.

SPENCE'S, The Leading Millinery and Mantle Store.

WE MAKE Block Tin Pipe & Small Tubing TO ORDER.

THE CANADA METAL CO. Toronto.

FEARS WATER FAMINE.

Past Year Has Been Exceptionally Dry.

London, Feb. 23.—The United Kingdom seems to be threatened with a water famine in the year 1905. Last year was exceptionally dry, and the deficiency since January 1st has been considerable, except in the northern portion of Scotland.

Many large