IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

It is a great satisfaction for a woman to feel that she can write to another teller of the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only, a woman full of sympathy for her sister's distress, and who has had above all, a woman who has had long experience in treating female ailments.

Over one hundred thousand cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, some by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day.

There is no other medicine in all the world which has such a record of cures of female ailments as Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A TOTAL ABSTAINER

IS JABEZ WHITE THE PRIZE FIGHTER.

He Would Take Nothing—He Owns An Hotel, But Seldom Sees Inside His Bar—Well Described.

New York, March 25.—No, thank you, nothing for me," said Jabez White, lightweight champion of England, as Charlie Mitchell beckoned to him in the little back cafe of the Metropolitan. Half a dozen sporting men huddled their chairs closer to the shiny round table, but White sat back with a politely indifferent smile as the parks pommel and the wine glugged into the tapering glasses.

It was the same room in which Young Corbett, "trained" for his first overwhelming defeat by Battling Nelson, the defeat that squelched the 14th Denverite's championship ambitions and sent him to join the army of ha-beens.

White is a six-foot, five-inch, high nose, the same sharply angled jaw. He resembles, feature for feature, the man whom he is going to fight next month in California.

White smiled a little amused smile and the corners of his thin lips curled upward. The idea of beginning his conditioning on the rolling billows was a new one to him, and he retorted that it was "quite beneficial, perhaps, but undeniably uncomfortable," don't you know?

William Rysdyk's Horse.

An Extravagant Shah.

It is high praise to say that it is the most unchallenged of kings yet this generation of architects, the Taj Mahal, Shah Jahan, the builder of this "dream of marble," as it has been called, ascended the throne as emperor of the Mogul empire in 1627.

Is The Emperor.

The general admission to the ruler of Russia is "the czar" is incorrect. His official title is "emperor and autocrat."

NICE WEATHER FOR DUCKS.

Hicks Predicts Lots of Rain During April.

Rev. I. R. Hicks, says of the weather we may expect in April: A marked change to warmer, with corresponding shift of the barometer, will progressively pass from west to east over the country during the first two or three days of April.

The 7th and 8th are central dates, on and touching which reactionary changes to storm conditions will take place.

A regular Vulcan storm period extends from the 11th to the 15th. The changes that go before the formation and approach of cloudiness and storms will appear in places westward as we enter this period, and later, say from the 13th to 15th, rain with thunder and storminess will touch numerous localities in their progress eastward over the country.
