

Palatable LUTELY DELICIOUS. ... unrivalled as a "Pick-me-up."

Smartest of Top Coats

Rain Coats are the top coats. ... sun shines, they're spring overcoats.

Smartest of Top Coats

big, broad shoulders—light, easy, comfortable.

Reform Wardrobe in this City

Kingston.

Swift's Scranton Coal

FIVE SIZES To Fit Any Stove Or Furnace.

JAMES SWIFT & CO. Telephone 135.

THE FRONTENAC LOAN & INVESTMENT SOCIETY. (ESTABLISHED 1863.)

President—Sir Richard Cartwright

Split, Brittle, Dull Hair

All Come From Dandruff, Which is Caused by a Germ.

Shooting At The Heavens.

Gossip is what one woman tries to say about another before the other gets a chance to say it about her.

JUST A MINUTE Read This Advt.

We would like to sell you your SPRING SUIT, even if you never wore a ready-to-wear garment before.

A Few Reasons Why You Should:

A garment should not only fit your figure, it should also fit your personality.

When you go to a custom-tailor you choose cloth from the bolt and guess what it will look like on you when made up.

When you come to us you can try it on the actual garment, you can see if it suits your individual preference, you can see if the pattern meets your ideas of good taste, if it helps your appearance or not.

Now, the theory does not convince like the practical test. Come in and let us show you what we can do.

The advance made in the last year (not in price) in the cut, fit and finish, is marvellous.

E. P. Jenkins Clothing Company "Male Attire Specialists."

WANTED. WORK BY THE DAY, BY A WOMAN.

STRONG BOY, FOR PRESS ROOM. Apply at the Whig.

AN EXPERIENCED GENERAL SERVANT. Apply to Mrs. B. Waddell, 176 King St.

AN EXPERIENCED HOUSEMAID. one used to parlor work, wages $8 per month. Apply, Mrs. E. F. Oiler, 66 Barris St.

HOUSEKEEPER. MIDDLE AGED woman desired. Apply, stating wages expected, to box 21, Whig office. References required.

TO BUY A STEAMBOAT, FOR freight and passenger service, light draft, but with good conveniences. Address, J. A. Savignac, 66 and 58 Albert St., Ottawa.

A SMART BOY, 14 OR 15 YEARS old, to act as assistant in Laboratory. Apply, to Dr. W. T. Council, at medical College, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon or 2 and 5 p.m.

GENTLEMEN TO GET THEIR Spring Suits made up at Gallows's, 121 Brock street, next to Bibby's. They style, fit, and price guaranteed to please. Dressing and repairing done promptly.

EVERY DAY, EVERY DAY, FOR a year, is good pay. It is being made with our goods. Household necessities, Groceries, Gas, Light, etc. Write to-day, G. Marshall & Co., London, Ont.

AGENTS—PERMANENT POSITION to sell Canada and World Map. See 6x10 inches; two maps in one; representative on work making $25 per week. Address, R. A. McNally & Co., 142 Fifth Ave., New York.

TO-LET DWELLINGS, STORES, OFFICES. Factories, etc. Apply, to Real Estate Agency, 51 Brock St.

HOUSE, NO. 247 BROCK STREET. No water heating, all modern improvements; possession May 1st. Apply 249 Brock street.

THE DESIRABLE RESIDENCE, 84 Barris St., opposite City Park. Possession May 1st. Apply to Miss Flanagan, 82 Barris St.

FINE BUSINESS OFFICE, FRONT room, 346 King Street; good location and well arranged. Apply to J. P. Forrest, Gent's Furnisher, King Street.

FROM 1ST JUNE, FOR THREE months or longer. Furnished house, street front, modern conveniences, central location. Apply by letter, to F. L. Box 32, Kingston.

TRAT BRICK DWELLING, SITUATED No. 189 Brock St., containing 11 Rooms, Bath and Kitchen, Gas, Light, hot water heating. Apply, C. Livingston & Bro., Brock St.

MODERN BRICK RESIDENCE, 114 Stuart St., 12 rooms, bath, gas, hot water. Possession immediately. Apply to Joseph Power or John Twissell.

COMFORTABLE BRICK FARM House, partly furnished, well situated on shore of Bay of Quinte, 2 1/2 miles west of Collingwood. Good stable accommodation. Stage daily to Kingston and Bath. Apply, H. C. Rothwell, Collingwood, Ont.

THAT DESIRABLE PROPERTY AT the Corner of Queen and Ontario Street, lately occupied by Mr. Harrison as a grocery store, large yard and outbuildings. Offers will be received for purchase. Apply to Walker & Walker, solicitors, Kingston.

FOR SALE. LOTS, 13, 14 AND 16 PEMBROKE Avenue; sewer and water on street. Apply, J. Warden, 38 Clarence St.

LADIES' SECOND-HAND BICYCLE. Cleveland make, good order. Price, $15. Apply, 184 Barris St.

GOOD BUILDING LOT, SOUTH SIDE Queen street, between Montreal and Beeset. Apply 49 Colborne street.

SAILING YACHT "GEISHA"; 25 foot class; in good condition, new rigging. A bargain at $250—cash. Further particulars apply, to J. C. C. Almon, Bank of Montreal, Kingston.

STRAYED OR STOLEN. ONE BLACK AND TAN COLLIE Dog, with long hair; has four white feet; answers to the name of Rover. Any person found harboring her will be prosecuted; any one giving any information as to her whereabouts will be liberally rewarded. W. J. Smith, Harrowsville, Box 4.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT. IN BEST LOCALITY, FURNISHED or unfurnished, brick house of eleven rooms. Modern conveniences. Liberal terms. Offer leaving town. Apply at this office.

DAILY MEMORANDA.

Horticultural Society, 8 p.m., Jewish Passover, to-morrow. Sports Committee, Victoria Day, 8 p.m.

Light Plant Committee, 4 p.m., Tuesday.

If it weren't for pin women wouldn't be so stuck up.

A woman seldom means the mean things she says.

Banquet to C. D. McFarlane, British-American, 9 p.m.

The sun rises Tuesday at 5:14 a.m. and sets at 6:46 p.m.

Is a pretty girl like a street car just because the men run after her?

This day in history—Kandahar evacuated, 1881; Relief of Chitral, 1895; Kaiser sees Queen of Holland, 1900.

Special to the Whig. Singapore, April 17.—The North German Lloyd steamship, Prinz Heinrich, reports that the eighteenth vessels of the Russian Baltic squadron in Kamerah Bay, at noon, on Friday last. The steamer did not sight any Japanese warships. The seven Dutch cruisers, now at Rangoon, are in Cochin China, about 200 miles north-east of Saigon.

Has Changed His Course. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

BALTIC FLEET Is Said To Be In Kamerah Bay.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—The North German Lloyd steamship, Prinz Heinrich, reports that the eighteenth vessels of the Russian Baltic squadron in Kamerah Bay, at noon, on Friday last. The steamer did not sight any Japanese warships. The seven Dutch cruisers, now at Rangoon, are in Cochin China, about 200 miles north-east of Saigon.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.

Special to the Whig. London, April 17.—It is considered here, that little, if anything, can be inferred from the report made by the captain of the German steamer, Prinz Heinrich, at Singapore, that he had seen warships in Kamerah Bay. It is pointed out that these might have been colliers and transporters, from which Admiral Rojstevsky had taken what he wanted, and then proceeded north with his fighting ships. Kamerah Bay is in land-locked harbor.