Little Lad's Death.

Perth, April 26.—A number of visitors were here for Easter, among which were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Miller, Brockville, and Mr. O'Brien, Ottawa. Harold Allan, Toronto, and many others. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMillan spent Easter Sunday with Mrs. McMillan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Fournier, Althorpe. A very sad accident happened at the home of William King, Wilson street, yesterday morning. While Mr. King was in the stall watering one of his horses, his little boy, not quite two years old, came in the stable, and as Mr. King's back was turned, the little fellow put his hand on the horse's leg, and just as Mr. King heard him speak to the horse he looked around, and in an instant the horse had kicked him on the head, which caused his death. Medical aid was summoned at once, but nothing could be done to save the little fellow, and he died about three hours later. Great sympathy is extended to the sorrowing parents.

Pure, Healthful, Refreshing Apollinaris "The Queen of Table Waters"

NOT "MACHINE-MADE." WHAT'S the difference between a "Machine-made" shoe, and a shoe made with machines? Just the difference there is between their products—the average $3.50 shoe, and a "Slater Shoe."

Very little skill goes into "machine-made" shoes, the process being almost automatic, the result unreliable as it is cheap.

"The Slater Shoe" is practically "Custom-made," by skilled workmen who uses certain ingenious machines, as the bench-workman uses tools.

These complex tools work five times as fast as Awl, Wax, thread, and Knife, but they do sure work nevertheless. Don't forget that they are used merely as tools, and that the individuality of the workman is in no way affected.

He can put into each pair, the same "Custom-made" style and service that would cost double if he used regular bench tools instead of the Goodyear Welt machines.

These machines give to each workman five pairs of arms, and his head can direct the five pairs as well as one pair.

We only permit him to use such of these machine-tools as do better than custom-work.

But a large part of "The Slater Shoe" is still made and finished, by hand, though there are machines that would do that work far cheaper but less reliably.

It is the skill, and the hand-work in "The Slater Shoes" that costs most, makes them look better, and wear longer than "Machine-made" shoes of the same price.

The slate-frame trade-mark, stamped inside the shoe lining, protects your interests, and tells the Makers' price, $3.50 or $5.00.
