ONE BOX OF
DOAN'S KIDNEY
PILLS
CURED DROPSY.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, as many people believe, but is an evidence of very severe kidney trouble. Dropsy is caused by watery particles oozing through the walls of the arteries when they are distended by unusual pressure, which can only be caused by obstructions in the kidneys. The symptoms of Dropsy are puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, urine changed in character and appearance, smothering feeling from exertion or excitement. The only rational method of treating this disease is to reach the kidneys and restore them to a healthy condition.
 The most successful remedy for this purpose is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what Miss Agnes Croelman, Upper Smithville, N.S., says of them—"I caught a cold, which settled in my kidneys, and turned to dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet became bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color.
 I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and found by their use that I was cured in a very short time. I have never had any trouble with it since."
 Price 50 cents, per box, or 3 for $1.50.

 $12,000,000.
 Special to the Whig, May 27.—Counsel for New York, May 27.—Counsel for John Nicholas Brown, known as the world's richest baby, will be the first to make formal protest against the raising of personal property valuations by the tax assessors of Newport. The child, now nearly four years old, received practically all of the estate of his father, the late John Nicholas Brown, but nearly all that of his uncle, Harold Brown. His father and uncle died when he was a few months old and left him an estate valued at many millions. The tax assessors of Newport put his personal property down as worth $125,000, 000. They have now raised it, but to what extent has not been divulged.
 The child's personal property has been generally estimated at $10,000,000.
 Some persons have placed the value as high as $12,000,000.

Penetrates And Heals.
 When you use Smith's White Liniment

An Interesting Game.
 Any number of persons may play this game. It requires no preparation, but the wits of the players must be bright and alert to make it a success.
 The leader asks each player in turn what he planted in his garden, and the player may name any article he chooses, but the thing that "came up" must be some plant that has a connection with the article. The answer, chosen, therefore, always be-given instantly as a hint to the player. It is necessary to make the answer good. That, however, will make the game all the more entertaining.
 Here are a few answers that show what curative power and the remedy never fails to cure promptly and thoroughly. In big bottles, only at Wade's.

Root It Out Before It Owns You. In the Worst Cases "Catarrh" Always Cures.
 To destroy the seed of Catarrh you must inhale "Catarrhazone"; it repels the onslaught of the disease with lightning swiftness. The germs are instantly killed, the sore membranes are healed. The antiseptic vapour of Catarrhazone effects a complete cure of it quickly, too.

Proof of Cure.
 MISS HELEN BROWN, of Annapolis, N.S., writes: "I have used Catarrhazone and always found it satisfactory. It gives immediate relief to coughs and colds, and is the cleanest, surest and most convenient cure for catarrh I ever met."
 No matter how chronic the case, Catarrhazone always cures. It is a direct treatment that attacks the cause of the disease and consequently can't fail to be successful. Once cured by Catarrhazone you stay cured. Catarrh will never bother you again.
 You run no risk with Catarrhazone.

ADVERTISING TALKS.

Bryon G. Moon Writes on "Trade Marks and Retail Trade."

The course of the retailer in business has been gradually following out the same lines as that of the jobber.
 Where the retailer ten or twenty years ago bought his goods any place he wished and sold them under any name he desired, he is now buying trade-marked goods and selling them because of a definite demand created by the manufacturer.
 The personality of the retailer is becoming more and more subordinate to the service given his trade by the use of advertised brands, instead of giving his customers the idea that he is having goods made especially for his individual store. He is not obliged to sell goods whose merits are practically unknown to the purchaser and guaranteed only by his personality.
 The retailer is in business for a living and for profit. For this reason it does not matter whether I, as a retailer, sell one manufacturer's line of goods or another's. It is entirely a question of whether my trade calls for the goods I have to sell, and whether they will give me the same satisfaction and cause the purchaser to remember my store in the future.
 In the past three months I have probably called on a hundred retailers in order to find out why they sell one brand of collars in preference to another. The answer received from practically every one of these dealers has been "I sell 'The Jones' collar because it is advertised and because it is known and called for by name. I sell it because of a trade which has been established for this particular line of goods, and I will continue to sell them as long as the majority of my calls are for the collar I have in stock."
 Many retailers have told me that they have increased their collar trade every year for ten and twenty years.
 Retailers selling various brands have told me the same thing. Why is it that practically all the dealers in each town have increased their collar business? One important reason must be that collars have been advertised.
 This advertising has been such that consumers have been educated to believe that a neat collar is an important part of proper dress.
 For this reason the collar trade consumption of to-day is hundreds of times larger than it was but a few years ago.

The situation among retailers, then, is that they are doing a larger business now than ever before because of the educational feature in the advertising by the manufacturer for the various articles they sell. There is possibly no large a profit now as in the days of ten or twenty years ago, but the retailer finds that advertising has practically already sold the goods when the prospective buyer comes to his store, where formerly it was necessary for him to create the demand and make the sale when the prospective buyer called. We now find the condition such that the consumer practically knows before he ever comes into the store just what he wishes. As a result, even though the profits are smaller, the sales are more quickly made, more people want to buy and hence larger profits come to the retailer.

You can, as a retailer, however, make use of the personal trade-mark to your advantage in connection with the goods you sell. My suggestion is any energetic retailer is to have a trade-mark and put it on every article he sells if he can possibly do so. Do not make this trade-mark the only one; do not try to make it predominate, but use it in connection with the trade-mark of the manufacturer. If your selection from the advertised lines of manufacture are first-class, you will find the manufacturer's trade-mark will assist you in selling the goods, provided the consumer has been taught through advertising the individual merits of your goods. You will also find that your own trade-mark in connection with those popular lines of goods stamps your business as most staple and reliable.

If the trade-marks of some of the goods you sell are not already popularized by the manufacturer, you can use your own trade-mark on them to advantage, since the same confidence is given to buyers of the un-advertised goods, that is already given with those lines advertised.

By following out these suggestions it does not mean that you are less individual in your business.
 Your personality in the retail trade can be strongly impressed through your advertising copy; in the manner

Pleased With The Road.
 Lord Hawke is a judge of comfort in travel if any man is. Last week he returned from India and Japan by way of the Pacific and Canada, and we can well believe how every Canadian Pacific railway official will blush as he reads what the famous cricketer has to say in the Sheffield Daily Telegraph: "I have never known such a company as the Canadian Pacific railway," says he, "the travelling is luxury. Everyone on the whole line is civil, kind and willing to do everything to add to one's comfort. As to the journey across the Rockies, it was superb. Once we had a rare experience of one engine at the front of a second, with a third pushing its hardest at the rear. We shouldn't have got up otherwise. I was with Lord and Lady Castlereagh on that part of the trip, and we couldn't have had a finer time of it. The scenery is wonderful."

Sunshine Furnace
 Don't Sift Ashes;
 —ruin your clothes, injure your hands, raise a dust, the meanest, dirtiest job a man can do—and no work for a woman.
 What then? Waste good coal? Increase expense?
 No, use a furnace that burns all the coal, that does not shake down some ashes and a lot of coal.
 Use a furnace with a grate that drops ashes, but holds the coal — a furnace with such perfect combustion that all the coal is burnt and gives off all the heat that's in it.
 That is the Sunshine Furnace made by McClary's —the only furnace that's built to burn all the coal and shake down nothing but ashes.
 Built with an ash-pan, no shovelling, no sifting, no dust, no spoiled clothes, no expensating, expensive waste.
 The most modern furnace built, the best burner and best heater—the easiest furnace to manage—the very best.
 Write for our furnace booklet, it is worth reading.
