TO LAY CINDER PATH ALONG HOTEL DIEU PROPERTY, JOHNSTON ST.
City Would Have to Pay Full Cost of Granolithic Walk—General Business Transacted by the Board of Works.
The board of works met yesterday afternoon, with Aldermen Hoag (chairman), Sears, Carson and Ross in attendance.
The engineer reported that there was no ground for the complaint of Thomas Kelly regarding the flooding of his cellar near the corner of King and Pembroke streets. Any stopping in the main drain, which would result in the flooding of the complainant's cellar, must have occurred beyond the city limits. Mr. Kelly's house is not within the city limits. The engineer spoke of no record of any permit having been given Mr. Kelly to enter the King street drain, and therefore advised that he be charged for frontage for entry. In view of this no action was taken on Mr. Kelly's claim.
T. J. Higney complained of the boardwalk on the east side of Johnston street, between Bagot and Sydenham streets, as being dangerous. The engineer reported two months ago on the walk. The board of works then decided to let the matter stand for the present because of the cost, the whole of which the city would have to stand as the Hotel Dieu authorities cannot be taxed. A granolithic walk would cost $200 a boardwalk $292, and a cinder path $125. The city solicitor advised the walk to be torn up, so as to go away with the risk of accidents. Ald. Carson favored a cinder path for the whole of a granolithic walk. On the motion of Ald. Ross, the committee decided to have the present walk torn up and a cinder path laid.
The engineer reported that the chairman and himself had examined Sixth street, with a view to macadamizing the street from the rear of the board of works could not afford to do the work this year. On Ald. Sears' motion, no action was taken on the petition of residents of that street.
No action was taken on the petition of the Police and others, protesting against street watering on Division street, between Queen and Princess streets. The petition of Queen's University for granolithic walk alongside the university property on Arch street from Beaton street to the medical college entrance was granted. License was granted the petition for a granolithic walk of residents on Barck street between Wellington and Rideau streets.
The engineer reported against selling the old lumber for use on the outer Union street, which are being replaced by granolithic. The city requires all such lumber for patching and other purposes.
The four concerns that own poles on the streets—the G. N. W. Telegraph company, Bell Telephone company, street railway and the light and power plant. The former two paint their poles red and drab; the latter are not painted at all. It was decided that the city's poles should be painted the same as the other two companies. The city, it seems, has no authority over the street railway poles.
No action was taken on the petition of Christiana Claxton and others against a granolithic walk on Division street, between Johnston and Brook streets. It was decided to ask the city council, by a two-third vote, to insist that a permanent walk be laid on the block in question, as the present one is in a dangerous condition.

AT THE GRAND.
A Very Fine Exhibition of Minstrelsy.
At the Grand Opera House, last night, one of the best minstrel shows seen in this city for some time, was put on under the management of Richards & Pringle. The members of the company are all genuine colored artists with no necessity of burlesque application. Part of the programme consisted of a number of solos, comic and sentimental, which were all rendered in a most pleasing manner by the vocalists. The end men and all the comedy work was of the wholesome variety. The solo making the most pronounced hit was, probably, "Never," sung by Clarence Powell. In this portion, the costumes were also very fine.
The vaudeville work in the second portion of the programme was also exceptionally good and evoked much applause. The magic work of Isaac Willis was of the first order, while the mimicry of Harry Fidler and the acrobatic work of the three Tonneys were excellent. To wind up the performance, Jim Jackson at St. Louis kept the audience in a roar of laughter. The attendance was large and the general satisfaction expressed, evidenced the fact that good minstrelsy is still a favorite entertainment in this city.

Invites 14th Regiment for 4th of July "Doings."
An invitation has been sent by the Watertown Separate company to the 14th Regiment, to visit that place on July 2nd. The invitation has been declined with the explanation that the trip to Utica has already been accepted for that date. Further particulars in regard to the celebration at the latter place are awaited. The regiment will parade on Tuesday morning from 9:30 until 2 o'clock, after which the men will be dismissed. The afternoon, there is to be a monster demonstration in which fire brigades and bands from all over New York State will take part. The 14th Band has been invited to enter. A band competition, for a money prize, and will probably accept.
A Teachers' College.
The teachers of Eastern Ontario are of opinion that the present mode of training teachers is inadequate and suggest the establishment of a teachers' college affiliated with a university. In this college the model, normal and pedagogical training could be done, under one direction and with better results than the present way. The matter is worthy the attention of the government and educationists, and the college authorities at Queen's should move to get such a valuable institution located here. The university qualifications are all to be desired.
A Good Proposition.
The teachers of various counties about Ottawa, have organized a joint association and, by resolution, approved the formation of an Eastern Ontario Teachers' Association. The scheme is feasible and it is possible, that if Hastings, Lennox, Addington and Frontenac joined the project, Kingston would be made the organization spot. The association could meet biennially.

PERTINENT ENQUIRY SHOULD PROVINCE HAVE MINISTER OF HEALTH?
Queen's Quarterly Renews Question by Saying "Yes"—Dr. Willoughby Suggested for Position.
Toronto World.
Queen's Medical Quarterly has given a new life to the question of a portfolio of health in the Ontario government in an editorial, in which Dr. Willoughby is mentioned as an appropriate man for the position. The idea is strongly favored by Dr. Hodgkiss, who is in charge of that portion of the provincial secretary's department dealing with public health.
At the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association, to be held in the Medical Building, June 6th, 7th and 8th, Dr. Hodgkiss will give voice to his convictions in a paper to be read before the association, entitled "A Plea for a Provincial Minister of Health."
It is not generally known that as much public money is spent in Ontario every year on public health as upon agriculture or education.
The subject is a large one, viewed from many points but when considered in the light of its vast importance to the public welfare those closely touched it should be directed by a special board, instead of forming a part of the many responsibilities carried by the provincial secretary's department. The benefits of such a portfolio are clearly set forth in the organ of the medical college in connection with Queen's University, at Kingston, one of the foremost medical training institutions on the continent.
The editorial remarks referred to are as follows:
"There is new political talk to the effect that the Ontario government has under consideration the proposal to appoint a minister of public health, and place under his control the work of the administration of hospitals, asylums, sanitariums and charitable institutions and the inspection of immigrants. This is something that will commend itself to the public generally. It presents these interests are distributed among various departments of the government, there is frequently lack of co-operation as a result. If brought together under the administration of a man of experience in his profession and of tried business capacity, there would be a great increase of efficiency and the greatest benefit to the people."
"Dr. Willoughby has been mentioned, and, indeed, a more creditable minister of the new department could not be found who has the confidence of the profession."

A PURSE OF GOLD.
Rev. Father Kelly's Comfort Looked After.
Rev. Father Kelly was the recipient of a very timely and generous gift from the members of St. Francis de Sales congregation, Smith's Falls. A few weeks ago Father Kelly received a gift of a fine horse from his friend, James Swift, Kingston. The horse, without a collar, saddle, bridle, harness or any other necessary apparatus, was a very handsome covered phaeton, and will also buy a cutter. This is not all, however, for Mr. O'Donnell, of Lombardy, presented Father Kelly with a fine lap rug, a whip and a pair of driving gloves. Mr. Healy presented him with a fine set of harness. Father Kelly has now a complete outfit, and in order that his horse be kept in good condition, members of the congregation have agreed that they will keep him well supplied with oats and hay—all of which goes to prove that the hearts of the people are kind and generous in a good cause, and Father Kelly is certainly deserving of congratulations.
Who Were Jarred?
The Kingston Monthly Bazaar, organ of the Princess Street Methodist church, makes this criticism: "The routine of district meeting in connection with a Methodist church district is always interesting and helpful. We have never known a layman who attended the district meeting for the first time, but realized as never before the need of precision and conscientiousness in the working out of district business. Such meetings ought to produce pure Christian intelligence and church loyalty. Doubtless, when some laymen with more than ordinary aggressiveness and possibly with some axes to grind, capture a layman meeting for the purpose of arranging the various district decisions that are to take place, it jars the simple-minded novice who supposes that all these things are left to Providence, and his weak conscience is in danger through the conscience of those who are even weaker. Gentlemen in such meetings owe a great deal to one another, to God and to the church, and singleness of purpose, prayer and consecration are most befitting."

In the local House of Industry, on October 1st, 1903, there were 39 persons being cared for. During 1904 there were admitted 81 others in inmates, which made a total of 128 for the year, of whom 70 were discharged and six died, so that at the end of the fiscal year, September 30th, there remained 43 inmates. The total stay of the inmates numbered 16,250 days, with an average stay of 135 days per inmate. The cost of dietaries was $1,202.25, and expenditure for fuel, salaries, etc., $2,448.53. A SERIOUS MISTAKE
Made By Board of Works in Rejecting Militia Offer.
The board of works has made a serious mistake in not accepting the offer of the militia department to pay one-half the cost of rebuilding the retaining wall adjoining the Artillery park on Montreal street and half the cost of the proposed granolithic walk along the park. The committee was slow in seeing that the offer was a generous one; generous in view of the fact that the city solicitor reported that the government would not pay anything for local improvements, such as walks. At its meeting two weeks ago, the board of works didn't accept the militia department's offer as it should have done, but, instead, decided to ask the department to build the retaining wall and pay one-half the cost of the walk. Now, the word comes from Ottawa, through the city solicitor, that the matter has been referred to the justice department and that the government will not pay anything towards the walk. The original offer of the militia department was made through the energies of Hon. Mr. Hartly. The latter is now trying to have it renewed, thus remedy the mistake made by the board of works. In case it is not, a cinder path will be laid along the Artillery park, as the present boardwalk must be torn up, it being dangerous.

READY A DESERTER ADMITTED THE FACT AT BROCKVILLE.
Immigrant Inspector Lewis, Cape Vincent, Writes of the Case—Tried to Do His Duty—Critic Should Divide His Attention.
"It would seem that Immigrant Inspector Lewis hit the nail on the head by not admitting Ready to the United States recently. The Brockville Recorder says: Ready struck Brockville Saturday afternoon and was sheltered at the police headquarters until Monday when he given a pass to Kingston. He expressed a desire to cross from here to Watertown, N.Y., and was interviewed by U. S. Immigration Inspector Crawford to whom he admitted being a deserter from the United States army many years ago."
Cape Vincent, N.Y., June 1.—(To the Editor): Please publish the enclosed clipping for the benefit of the person who writes so much criticism against me for the work I am doing; it would not be very bad for him to divide it up with other inspectors. And I am very much afraid he will have to spread it over the map among the inspectors both the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans, who will surely reject Mr. Ready, that the proportionate share will not hurt very much. As I have been informed who the gentleman is who has been writing, it would be just as well for him to look after his own affairs and not bother about mine. I think if he were man enough to acknowledge it, it was not a question of "old Soldier" with him, but one of nationality. Perhaps if he would let the United States government know how good an immigrant inspector he would make, he might stand a show, not to get a position, though if he works along the lines he suggests.
I do not think there has been any thing said about my work by any United States citizen, other than what the papers have copied from the Kingston paper if they have any complaint against me, I have heard nothing of it.—W. D. LEWIS.
