Red hair is not devoid of character, but from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others that he neglects himself.

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD

A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL.

Miss Emma Cole Says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood!

Miss Emma Cole of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes: "I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Miss Emma Cole.

Girls' modesty and oversensitiveness often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, because they withhold their confidence at this critical period.

A mother should come to her child's aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at all times prepare the system for the coming change and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years I had soreness and pain in my side, headaches, and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think it saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are suffering from girlhood troubles, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

M. TREPPOFF'S HAND

LIKELY TO FALL HEAVY ON ALL RUSSIA.

Handled Affairs in St. Petersburg, With Firmness and Yet Without Cause for Complaint—A Very Busy Man.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—General Treppoff went to Tsarsko-Selo today to thank the emperor for his appointment as assistant minister of the interior and to confer with his majesty regarding the exercise of his powers and heavy responsibility entrusted to him.

In government circles the appointment of General Treppoff as assistant minister of the interior, widening the scope of his authority so that he may accomplish in the whole empire what he has done in St. Petersburg since January 22nd, is regarded as an obvious step for the emperor to take if he is determined not to abandon the fundamental principles of Russian rule and not to transform the autocracy into a limited monarchy of the west European type.

It is claimed that Treppoff since his appointment as governor-general of St. Petersburg has maintained order here, has prevented a re-occurrence of the tumults of January 22nd, without loss of life, and has handled the situation with the needed firmness, yet without giving cause for complaint, as the late Von Plehve did by the adoption of unusually stringent and arbitrary measures.

Treppoff is one of the busiest and most energetic officials in Russia, and he requires long hours of attention to duty from his staff.

The general is at his desk shortly after seven o'clock in the morning, and his subordinates are expected to be on duty at nine o'clock.

Instead of keeping the easy hours, exacted by other office-holders, Treppoff invariably works late into the night, and his secretaries take turns at an extra hour of duty early in the morning and at night.

He will not remove his headquarters to the ministry of the interior, but will direct the affairs of his new position from his present chancellery in St. Petersburg general government.

MARKET CONDITIONS.

How Prices Stand in Kingston and Elsewhere.

Prices prevailing on Kingston market are much the same as those last quoted. Nothing untoward has occurred to mar the serenity of the market, and dealers report trade just about normal in all lines. The meat market is sluggish and prices are a shade softer, if any change is noticeable.

Cheese is a little lower in price, owing to unfavorable reports from old country markets. The chances are that unless British prices stiffen up a bit, nine cents or less will rule on the Frontenac board at its Thursday meeting. Flour has a stronger tendency, and higher prices are looked for immediately; supplies should be laid in at once if advantage is to be taken of prevailing low prices.

In the meat market dealers quote these prices: High grade, $5 to $5.50; medium and culls, $4 to $5. The Montreal prices are: $5.50 to $6 for prime beefs and from $4 to $5.35 for medium and culls. Toronto prices read about the same.

Spring lambs are listed at from $4 to $5 each, and by the quarter from 75c. to $1.75. In Montreal the lambs bring from $3 to $5 each, and Toronto $4 to $6.

Hogs continue scarce from $4.50 for low grade and mediums, to $7 for prime stock. In Montreal they bring from $6 to $7.25, but these prices are for prime stock only. In Toronto, dressed hogs sell at from $6.75 to $9.25 a cwt.

Mutton is scarce at from 5c. to 10c. by the carcass. In Montreal, good large sheep bring from 3 1/2c. to 4 1/2c. On Toronto market mutton is held at from $8.50 to $10 a cwt.

Eggs hold firm at fifteen cents a dozen. There is an adequate supply being marketed. In Toronto they are selling at 17c. and 18c. and Montreal 18c. and 20c.

Plenty of sweet, wholesome farmers' butter is being marketed. Prices remain unchanged at 20c. for prime rolls, though in some cases as high as 22c. is demanded. In rolls it sells at from 18c. to 20c. Toronto prices are from 18c. to 21c. and Montreal 22c. and 24c.

Very little loose hay is coming in to market, but what there is of it sells at from $7 to $9 a ton. Pressed, the commodity brings from $8 to $10. Oats are a shade lower in price, the best quality being held at 45c. The inferior grades are quoted all the way from 40c. up to 45c.

Potatoes are holding their own at from 75c. to 80c. a bag, but only tubers of exceptional grade command the top market at 20c. Apples continue to be marketed in fairly good supply. They sell at from 20c. to 50c. a peck, according to grade and quality.

THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION. Expresses Himself in Sympathy With Queen's Medical College.

Dean Connell had a talk with Dr. Pyne, minister of education, in regard to the application of Queen's medical faculty for government recognition, in view of the grant to the Toronto General Hospital of a sum of $10,000 for medical education. It was decided that the formal discussion of the matter between the premier and the minister, and representatives of Queen's should be left over till next autumn. Dr. Pyne expressed sympathy as thoroughly in sympathy with Queen's medical college, and appreciation of the work she is doing in Eastern Ontario, and stated that the government would act fairly towards her.

RALLY TO BALFOUR

THIS WAS THE REQUEST OF CHAMBERLAIN.

To His Followers Whom He Addressed Recently—Urged that the Predominance in Colonies Should Be Maintained.

London, June 6.—Mr. Chamberlain received a good reception on Saturday when addressing some seven thousand people at the annual conference of the Lancashire and Cheshire Conservative Workingmen's Association, he explained that under the present system of free trade, dumping was detrimental to the interests of the workingman. He insisted that the United States as a country where workingmen are greatly depressed under the system of protection. The wages in Germany were perhaps lower than in Great Britain, but the number of workers and amount of money saved showed a great increase in Germany, and emigration has greatly decreased. Canada and the United States were taking our best citizens. Passing to colonial preference, he said the colonies were Great Britain's best customers. Now there were eleven million people in the colonies in fifty years time there would be fifty millions in our imperial dominions. He warned against the policy of laissez faire as regards the colonies, which will cause us to lose the predominance of the present colonies.

There were signs of this already, which had been emphatically set forth by such patriotic members of the imperial and dominion parliament as ministers of Canada and the premier of New Zealand. To every year Great Britain was sending less in proportion to Australia and South Africa. It would be the same with Canada but for the preference. He drew attention to the fact that cotton, the greatest staple of the colonies, is in danger. The empire, as at present, was a bundle of sticks, bound with a thin, perhaps very strong, cord of sympathy, but sentiment not strong enough to meet all contingencies in the future. He urged that the colonies were making selfish propositions. They stand to gain no more than we do, if as much. Furthermore, Mr. Chamberlain expressed himself in agreement with Premier Balfour, and urged his followers to rally round Balfour's flag.

Hides—These prices are given by John McBay, Brock street, and sister, 717, that breeders would lose one of their best guides to type. Hence the show yard is a necessary evil. That there are a very large number of animals that do valuable services in the breeding pens, after going through a successful raising of the shows, is above question, but such have not been handled by skilled hands who do not permit of their charges forming too close an acquaintance with the grain bin. Our best authorities agree that when an animal is in the height of show yard condition that succulent rations in plenty and variety and a sparse grain ration, by way of luxury principally, is the proper thing. Grain is too heating for a very fat, ripe animal during such weather as prevails through our summer shows, and only a very little is necessary to hold such a condition. Succulent rations have a cooling and purifying effect on the blood of the ripe animal and tend to ward off that condition known as "blubbly and broken-down."

MARRIED IN LONDON.

The Son of a Former Kingstonian.

London Advertiser.—The air is heavy with the fragrance of orange blossoms for the month of June has been ushered in to the strains of familiar martial music, with the exceptionally brilliant wedding of Miss Maud Somerville, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Somerville, and Dr. Norman Alexander, only son of Thomas Alexander (collector of inland revenue), and Mrs. Alexander, in Knox Presbyterian church, South London, at half-past two o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Rev. James G. Stuart performed the impressive ritual.

The bride, given away by her father, looked very fair and girlish in her lovely wedding gown of ivory duchesse satin, with Irish point lace garniture, wearing the ever becoming veil and orange blossoms and carrying the bouquet of the valley and white roses. Dr. Norman Henderson supported the groom, and the bride was attended by Miss Ada Somerville, as maid of honor, and Miss Florence Somerville, and Miss Phyllis Henderson, (cousin of the groom), as bridesmaids. They wore similar gowns of white pointed d'esprit, mounted over shimmering white tulle with duchesse ribbon entrelacs and dainty beehives of white valenciennes lace, caught with bows of white ribbon, and carried bridal roses. Walter Somerville, of Waterloo, brother of the bride, Mr. Stratton, of Toronto, Fred Macfie and Dr. McLeay were the ushers.

The groom's gift to the maid of honor and bridesmaids were pearl crescents and to the groomsmen and ushers gold cuff links.

Mrs. Somerville, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black Chenille. The bride wore a white silk and chiffon, with trimmings of white lace. Mrs. Somerville wore a black and white hat with cluster of pink roses, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Alexander, mother of the groom, wore a beautiful costume of pale rosea green silk with cream honiton garnitures and hat of rosea and cream en suite.

Following the service at the church a reception was held at the handsome home of the bride's parents in Grosvenor street south. A huge marquee was erected on the lawn, where, at daintily arranged tables, festive with lovely roses and carnations, a luncheon was served. The lovely surroundings and pretty gowns gave a most picturesque and effective garden party ensemble. After acknowledging the good wishes and congratulations of their many friends, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander left on the 4:15 train for their wedding trip in eastern American cities.

Mrs. Alexander travelled in a gown of gray homespun with white broadcloth entrelacs and smart hat of foliage and fruit.

BORN OF SPIE. How the Equitable Association Began Life.

New York, June 6.—Spite caused the founding of the Equitable Life Assurance company by Henry Hyde, according to William Moore, who was Hyde's chum at the time. Hyde was twenty-five years old, and a clerk in the employ of the Mutual Life Assurance company at $20 a week.

Both young men attended the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Dr. Alexander, father of James W. Alexander, the present president of the Equitable Life, was the pastor.

In March of 1859 a vacancy occurred in the Mutual Life. It was a better position than the humble clerkship held by Henry B. Hyde, and as he had worked industriously and given the best of his ability to the company he believed that he should be promoted to the higher place.

The better position was given to another man, Young Hyde was incensed, and promptly went to Frederick B. Winston, then president of the Mutual Life, and told him that he meant to start a company which would rival the Mutual Life. Winston was amused.

The Equitable Life was organized in July, 1859, only four months after Henry B. Hyde had given up his small clerkship in the Mutual Life and started the supposedly impossible task of raising the $100,000 necessary as capital.

He got his money chiefly from Rev. Dr. Alexander and members of the latter's congregation, whose minister he had been, and to lend a helping hand to the young man.

The company now has assets of $400,000,000.

Exhibition Stock. The fitting of stock for exhibition often means a sacrifice of the cream of the flock or herd, but, nevertheless, were the practice of showing discontinued it would be a source of loss to the live stock industry for the reason that breeders would lose one of their best guides to type. Hence the show yard is a necessary evil. That there are a very large number of animals that do valuable services in the breeding pens, after going through a successful raising of the shows, is above question, but such have not been handled by skilled hands who do not permit of their charges forming too close an acquaintance with the grain bin. Our best authorities agree that when an animal is in the height of show yard condition that succulent rations in plenty and variety and a sparse grain ration, by way of luxury principally, is the proper thing. Grain is too heating for a very fat, ripe animal during such weather as prevails through our summer shows, and only a very little is necessary to hold such a condition. Succulent rations have a cooling and purifying effect on the blood of the ripe animal and tend to ward off that condition known as "blubbly and broken-down."
