RUSSIAN REAR

Threatened By Detachment Of Japanese.

TO BE PEACE OR WAR

CZAR IS SAID TO BE WAVERING.

One Report is to the Effect That Russia Notified United States That War Would Be More Advantageous to Russia Than Peace.

Special to the Whig.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard says that military authorities are astounded by the Japanese occupation of Onosho, midway between Kirin and Ninguta. It is said that the Japanese force came from Possiet Bay or whether it forms part of the advance guard of Field Marshal Oyama's right. If it maintains its position, the rear of Gen. Linevich's army will be seriously threatened.

The report of the Japanese occupation of Onosho rests on the authority of a private despatch from Manchuria received in St. Petersburg, Onosho is seventy-five miles east of Kirin, and is the terminus of the railway to Vladivostok. The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times regards the occupation of the place as a startling development, implying the severance of communications between Kirin and Ninguta, and placing the Japanese within striking distance of the railway from Harbin to Vladivostok.

Most of the peace rumors come from Washington, where, judging from despatches in this morning's papers, little is actually known by the correspondents. St. Petersburg and Paris furnish various reports or differing versions of the same reports, but there is nothing that is in any sense authoritative, beyond the statement of the Council Secretariat.

According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail Count Lam-sorff, minister of foreign affairs, has informed Mr. Meyer, American ambassador, that Russia gratefully recognizes President Roosevelt's endeavor to bring about peace between Russia and Japan, but after careful deliberation, it has been decided, in view of the naval disaster, that war is more advantageous to Russia than peace.

The St. Petersburg correspondent says "A high official assures me that the great debate now being held in the cabinet is not between the immediate councilors, among them is Gen. Treppoff, who goes to Tsarko-Selo almost daily."

The correspondent also says that Foreign Minister Lam-sorff accredited yesterday made this statement to him yesterday: "Russia is as willing as ever to listen to any proposal that Japan may wish to make, but that does not behoove her to take the initiative. That the duty is incumbent upon the victor, not the vanquished, is accepted, and Russia is willing to let Japan state her terms. They are not to be discussed until the negotiations begin. Russia is ready to give Japan's proposals full and sincere consideration, and, if possible, to accept them. The foreign office thus authoritatively excludes the idea of war. Its outbreak is highly significant. It is true that Russia continues her military preparations, and that troops and war material are going east unintercepted. It is true, also, that the war party is all powerful, yet symptoms apparently indicate that a hour of serious reflection has struck at Tsarko-Selo, that the czar is wavering, and that peace is no longer quite hopeless."

The Zemstovists, assembled at Moscow succeeded, after all, in meeting because the governor-general declined the resignation of the St. Petersburg representative to present them. They elected a deputation to convey an address to Tsarko-Selo, urging the emperor to consult the nation regarding peace or war. The deputation will be received. The city is unusually calm to-day.

SUICIDE OF INSANE MAN.

Victim Was An Inmate of the State Hospital.

Ogdensburg, June 9.—Patrick O'Brien, a patient at the St. Lawrence State hospital, leaped into the Chubb House of the Kingston Yacht Club, on THURSDAY, June 29th, 1905, at 8 p.m.

A number of trusty patients in charge of attendants were riding in the yacht. O'Brien rose from his seat and plunged over the rail before an attendant could stop him. He swam the boat could be stopped. The other patients were panic-stricken, but the attendants succeeded in quieting them. O'Brien was twenty-eight years of age and was committed from Watertown.

James McConnel attempted to assassinate Vice-President Fairbanks, of the United States, as he was addressing an assemblage of 2,000 persons at Flint, Mich. Mr. McConnel, a blacksmith, was arrested before he could carry out his purpose. He carried a loaded revolver.

Doped! Domestic Has Slept Against Wall for Years.

Cleveland, O., June 9.—Mary Dickerson, a servant in the family of Mrs. B. H. Smoot, has for twenty years slept at night leaning against a wall while on her feet. Her case has just come to the knowledge of local physicians and has created much interest.

Mrs. Dickerson is seventy-nine years of age, small, but exceedingly strong and wiry for her years. The informant of the physicians that for more than fifty years she was addicted to the use of morphine, but cured herself of the habit through becoming converted at a religious revival.

"When I added that out of every sixty-five people at present in the metropolis, one at least would be dead in five years' time from tuberculosis; that is, dead from a preventable disease, which owed its origin to filth. But there are in London 40,000 persons suffering from consumption; if all forms of tuberculosis are included the number is not less than 80,000."

ALFONSO HAS EXPERIENCE.

His Auto Balked on Him, Then Burst Into Flames. London, June 9.—King Alfonso, while in the shopping district of Bond street to-day, had an exciting experience with his motor. While marching singly, but the King got it started with the aid of a postman and a policeman.

Then it suddenly burst into flames. Alfonso and the officials watching him jumped out of the king's car. A second motor car, occupied by detectives, was placed at his disposal and the king was enabled to reach the palace in time to dress for the midday reception at the Mansion House. The crowds in the streets greeted him enthusiastically.

SOME 80,000

Are Said To Be In The Grip Of Death.

LONDON DOCTORS

PICTURE THE RAVAGES OF TUBERCULOSIS.

Claim 16,000 Deaths Annually—Ireland Also Being Scourged by Spread of Malady—Owes Its Origin to Dirt.

London, June 9.—Addressed by two medical men, setting forth in particular startling form the ravages of consumption or tuberculosis in London and also in Ireland, are published the working classes journal, Dr. Arthur Latham, a great authority on the subject of consumption, puts the London case in this form: "Eight thousand persons die annually in this city of consumption; it is said that another 8,000 die of other forms of tuberculosis; therefore 16,000 victims are sacrificed year by year."

"For every man who dies there are five others who are, certainly, though slowly, succumbing to this disease. "There are in London 40,000 persons suffering from consumption; if all forms of tuberculosis are included the number is not less than 80,000."

The startling deduction could be made by adding that out of every sixty-five people at present in the metropolis, one at least would be dead in five years' time from tuberculosis; that is, dead from a preventable disease, which owed its origin to filth. But there are in London 40,000 persons suffering from consumption; if all forms of tuberculosis are included the number is not less than 80,000."

Professor McWeney, Dublin, states that consumption produced 12,180 deaths in a year in Ireland, being a greater death producer than old age. Taken in conjunction with the steady drain of emigration, these statistics give a gloomy outlook for the future of the Irish people.

BLOW AT FRANCE.

German Emperor Wants to Gain Hold in Morocco. Special to the Whig. Paris, June 9.—The announcement that Kaiser Wilhelm has issued a note to all the powers signatory of the Madrid convention, asking for an international conference on the subject of Morocco, has fallen like a blow on France. A prominent official said today: "If we are summoned to declare war under the present conditions, we will be obliged to submit, whatever we may think of the matter of procedure."

Admitted Their Mistake.

Montreal, June 9.—The fourteen deck hands of the R. & O. N. company's steamer Quebec, who were arrested on a charge practically amounting to mutiny, have gone back to work, the difficulty having been adjusted. The men refused to work because $3 has been deducted from their pay to stand against them for uniforms, until the end of the season of navigation. According to the company the men admitted their mistake.

CONTROL OF SCHOOLS.

Autonomy Bill Debate Resumed in the House.

Ottawa, June 8.—The lawyers had a day to themselves in the house to-day, when at 11. Borden's request, the consideration of the autonomy bill was resumed. The leader of the opposition took occasion to enlarge on his view, expressed recently in London and Oxford, that there was really no difference between the original and the amended clause; that the two clauses arrived at the same result by a different route. Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick replied, affirming his view that there is a material difference, inasmuch as the minority, where they are in the majority in any school district, have no right to a separate school, a privilege of which they are deprived by the ordinance of 1888, which is re-enacted by the amended clause. Sir Wilfrid Laurier supplemented his view by pointing out that the original clause gave the minority control over secular as well as religious education, while the amended clause gives the minority control only over the half-hour of religious instruction at the end of the day. It was regarded by the average lay member as a day of hair-splitting, in which those who were not lawyers took no part and not a great deal of interest.

ST. JOHN RIVER QUESTION.

Canada Has Not Agreed To Let The Matter Stand.

Ottawa, June 9.—It is not correct that Canada has agreed to leave the St. John River question out of its matters to be dealt with by the International Waterways' Commission, as reported from Washington. The United States government takes the position that the act of congress does not empower the American commissioners to deal with this question, but a distinct promise has been given when congress meets in October, so that the commission may deal not only with the St. John River but also with all matters relating to streams tributary to the St. Lawrence. On this understanding the commission is going ahead dealing with other matters in the meantime. A meeting of the Canadian section will be held in Toronto to-day, and a joint meeting of the commissioners in Ottawa next week.

CHASED POACHER TO LINE.

American Fisherman Just Escaped Capture by Canadian Tug.

Ogdensburg, June 9.—An exciting chase of an American fisherman, who had encroached on Canadian waters, by a government tug, called much interest here. The American crossed the line just as the tug overhauled her and she gave up. Coming right after the arrest of a fisherman named Harris in the Canadian canal by a New York coast constable who took him out of Canada, Brithwith, and the forbearance of the Canadians in respecting the boundary created much favourable comment.
