PRESIDENT ALLAN

QUIETS ALL DISCUSSION ON BANK AFFAIRS.

Discourages Gossip Over the Fyehs Difficulty—Strike of Jewish Bakers Settled—Canadian Electricians Meeting—200 in Attendance.

Montreal, June 21.—Sir H. Montague Allan, president, presided at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Merchants Bank of Canada, to-day, in which there was more than usual interest on account of the widespread reports and the late action of the directors and the late resignation of the manager, Thomas Fyehs, as well as regarding the reported prospects of Mr. Fyehs, not present at the meeting, but a couple of shareholders questioned Sir Montague with respect to him, and his relations with the directors, which have been reported to have been of a stormy character. John Morrison, an eccentric Scotchman, who has widespread financial interests as a shareholder, questioned the president at some length, and Fyehs did likewise. The president, however, dismissed the Fyehs matter, stating that his retirement was due to his ill-health. Regarding the rumors of amalgamation Sir Montague stated that shareholders should not believe all they hear and read in the papers. He also answered some questions, answering the amount in the annual statement in large premises, by stating that the matter was one for which the directors were directly responsible, and he closed the discussion by moving the annual statement that has already been widely published, and it was adopted without further discussion.

A BATTERSEA LADY

Succumbs at Ripe Age of Eighty-seven.

Battersea, June 20.—On the 6th inst., there passed away at her son's residence another of our oldest and most respected residents in the person of Mrs. Beatrix Miller, relict of the late William Miller, relict of the late William Miller, who preceded her to the spirit world some twenty-six years ago. The deceased lady had reached the ripe age of eighty-seven years, about four-score of which she had spent in this country, coming out from Argyleshire, Scotland, at the age of seven, settling with her parents on the shores of Lake Champlain in Lower Canada. Her maiden name was Tull, and she was the last survivor of a large family. She and her husband moved to this neighborhood about sixteen years ago, settling first on the farm south of Cedar Lake, now owned by Ritchie Bros. She was converted early in life in the Methodist church, but later connected herself with the Messianic church. Of a family of eleven children only four are left, viz., John, of this place; Dr. Jennie Lake, Fulton, N.Y.; Mrs. Insley, Elgin, Ill.; and Dr. S. K. Lake, of this place. The funeral service was conducted at her son's residence, where she was buried by the Rev. Douglas Laing, Kingston, who delivered a very earnest and impressive discourse. Her grandson, Dr. J. Lake, of the city, conducted the Bible reading, which was interspersed in the Sand Hill cemetery.

RECOLLECT WITH PRIDE.

That He Ever Held Command Here.

The following is an extract from Royal Military College orders, for June 21st, 1905:

The appointment of Col. R. Reade, as commandant of the R.M.C., will expire this month. He, therefore, takes this opportunity to wish goodbye and good luck to all at the college. Supported by the good feeling, which does and has always animated the staff of the R.M.C., and seconded by the zealous and untiring efforts of the staff, it has been to him a pleasure, as well as a high honor, to command the college for the last four and a half years.

In now bidding farewell to the subordinate and superior staff, he does so with feelings of deep regret; but trusts that the friendships it has been his good fortune to make while at the R.M.C. will be continued in after life; he hopes in the future to serve again with some of those who have served with him at Kingston; he will always recollect with pride, that he has held command of such a great institution as the Royal Military College of Canada.

ACT OF BRUTES.

Non-Union Teamster Tortured Into Inconscientness.

Chicago, June 21.—Edward Bickett, a non-union teamster, employed by the National Express company, was subjected to barbarous torture by four men alleged to be strike sympathizers. Bickett was attacked in front of the teamsters union headquarters. After being knocked down by the men, three fingers of the right hand were broken, and two of his finger nails were torn off. The victim appealed to the men to have mercy, but his cries were in vain, and when the assailants left he was unconscious in the street, where he was found later by a policeman.

FAREWELL ENTERTAINMENT TO DR. CRUMMY.

Brook Street Methodist church was at its best last evening, when its congregation and hosts of others met in the beautiful lecture room, decorated with flowers and palms, to do honor to the retiring pastor. The spacious building was filled and a delightful evening spent listening to excellent music rendered by Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Gordon, and Mr. McMahon, accompanied by Mrs. T. R. Carnovsky; a well rendered recitation, followed by a hearty encore, which was responded to by Miss Dutton, and addresses by Revs. Dr. Tucker and E. B. Stratton.

The former paid an excellent tribute to Dr. Crummy, and the latter giving reminiscences of his knowledge of the church, and interest in it from its inception to the present time. His visits to the city had given him the opportunity of listening to all the pastors stationed in Brook street church, able men, but none superior to the pastor.

T. R. Carnovsky was then called to the platform, and read an able address to Dr. and Mrs. Crummy, referring to the excellent work accomplished by them during their sojourn in the city. Special mention was made of the efforts of the doctor in wiping out the debt of so long standing, re-installing an excellent organ, the address touching on the interest taken not only in all departments of church work but in the general welfare of the city, and especially that of college boys, in consequence of which deep feelings of regret everywhere prevailed at his departure. As a tangible evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by the church and citizens at large, the reader handed him $130, and, on referring to Mrs. Crummy's presentation of a fine leather covered rocker from her friends, in general, and Mrs. Watts with a lovely photograph quilt, the gift of Mrs. Godwin, who was too ill to be present.

The surprise was so complete, as to prevent the doctor for a time. Recovering he gave the most excellent farewell address, thanking one and all in behalf of himself and wife for the gifts bestowed, and most of all for the friendships enjoyed during his four years in the city.

T. P. Harrison occupied the chair and did his part well. The ladies served the company with ice cream and cake.
