London, July 7.—The Odessa correspondent of the Daily Mail says it is reported that the town of Theodosia is being shelled by the garrison at the Kniaz Potemkin, and that another torpedo boat has joined the mutineers. Only one Russian steamer has been allowed to leave the port.

Another Odessa despatch says it is rumored, there that the Kniaz Potemkin has been blown up near Theodosia. It is nothing, however, to confirm the reports.

A despatch to Reuter's Telegram company says that at nine o'clock, yesterday morning, a boat from the Kniaz Potemkin was sent ashore, and was met by an infantry fire, which killed two men, and caused seven to jump overboard.

The torpedo boat, in the hands of mutineers, fired a shell which passed over the town, and at noon the Kniaz Potemkin and the torpedo boat left port, but continued to manoeuvre in sight of the town.

Another despatch says that the Kniaz Potemkin has captured the Russian merchant ship, Grand Duke Alexis, and seized her cargo of cattle.

RUSSIA PERSISTENT.

London, July 7.—In spite of the denials by the foreign office, it has been reported that Russia is persisting in her efforts to secure an armistice, says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times. "It is assumed that representations to this effect have been made direct to Japan, but Tokio has vouchsafed no reply."

Mutineers Put to Death.

Paris, July 7.—A despatch from Odessa, to the Echo, says that forty-five mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkin, who surrendered last Monday, have been put to death. The ringleaders were required to renew their oath of allegiance to the czar. Forty-five refused to do so, and were shot.

No Word Of Squadron.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—Up to three o'clock, this morning, no report had been received from Theodosia of the arrival of the squadron from Sebastopol, which left for Theodosia at noon.

The latest despatch from Theodosia, received at three o'clock, yesterday afternoon, reported that the Kniaz Potemkin was cruising off shore.

Black Sea Shipping Safe.

Vienna, July 7.—The Russian ambassador, here, has assured the ministry of foreign affairs that far-reaching measures have been taken to safeguard foreign interests in the Black Sea.

In Centre Of Stage.

Odessa, July 7.—The Kniaz Potemkin occupies the centre of the stage here. Her whereabouts are constantly reported by the authorities, and she is the subject of much speculation.

The torpedo boats, which it is reported, are treating the Kniaz Potemkin have done nothing, although the whereabouts of the battleship has never been a secret.

The Black Sea is so small that she has never been out of reach of the fleet, which left here yesterday, and which is popularly supposed to be waiting the renegade for the purpose of effecting her surrender or sinking her. The belief is general that the crews of the ships are strongly disinclined to engage the mutinous battleship. It is reported on good authority that these crews have actually refused to attack her.

In the meantime commerce on the Black Sea is being slowly resumed and coastwise and other steamers are leaving from Odessa on their former schedules.

Odessa is resuming its normal life, and the theatres and other public places are re-opening, while street life is about the same as usual. There is a strong undercurrent of uneasiness, however, and disorders are expected sooner or later. Just at present the reign of military law and the recollections of the recent lesson are acting as strong deterrents to unruly persons. The police are active in making arrests and in deporting suspected persons. House to house searches are frequent, and they have resulted in the finding of a number of bombs. It is believed that the Jews are practically all armed. Present conditions are proving a serious detriment to business here. The port shows fair activity, and the factories are resuming, but not a business man is coming to Odessa and the hotels are almost empty.

Under Martial Law.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—Admiral Choukine's warships left Sevastopol for Theodosia about noon yesterday. The result is awaited with the most intense anxiety. Dispatches received from the governor of Simferopol, who is executing the decree of martial law at Theodosia say that about half of the Kniaz Potemkin's crew desire to surrender, but are prevented by the revolutionists. There were only six companies of troops at Theodosia yesterday, but reinforcements of infantry

Restore Tax

A WAR STAMP TAX

WHAT MEMBERS OF CONGRESS SUGGEST.

Coffee May Be Taxed and Beer and Whiskey Made to Carry Heavier Burden—Many Millions Would Be Gathered In.

New York, July 7.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says: Earnest thought is being given by leaders of congress and administration officials to devising ways and means to prevent a treasury deficit at the end of the fiscal year 1906, which began last Saturday.

That there will be a large deficit if the present standard of expenditures is maintained is certain. Tentative estimates made by experts of the treasury department place the deficit at between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

If Secretary Shaw were called upon to advise congress he would probably intimate that some of the stamp taxes which were imposed in 1888 to support the war with Spain might be restored. It is known that he was opposed to the abolition of all the war taxes a few years ago. There are members of congress who believe it would be advisable to restore some of the stamp taxes. One of these is Senator Dick of Ohio, who says:

"I have come to the conclusion that about the best thing would be to impose a tax on the sale of newspapers, magazines, and other articles, especially the stamp taxes. My idea now would be to impose a stamp tax on checks, stocks, bonds, legal papers, patent medicines and

BRIEF BUDGET SPEECH.

Ottawa, June 7.—Hon. W. S. Fielding's budget speech delivered in the Commons yesterday was one of the shortest on record. Very few changes in the tariff were announced.

A plan to enlist the aid of the banks in collecting United States silver money and shipping it back to the United States was outlined. The debate was concluded.

Wild Exaggeration.

Odessa, July 7.—An official report from Kabanoff, the military governor of Odessa, declares that there has been the wildest exaggeration regarding the number of casualties resulting from the fighting here. He says that of the forty-nine who were killed, only twenty were wounded, while of the police and troops one man was killed and twenty were wounded.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The Very Latest Culled From All Over The World.

The waterworks by-law was carried at Gannaquee.

Several Ottawa people were slightly injured in a train wreck at Williston, N. D.

Not a single new Chinaman has entered British Columbia since the $500 tax was imposed.

A cloudburst in Baltimore has put under water a large portion of the lower business section of the city.

Floods in Algoma have stopped traffic on the Canadian Northern railway between Port Arthur and Winnipeg.

In Michigan an old man and his three sons, all grown up, were discovered one morning murdered. Suspicion fell immediately on the wife of the man, who was missing, and who was known to have lived on exceedingly bad terms with her husband and sons, who were in the habit of beating her very cruelly and otherwise ill-using her. Though a hue and cry was raised, she was never found. There has recently died in the monastery of Tibenau, an aged monk called Vasile Popovitch. When the body was being prepared for burial, it was found that the supposed monk was a woman. She was no other than the missing maidservant, it being found she entered the monastery as a man the very morning of the murder, which took place only a few hours' journey off.

Vienna, July 7.—A murder mystery of thirty years' standing has just been cleared up. It is announced, from Bucharest, in Romania, an old man and his three sons, all grown up, were discovered one morning murdered. Suspicion fell immediately on the wife of the man, who was missing, and who was known to have lived on exceedingly bad terms with her husband and sons, who were in the habit of beating her very cruelly and otherwise ill-using her.
