HAS VARIED WAYS PRINCE EDWARD INCREASES ITS INDUSTRIES.

An Odd Apple-Grower—He Leaves Large Estates to a Former Solicitor—County Apple Crop Promises to be Under Average. J. A. Akin in Toronto Globe. Pictou, July 21.—Removed from the main lines of railway and their accompanying influences, Prince Edward county lives a life peculiarly its own. Favored by nature with a fertile soil and excellent water communication with mainland, the insular isolation has not prevented such continuous communication as is necessary to the best life.

It would naturally be expected that in a county where the agricultural industry was divided into fruit-raising and dairying, and where a small amount of pasture land is kept, the general grain crop area would be limited. Such is the case. There is promise, however, of a good yield of wheat this year. The old man had built a stone fence on the back part of his farm, by which he would know it when he returned in a new life.

Canning the Chief Industry. The chief industry of the island county has come to be that of canning fruit and vegetables. Recent years have seen rapid growth and development of the capacities of local canneries. They are now nine in the county, employing approximately a total of 1,800 hands, and receiving tribute from a large proportion of the farmers in the county.

The tomato crop bids fair to be very large. Warm weather and a long season are needed, and with them this year has been very good. Prince Edward tomatoes. Last year the frost came, and cut short the season and returns to the growers. All the other canning crops promise quite as well as the tomatoes, and are being harvested now, and the results are satisfactory so far as the yield is concerned.

But many of the growers complain, and with good reason, of the time wasted at the factory in getting rid of their loads. Men will come at 7 or 8 o'clock in the morning and have to wait until late in the afternoon before their turn comes to get to the factory. Each lot is thrashed out separately, a check given and the money paid the grower at once if desired. The average tributary to the canneries is greatly increased this year, but if the dissatisfaction of the growers takes the form of no more, they say it will, of growing no more, they will be the canner's turn to wait next year. The strawberry season has been short and the crop light. But all the other small fruits—cherries, plums, raspberries and currants—are a good crop, and in abundance. The county is well adapted for growing all kinds of fruit in paying quantities, except those in grapes. Nothing much is done in either of these fruits.

better than half of a full crop, or under the average of other years.

An Estate For A Lawyer. Ira Chadsey, the eccentric old farmer who cremated himself in his own barn, last Sunday, had a 300-acre farm, about one-third in apples, which was valued at $21,000. His orchard gave a rich return every year, worth about $2,500. The old man had built a stone fence on the back part of his farm, by which he would know it when he returned in a new life. On Friday he drove everyone of the place. According to a note left in the house, he was a native of the county, he mounted a pile of cordwood in the barn, which he had covered with coal oil, shot himself with a revolver, and then cremated, as he desired. He chose an old horse at the back of the farm in preference to the better one near the house. He is said to have left all his property to a local lawyer, Nehemiah Gilbert, now clerk of the court. Mr. Gilbert was the old man's solicitor years ago. It pays to be an honest lawyer in Prince Edward. The estate is valued at $25,000. Chadsey's wife died some five years ago. He had no children, and he was a bachelor. A life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

Cheese Holds Its Own. The cheese trade of the county is having a good season. The Pictou cheese board handles weekly about 2,500 boxes, an increase of about 500 a week over 1904. If these figures are added another 500 boxes from the season all round, the county will be producing a total of 3,000 boxes a week. The butter output is slight, and the cream separators have not interfered with the cheese trade so far. The past week has seen a falling off in the quantity of milk brought to the factory, in Pictou has been a decrease is attributed to the flies, for there is no lack of good pasture. The stock interests of this county, however, are by no means insignificant. The people are sufficiently well off to want to drive good horses and they raise a lot of them. Driving in this county is not very popular with the automobiles, except at times of a race, and the farmer the better, the farmer all say. The sum of about $500,000 is taken annually for the stock sold or killed, and hogs go to make up a substantial part of the county revenue. This year's crop promises to be a large one. Dairy cattle are the favorites over beef breeds.

Given By Mrs. Tovel at Sydenham—Village News. Sydenham, July 21.—Mrs. Tovel's pleasant little tea at Wednesday last, from five to seven o'clock, given in honor of her niece, Miss Edna Parkin, Brandon, Man., was chiefly for Miss Parkin's old acquaintances. Among the number were: Mrs. Anderson, the Misses Griffith, Shewey, and Misses Clow, McRory, Purdy, Grant, Penit, Roberts, Palmer, Boyce, Sills, Bennington and Townsend. Over the refreshments were the little Misses Aileen Tovel and Jessie Anderson. At a side table were seated Mrs. Spafford and Miss Ethel Moore, pouring tea. The floral decorations were naturalisms in many shades, which gave the lengthy tea table a very bright appearance. Sydenham not only has its usual number of summer tourists, but a large addition has been made to the list at the present time accommodation is out of the question. The high school is undergoing repairs. The school has laid down a new front and walk of cement, is now leveling; his lawn, when finished it will be one of the most up-to-date fronts in the village. Mrs. E. Totta and Mrs. H. McMillan, friends of Mrs. Scott's, left here. Several years ago Mr. Scott moved to New York State, where he has prospered. Miss Mamie Connor, now Mrs. Lot, has her farm caught in the machinery, breaking it just above the wrist. Mrs. Roney, mother of Mrs. Lot, is visiting her in many days. Mrs. Roney and her grand-daughter, of Natural Dam, N.Y., are guests of Mrs. Scott's sister, Mrs. Edward Rook; they formerly lived here. BROKE HER WRIST. Young Lady Suffers Accident in Paper Mill. Strathcona, July 24.—Mrs. Martha Kehoe has been to Kingston for treatment for her eyes; she has been there for some time at present they are very bad. During the past week a great amount of hay has been harvested, as the weather has been dry, and so that it was impossible to do anything with it on account of rain. The cement company has taken it down the barn that stood near the railway tracks, and set it up above the works. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, and grand-daughter, of Natural Dam, N.Y., are guests of Mrs. Scott's sister, Mrs. Edward Rook; they formerly lived here.
