ARE FREAKISH

The Followers Of Rev. F. W. Sandford.

THEY ARE STARVING

FORSOOK ALL TO FOLLOW A FANATIC.

They Are Paying Dearly Now for It—His Followers Are Losing Faith in Him—The Adults Are Too Weak to Work Now.

Durham, Ont., July 28.—The followers of Rev. Frank W. Sandford, leader of the Holy Ghost and U.S. Bible society, are starving. Until two or three days ago, they lived on mush and water, and cornmeal, but, today, it is said their supply of meal is exhausted and they have no money to buy more.

Since Sunday morning they have been living on green peas and beans, of which they had a limited amount on their farms. This green stuff they eat without butter or seasoning. All of the crops at Shiloh are stunted and in a few days they will be even without green stuff. At present there are 800 people at Shiloh, and many of them physical wrecks. Words fail to describe the shocking condition now existing among Sandford's followers. The people are discouraged. Many are losing faith in their leader's power to save and some have already run away from the hill-top.

A young man who recently escaped from Shiloh, called at the home of a Durham farmer for food. He told a pathetic story of his sufferings under Sandford's rule, and said: "I have endured the tortures of hell since I joined the Shiloh colony. They have taken all my money, worried me and my family, ruined my health and were starving me to death. I could stand it no longer and escaped in the night." This is only one of several instances of a similar character.

Sandford sailed on the yacht Coronet about six weeks ago. He left little money in the treasury and scant provisions. He is now in the Holy Land and does not intend to return before the fall. During his absence "Moses" Charles Holland is in charge, and the prayers of "Moses" avail nothing. For the past month conditions have been going from bad to worse until now the only thing that can prevent disbandment at Shiloh is the prompt return of the leader from Egypt.

Since the law court ruled against Sandford in both the Dunlop case and the case of his cruelty toward his own child, John Sandford, his followers have lost faith. "If he is the true Elijah he pretends to be, why has God turned against him?"

From starvation the adults are too weak to work. They pray almost unconsciously. "Moses" Holland says that there is a devil in their midst who is responsible for some of the trouble.

The town authorities have been notified and they in turn have called on the state to aid in relieving the suffering at Shiloh. Durham is threatened with being paraded with the Sandfordites.

GERMANY'S DEMANDS.

In Regard to the Moroccan Troubles.

Special to the Whig.—The Libre Parole publishes what purports to be an outline of the latest German note, handed by Ambassador Count Von Radolinski on the Moroccan affair, in reference to the Moroccan debt and the re-organization of the Moroccan army should be international.

New Vanderbilt Road.

Special to the Whig.—The Vanderbilt has formed a new corporation, the Rear Creek Extension Railroad company, for the purpose of uniting under one management the various coal roads and properties in Pennsylvania. It will shortly put out an issue of $20,000,000 bonds, part of which will be retained in the treasury for the extension of lines and development of coal properties in the Rear Creek and Cherry Run districts.

Will Take A Vote.

Special to the Whig.—A despatch from Christiania, Norway, says that the government has resolved to propose to the storting that the question of dissolution shall be decided by a vote of the people. It is considered certain that the storting will accept the proposition to-morrow.

McDougall Gets $2,160.

Ottawa, July 28.—The auditor-general in his letter asking for superannuation, said that he thought he was entitled to $2,900, but nothing less than $2,160 could be given him. The order has passed the treasury board, granting him $2,160, and it has gone to Earl Grey for approval.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT

Happened on An English Railway Line.

Special to the Whig.—The worst railway accident in the United Kingdom, for fifteen years, occurred, last evening, on the Great Eastern section, the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway. Twenty-two persons, including several children, were killed and an unknown number, but supposed to be few, injured.

An electric express, which left Liverpool crowded with passengers, crashed into the rear of an empty train standing on a wide track at the Hall Road station, at Southport. The front car of the express was completely wrecked. Two lives were overturned and one or two cars caught fire. It is not clear whether there were many casualties from the fire. It seems that most of the dead were killed instantly.

The collision lifted the first car of the express completely off the steel frame and crashed it down on the passengers, twenty of whom were killed outright. Twelve other passengers, crushed under the weight of the overturned car, were killed. It is not clear whether there were many casualties from the fire. It seems that most of the dead were killed instantly.

More of them would have been killed but for the presence of mind of a Liverpool architect, who, seeing that a collision was inevitable, shouted to the passengers to throw themselves upon the floor of the car.

Almost immediately after the crash the wreckage burst into flames. Many women on the platform faint.

TO DISCOURAGE CZAR.

This Was Object of Kaiser's Visit.

Special to the Whig.—The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs: "I am assured on the best authority that one of the objects of the kaiser's visit to the czar was to discourage him from entering upon an understanding with England, France, Germany and Russia, and the consequent difficulty of including Germany's rival within the scope of a dual alliance.

The imperial meeting at Bjorkoe thus becomes the logical sequence of the visit to Tangier. The latter was directed towards bringing about an estrangement between France and England, the former to prevent the development of the recent good feeling between England and Russia."

INSPECTOR MCCAIG DEAD.

He Fell Asleep at Collingwood, on Friday.

Special to the Whig.—Donald McCaig, inspector of public schools, died at his residence, here, this morning, after only a few days' illness, aged seventy-four years. Mr. McCaig was born in Cape Breton, but with his family came to Guelph when quite young. For many years he conducted the Rockwood Academy with the late J. Milligan. He retired to his farm in response to some time and twenty years ago he accepted the position of inspector of public schools for the district of Algoma, which he held until a couple of months ago. During this time he was also inspector of the public schools of this town. Mr. McCaig leaves a widow and family. One son, Dr. James McCaig, is superintendent of education for the Edmonton district.

MANZER'S TRIAL ADJOURNED

Motion of Morehouse for Defense is Granted.

Owego, N.Y., July 28.—Just before the close of court, last night, D. P. Morehouse, attorney for the defense in the Manzer murder trial, made a motion for adjournment for a few days to take up a new line of evidence which he had discovered bearing on the alleged insanity of brother of Mrs. Manzer, who before her marriage to Waverly Manzer, father of the accused, was a Miss Potter.

District Attorney Baker opposed the motion, but after much argument by counsel Judge Wright decided that there would be an adjournment for a day or two to allow Mr. Morehouse time to investigate this new phase of the defense.

BIG RUN OF SALMON.

Canneries Unable to Handle All the Fish Brought in.

Seattle, Wash., July 28.—The salmon run in the lower waters of Puget Sound is assuming large proportions. The canneries are unable to handle the fish brought in. Fish Commissioner Kershaw says: "The outlook for the sockeye pack in Puget Sound is very good." He does not predict a pack equal to 1901, but places an estimate at about 50 per cent, or 60,000 cases of sockeyes. The year will be a successful one for packers, because they are now packing more of other varieties than in 1901. Anacortes reports that 250,000 sockeye salmon were piled up there yesterday.

Fifty New Dailies.

Washington, July 28.—Fifty weekly and semi-weekly papers in towns and cities of Iowa are to be made dailies, backed by an organization of capitalists. The plan has been made feasible through the greater demand for dailies by rural residents where mail is now delivered daily through the rural free delivery service.

St. Petersburg, July 28.—Employees of the Navy's works, where some submarine boats of the American type are being built, struck yesterday. The Cossacks amused themselves by firing volleys at the dummy.

Newfoundland Politics.

St. John's, Nfld., July 28.—It is talked of here in inner circles that the campaign for the annexation of Newfoundland to Canada will shortly be revived. And it is further said that such steps will be taken that the province will practically be insured. There is no gainsaying the fact that the sentiment of the people is more in favor of such a step than ever before.
